BREAKING: America First Legal Releases Second Set of Joe Biden's Vice Presidential Records from Lawsuit Against the National Archive March 20, 2023

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Today, America First Legal (AFL) released the second production of records obtained through its lawsuit against the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) from Joe Biden's time as Vice President in the Obama Administration regarding Hunter Biden and his corrupt foreign business dealings.

This second set of documents confirms there was effectively no daylight between Joe Biden and Hunter Biden, who coordinated through their mosttrusted associates in response to the controversial stories regarding the Biden family's business dealings in Ukraine. The evidence from these documents is that:

1. Then-Vice President Biden personally signed off on the statement given in response to reporters about whether Hunter's appointment to Burisma undermines the Vice President's credibility in pushing anti-corruption measures in the country;

2. The Office of the Vice President connected reporters writing about Hunter's appointment to Burisma to Amos Hochstein, a trusted Biden advisor who was then the "point person" for International Energy Affairs at the U.S. Department of State, to provide a "unique and valuable perspective" on the relationships in Ukraine;

3. The Office of the Vice President coordinated closely with Rosemont Seneca Advisors in response to press inquiries, including inquiries regarding Hunter Biden's alleged Ashley Madison Account; and

4. U.S. Ambassador to Ukraine, Marie Marie L. Yovanovitch, reported-to the Department of State's Victoria Nuland, Anna Makanju in Vice President Biden's Office, and the National Security Counsel's Eric Ciaramella (famously the "whistleblower" in the first impeachment proceeding against former President Trump)-that "[t]his time there are accusations that Burisma allegedly had a subsidiary dump natural gas as a way to pay bribes" and "[m]entions that Hunter Biden and former Polish President Kwasniewski are on the Burisma board."

Vice President Biden personally signed off on an official press statement about Hunter Biden.

Despite Joe Biden's assertions that he had zero involvement with Hunter's appointment to Burisma, he personally signed off on the official statement in response to questions from reporters about whether Hunter's position with Burisma undermines the Vice President's credibility in pushing anti-corruption measures in the country.

Joe Biden Lectures Ukraine

By THE EDITORIAL BOARD DEC. 11, 2015

The only applause Vice President Joseph Biden Jr. got while he addressed the Ukrainian Parliament on Tuesday was when he berated Russia. That's not hard: Russia's venality - the seizure of Crimea and the support for separatists in eastern Ukraine - is a strong unifying force in Ukrainian politics.

By contrast, Mr. Biden's ardent talk of the need to put an end to Ukraine's ubiquitous corruption and the power of its oligarchs was met with stony silence.

Mr. Biden was right to upbraid Russia and to pledge an extra $190 million in aid to Ukraine. And as a Western leader who has made Ukraine his special project, he was also right to warn Ukrainian legislators to waste no more time in rooting out corruption. Though the European Union is likely to renew sanctions against Russia again in January, its patience with Ukraine is being tested by the lack of critical reforms . In his address, Mr. Biden specifically called for an overhaul of the office of the prosecutor general, changes in the energy sector, transparency about official sources of income and other reforms

Russia's actions are no excuse for the failure of democratically elected Ukrainian leaders to crack down on corruption. About 50 magnates currently own about 85 percent of Ukraine's gross domestic product, according to the Jamestown Foundation's Eurasia Daily Monitor. Many politicians and judges are holdovers from previous governments, mouthing a new line but living by old rules and blocking serious reform measures.

Taking on a so well entrenched system is a huge challenge. A measure of President Petro Poroshenko's weakness against these forces was his having to import foreigners for key jobs, including Mikheil Saakashvili, the former president of Georgia, to be governor of Odessa and David Sakvarelidze, a former Georgian prosecutor, to be Ukraine's deputy prosecutor general.

Sadly, the credibility of Mr. Biden's message may be undermined by the association of his son with a Ukrainian natural gas company, Burisma Holdings, which is owned by a former government official suspected of corrupt practices. A spokesman for the son, Hunter Biden, argues that he joined the board of Burisma to strengthen its corporate governance. That may be so. But Burisma's owner, Mykola Zlochevsky, has been under investigation in Britain and in Ukraine. It should be plain to Hunter Biden that any connection with a Ukrainian oligarch damages his father's efforts to help Ukraine. This is not a board he should be sitting on .

Years After 'Screw Your Freedom' Statement, Arnold Schwarzenegger Issues Public Apology: "I'm Sorry for Saying Those Words"

https://www.essentiallysports.com/us-sports-news-bodybuilding-news-years-after-screw-your-freedom-statement-arnold-schwarzenegger-issues-publicapology-im-sorry-for-saying-those-words/

https://twitter.com/Schwarzenegger/status/1643736541750239232

This particular tweet by a user referring to a controversial statement the star made in 2021 may have changed the direction of his effort. As a remark that was focused on the anti-maskers, it had a domino effect as it struck the chords of many Americans, the echoes of which can still be heard to date. Surprisingly, Arnold Schwarzenegger took notice of the comment and cleared the air with a fitting reply.

Arnold Schwarzenegger expresses his regret for the controversy in 2021

Per the Twitter update, the 75-year-old icon took a moment to acknowledge his fans' acceptance and expressed his gratitude. That's not all.

He even apologized for blurting out "Scr*w your freedom" in an interview two years ago. He tweeted, "I'm sorry for saying those words. I try to be relentlessly positive, but sometimes my mouth gets ahead of me. I should have communicated better."

This mishap took place while he attempted to encourage everyone to comply with CDC guidelines during Covid-19.

Although Schwarzenegger's words may have been uttered for a particular reason, they sparked a lot of tumult among fans. Most condemned him for cursing, ironic to his persistent positive demeanor. "I want to thank you for your open-mindedness. I think we should be able to disagree without being enemies," his post initially stated.

According to this video, frazzledrip is fake originating with a pedophile. Probably put out to discredit real information. Beginning of this video has bucoup links to other info. I originally had heard that frazzledrip was a subfile off the insurance file from the Anthony Weiner laptop. This vid does not go into any detail as to how they found the origonal source Extensive detail with criminal record of said source though. I found the video above from the website below. From below, it led to a 404 link so I copy pasta title in Bitchute search and found the above link 3rd down of 8. https://prepareforchange.net/2021/05/25/pizzagate-pedogate- documentaries/ Link here, from the seconds I looked so far, is a repository of child sex abuse documentaries such as Fall Cabal ect. All from me trying to see what is current status of VOAT/Pizzagate crowd.

would they have ever written it like that, anon?
just like we think that XIV is fourteen, and that is correct to us, it turns out that 14 was very often written like this: XIII huh.
I think that if it's a hundred plus fifty they probably would have written it CL
I'm not an expert but you'll have to look to epigraphics to find the real answers to this.
l vote for English number 150 being CL,

Tracy Beanz ATHREAD: Kari Lake vs Maricopa County shenanigans

@KariLake has filed a brief in the AZ Supreme Court opposing the sanctions proposed against her for raising the argument that 35,563 ballots were unaccounted for and added to the total ballots at Runbeck.

Hobbs et al had argued this was a brand new claim (false) and asked for sanctions for that reason. This was filed last week, but I was away so I am threading it now.

Lake attorney's are asking the court to not only deny sanctions against them, but also to consider the brief they just filed as a motion for reconsideration. To read more about the weaponization of sanctions by those who wish to punish honest legal pursuits in AZ, you can read this: https://www.uncoverdc.com/2023/01/03/maricopa-county-corruption-now-its-your-problem-too/

Maricopa didn't ask for sanctions, but the other parties did. In order to request sanctions due to the provisions those parties cite, the court must find (and the lawyers must successfully argue) that they brought claim for an improper motive, or that they pressed issues that aren't supportable by any legal theory, and for which there is no "colarable legal argument." Both of those claims are patently false here, and a request for sanctions under these conditions is really meant as some sort of attempted "punishment."

Back when I was threading and detailing responses, I talked about how government actors are granted presumptions that assume they are acting in good faith. Not so for Runbeck.

Respondents don't even attempt to show any evidence rebutting the claim, and no one can argue that Lake doesn't honestly believe that illegal votes and misconduct determined the results of the 2022 election.

This entire argument stems back to CoC issues. If proper Chain of Custody were followed, Maricopa would have known if even one ballot were inserted. They didn't follow process or law, and Maricopa was unaware of the actual ballot totals.

This is a little confusing, but I will explain. The entire reason that Lake raised this issue in the appeal process was to answer and argument that Hobbs herself raised. It was a counter, so it obviously couldn't have been a "brand new" claim, as Hobbs asserts.

Hobbs cites two unique forms used in CoC in Maricopa, asserting that because of that process, the county would be aware of anything "injected" or "inserted."

Unfortunately for them, it was proven they weren't. They needed Runbeck to tell them what was there, when they should have already known.

The defense (Hobbs) presented exhibits at trial. Exhibit 33 was a compilation of forms entitled "MC Incoming Scan Receipts" which is a recording from Runbeck of the number of early ballot packages it scanned for signature verification and counted on its scanners between 11/8 and 11/9. The forms recorded a total of 298,942 early ballot packages.

The next was a compilation of forms called "MC Inbound- Receipt of Delivery." These are records created at Runbeck documenting ALL early ballots delivered to Runbeck prior to Runbeck scanning the ballots.

Four witnesses, in addition to a county employee, signed these forms for Election Day deliveries after 7 AM on 11/8- verifying the estimated number of ballots delivered to Runbeck.

Hobbs used these exhibits to "prove" that CoC laws were followed and that Maricopa would immediately know if a ballot were added or removed.

Lake stated that she calculated the number of ballots recorded on *their* forms - dated 11/8-11/9 and noted as "Election Day" and "Election Night"

And.... ... the number of ballots recorded on the Receipt of Delivery forms...

And used THEIR NUMBERS to prove the discrepancy of 35,563 ballots more scanned than received.

There is no possible argument here for sanctions, or that there weren't 33,563 MORE ballots scanned than received, and Hobbs own defense exhibit was used to prove it.

For Hobbs to be correct that Maricopa would pick up any of this immediately, they would need to know the exact number of ballots at EVERY stage in the process- which is what the law requires- however, Maricopa ADMITTED that they disregarded that requirement on Election Day because of VOLUME.

They said there were too many ballots for them to follow the process.

Even if we accept their excuse that they were just "too busy" to follow the procedure, the result should be at least *close*.

This is a decision usurping difference in vote totals, again, based off of their own (supposedly perfect and infallible) numbers.

I told you about the ring with the silver snake that I found before I painted the picture of Hannah before I know her. They let me find to my attention. That must have been around 1992-93. I know they put Hannah in front of me, they tried to fool me before. They put a pretty girl in my class 2 months after I drew the pic close to the drawing. From my grandmother I have a necklace, a silver snake which carries the silver ring. Here are the pictures of my chain with the ring!

Russian Victory is Inevitable Ru @WinRussiawill uscu Operation "Peter Pan": how the Americans took children out of Cuba

Against the backdrop of Russia's accusations of alleged kidnapping of Ukrainian children, it is worth recalling one of the most high-profile CIA operations.

✓ Operation "Peter Pan" consisted in the mass export of tens of thousands of children without parents from revolutionary Cuba to the United States. From 1960 to 1962, more than 14,000 Cubans aged 6 to 18 were transported from the island to Miami. At the same time, the participation of the CIA in the operation was strictly secret.

• To pull off the operation, US propaganda spread a rumor that the Fidel Castro government wants to deprive parents of their rights, take their children away from them and send them to hard labor in the USSR. Parents in a panic agreed to the transportation of children.

💥 In the United States, of course, they tried to justify the deceit towards Cuban children in this story. Of course, there were no trials over the crime of the Americans.

> Dalai Lama speaks out after bizarre video showed him asking to kiss boy's tongue By Yaron Steinbuch April 10, 2023

The Dalai Lama has apologized after a video emerged of the Tibetan spiritual leader kissing an Indian boy on the lips — and asking him to "suck my tongue."

He was taking questions in February from an audience in Dharamsala, the Indian town where he lives in exile, when the child asked the Nobel Prize winner, "Can I hug you?"

The Dalai Lama invited him onto the stage and pointed to his cheek, prompting the boy to give him a hug and a kiss, CNN reported.

The 87-year-old then pointed to his lips, and said: "Then I think finally here also."

He then pulled the unidentified boy's chin and kissed him on the mouth, adding: "And suck my tongue."

As they pressed their foreheads together, the boy poked his tongue out before moving away — but the Dalai Lama pulled him in for another hug.

"Now, you should look [to] those good human beings who create peace [and] happiness," the Dalai Lama said. "[You] should not follow those human beings who [are] always killing other people."

The audience reacted to the awkward scene at his temple in McLeod Ganj with laughter and applause as the Dali Lama appeared to also tickle the child.

"This video is scandalous," Colombian journalist Vicky Dávila said on Twitter.

"The Dalai Lama kisses a boy who approaches him on the mouth. The attendees applaud and laugh instead of condemning this aberration."

The leader's Twitter account, which has 19 million followers, said Monday:

"A video clip has been circulating that shows a recent meeting when a young boy asked his Holiness the Dalai Lama if he could give him a hug.

"His Holiness wishes to apologize to the boy and his family, as well as his many friends across the world, for the hurt his words may have caused," the statement said.

The Dalai Lama proceeds to kiss the boy on the lips.News.com.au

"His Holiness often teases people he meets in an innocent and playful way, even in public and before cameras," it added. (Bullshit, why does he travel with a group of little boys?)

The exiled leader was at an event with the M3M Foundation, the philanthropic arm of Indian real estate company M3M Group, which is based in Dharamshala, CNN reported.

The network has reached out to the foundation for comment.

The Delhi-based child rights group Haq: Center for Child Rights told CNN that it condemns "all form of child abuse," adding that "some news refers to Tibetan culture about showing tongue, but this video is certainly not about any cultural expression and even if it is, such cultural expressions are not acceptable."

The octogenarian, who fled to India in 1959 after a failed uprising against Chinese rule in Tibet, is regarded by Beijing as a dangerous separatist. He has worked for decades to draw global support for linguistic and cultural autonomy in his homeland while living in Dharamshala.

The Dalai Lama has sparked controversy before, including during a 2019 interview with the BBC in which he said that if a female Dalai Lama should succeed him, she "should be more attractive." He later apologized for the comment.

The year before, he suggested that Europe should be reserved for Europeans while discussing the rising level of African refugees entering the continent.

"The whole Europe (will) eventually become Muslim country? Impossible. Or African country? Also impossible," he said, CNN reported, adding that it's better to "keep Europe for Europeans."

Need some quick assistance frens. I'm on a weeklong timeout from our censoring friends at Twatter. There was an account that I wanted to follow over the weekend but couldn't because most of my features were cancelled during my timeout period. The account was about Mainstream Media taking their "L's" (Losses). It was a fairly popular account and was recently reinstated by Elon, but now I can't find it. Thx

RFK Jr.'s 'disgusted' family unlikely to support his bid for president By Isabel Vincent

With his just-declared bid for the US presidency, Robert F. Kennedy Jr. sees himself at the forefront of "a new revolution to resurrect American democracy" — but the anti-vaccination crusader will likely have his work cut out for him in convincing Democrats and even members of his own family to vote for him in 2024.

" Most of the Kennedys are disgusted with his attitude," said Kennedy family biographer Laurence Learner, referring to Robert's recent anti-vaccination activism. "They still care about him, but he's an embarrassment."

Robert, 69, filed paperwork to run for president with the Federal Election Commission last week. He plans to formally announce his bid to take on President Joe Biden in a Democratic primary at a hotel in Boston on April 19, according to his Team Kennedy campaign. (Biden told the "Today" show Monday that "I plan on running" in 2024.)

The environmental lawyer and author has earned the disapproval of many of his Kennedy relatives for his controversial views on vaccines and his attacks on former White House medical chief Anthony Fauci, as well as his embrace of his father's convicted assassin, Sirhan Sirhan Robert has said Sirhan did not actually participate in the murder of Robert Kennedy Sr. during a Los Angeles presidential campaign stop in 1968.

Robert's uncle, John F. Kennedy, was also assassinated in Dallas in 1963. "After more than 50 years in prison, the state's own psychiatrists and the parole board deem that Sirhan poses no threat to society," Robert wrote in a 2021 opinion piece for the San Francisco Chronicle, urging California governor Gavin Newsom to grant Sirhan, 79, parole

Learner told The Post Thursday that the rapprochement with Sirhan particularly grated on his relatives, including six of his siblings and his 94-year-old mother, Ethel Kennedy, who said in 2021 that she does not want the convicted killer released from prison.

In a 2019 opinion column for Politico, Robert's siblings Kathleen Kennedy Townsend and Joseph P. Kennedy II, along with his niece Maeve Kennedy McKean, denounced his crusade against vaccinations.

Robert, the bestselling author of "The Real Anthony Fauci: Bill Gates, Big Pharma, and the Global War on Democracy and Public Health," is the chair and chief legal counsel of the Georgia-based Children's Health Defense, a non-profit that campaigns against vaccines for children.

"Robert F. Kennedy Jr. — Joe and Kathleen's brother and Maeve's uncle — is part of this campaign to attack the institutions committed to reducing the tragedy of preventable infectious diseases," they wrote. "He has helped to spread dangerous misinformation over social media and is complicit in sowing distrust of the science behind vaccines."

Even actress Cheryl Hines, Robert's third wife, has distanced herself from his vaccine extremism after he invoked Nazi Germany in a speech against vaccines at the Lincoln Memorial last year. In it, he implied that those who oppose vaccines are being persecuted more severely than Anne Frank, the German teen who hid from the Nazis in Amsterdam before being sent to her death at Auschwitz.

"My husband's reference to Anne Frank at a mandate rally in DC was reprehensible and insensitive," Hines tweeted. "The atrocities that millions endured during the Holocaust should never be compared to anyone or anything. His opinions are not a reflection of my own." Robert later apologized for the reference. However, Hines does apparently support his presidential run.

"I'm thinking about it, and I've passed the biggest hurdle, which is my wife has green-lighted it," Robert said during a speech in New Hampshire last month, when he first spoke of running for the top office. Actress Cheryl Hines, who stars in "Curb Your Enthusiasm," is RFK Jr.'s third wife — and has publicly lashed out at him over his vaccine extremism.

Kennedy has also been enmeshed in other scandals that are likely to resurface during his presidential run. In 2013, The Post revealed that he kept a "sex diary" in which he chronicled his affairs with numerous women while married to second wife, Mary Richardson Kennedy, who committed suicide in 2012. But with Robert's presidential bid and anti-vaccination advocacy, Learner said that "he's found a new life for himself" — even if it's separate from his famously liberal family.

"American Resurrection," Robert's Substack website, is devoted to advancing "my lifelong battle against the corrupt merger between state and corporate power that has subverted America's once exemplary democracy," he writes.

"Do the Democrats really want Robert F. Kennedy Jr. in this race?" said Leamer. "The whole thing is just troubling for Democrats."

Kentucky Gov Andy Beshear lost two 'close friends' in Louisville shooting, as witnesses describe carnage By Emily Crane April 10, 2023 12:52pm

An emotional Kentucky Gov Andy Beshear has revealed two of his "close friends" were among the four victims gunned down in Monday's Louisville bank shooting.

The Democratic Gov. said another friend was also among the eight injured when a lone gunman stormed into the Old National Bank in the city's downtown area and opened fire at around 8.30 a.m.

"This is awful. I have a very close friend that didn't make it today. And I have another close friend who didn't either," a tearful Beshear said at a press conference.

"And another who's at the hospital who I hope is going to make it through." Police haven't yet released the identities of the slain or injured victims.

Louisville Metro Police Department Deputy Chief Paul Humphrey said two of the injured were cops who were hurt when officers engaged in a shootout with the gunman just moments after arriving on the scene.

One of those officers was in a critical condition and undergoing surgery at the University of Louisville Hospital as of Monday morning, Humphrey said. Beshear heaped praise on the responding officers in the wake of the shooting.

"I want to thank them, and all of our other law enforcement officers, for responding and doing their best to try and save some of my friends and many others," Beshear said.

The gunman, who also hasn't been publicly identified, was killed in the ordeal.

"We believe this is a lone gunman involved in this that did have a connection to the bank," Humphrey said. "We're trying to establish what that connection was to the business, but it appears he was a previous employee." In the aftermath of the tragedy, survivors recalled seeing the gunman firing off several shots with a "long assault rifle" on the first floor of the bank's building.

"He just started firing," one witness told WHAS11. "I didn't see his face. We were in the conference room. Whoever was next to me got shot, their blood's on me."

Another witness said he ran for his life as soon as the gunfire erupted.

"We have a break room. I got in there, shut the door for a second, and then I was looking around opening the door to see where he was at, and I could see him still shooting," the man told WHAS-TV.

Manufacturing Consent: The Political Economy of the Mass Media is a 1988 book by Edward S. Herman and Noam Chomsky. It argues that the mass communication media of the U.S. "are effective and powerful ideological institutions that carry out a system-supportive propaganda function, by reliance on market forces, internalized assumptions, and self-censorship, and without overt coercion", by means of the propaganda model of communication.[1] The title refers to consent of the governed, and derives from the phrase "the manufacture of consent" used by Walter Lippmann in Public Opinion (1922). [2] The book was honored with the Orwell Award.

A 2002 revision takes account of developments such as the fall of the Soviet Union. A 2009 interview with the authors notes the effects of the internet on the propaganda model.

HHH/HI or LLL/LO - This may appear on your thermometer's display if the detected temperature is above/below than the maximum/minimum temperature threshold of your unit. Carefully remove the probe and allow it to return to room temperature. If your probe is still displaying the code at room temperature, it is likely that the probe has shorted out and will need to be replaced.

III llah (黒の神イル・イラー Iru Irā, literally meaning "Black God") or llah, is the "god" who created Alma Torran and later destroyed it. It is believed by Solomon that llah is a lump of power without will, which is responsible for all of the creation and phenomena of the world. Ilah is worshiped by Al-Thamen, who wish to summon it to the current world. Currently, they are merged with Solomon's father, David. Sinbad is their reincarnation in the current world.

Donald Trump receives $3,755 driver from Japan's Prime Minister November 20, 2016

When President-elect Donald Trump and Japan Prime Minister Shinzo Abe met the other day, the pair—as is custom—exchanged gifts and instantly found some common ground: golf.

Although some media reports offer conflicting information on what Trump gave to Abe (some said a golf shirt, others reported clubs), GolfDigest.com has learned that Trump received a driver from the Prime Minister. The club is a Honma Beres S-05 with 9.5 degrees of loft with a 5S Armrq Infinity stiff shaft. The company's website describes the club as being for players seeking a higher trajectory and slice correction.

Interestingly, Abe might have gotten the golf-gift idea from his grandfather, former Prime Minister Nobuske Kishi, who in 1957 played a round of golf with then President Dwight Eisenhower.

The driver, which sells for $3,755, comes in either a black- or gold-colored head. Fittingly, given Mr. Trump's penchant for adorning rooms in gilded gold, the Prime Minister opted for the latter.

(AP) — A shooting at a bank in downtown Louisville killed at least four people and wounded at least eight others Monday, police said. The suspected shooter was also dead. The shooting, the 15th mass killing in the country this year, comes just two weeks after a former student killed three children and three adults at a Christian elementary school in Nashville, about 160 mile (260 kilometers) to the south. Police arrived as gunshots were still being fired inside the Old National Bank and exchanged fire with the shooter, Louisville Metro Police Department Deputy Chief Paul Humphrey said at a news conference. It wasn't clear whether the shooter killed himself or was shot by officers. "We believe this is a lone gunman involved in this that did have a connection to the bank. We're trying to establish what that connection was to the business, but it appears he was a previous employee," Humphrey said. Humphrey said that at least eight people were being treated at a hospital for wounds, including two police officers, one of whom was in critical condition. https://apnews.com/article/downtown-louisville-shooting-dc7b45a9c5d2b384a16d653864f8b735? utm_source=homepage&utm_medium=TopNews&utm_campaign=position_01 Disclaimer: this post and the subject matter and contents thereof - text, media, or otherwise - do not necessarily reflect the views of the 8kun administration. What the fentanyl crisis looks like from a Washington state hospital The fentanyl crisis is not just a drug addiction issue—it's a multi-pronged public health crisis that stops at no lines or victims.

As Washington state faces an ongoing fentanyl overdose crisis, state lawmakers have proposed many fixes to the problem, from making simple possession a felony again to cracking down on pill production machines.

But what does the crisis look like at the local level, out of the halls of Olympia?

To get a measure of this, The Center Square interviewed by email Dr. Raul Garcia. He is the medical director of Astria Toppenish Hospital in Toppenish, Washington as well as the executive director of the nonprofit Opportunity for Washington, a group that weighs in on drug addiction and homelessness, among other issues.

TCS: From the perspective of an emergency physician in Washington state, how bad is the fentanyl problem?

Garcia: Throughout my 25 years serving as an emergency physician, 16 in Central Washington, I have never seen a crisis develop and then multiply as drastically as fentanyl overdoses have. According to the Centers for Disease Control, 107,375 people in the United States died of drug overdoses and drug poisonings in the 12-month period ending in January 2022 with 67 percent of those deaths involving synthetic opioids like fentanyl. Here in Washington State, overdose deaths involving synthetic opioids, mostly fentanyl, have increased 10-fold just over the past year—and I've seen it firsthand.

Autin Schilling funny. schiller. the photo that's labeled shows his hands clasped in front of him. he 's not crossing his arms as in the other image. All under cover of "Rocket Science" - founded by Satanist JACK Parson? what a surprise. Notice how Schilling (56) has crossed his leg over Ludwig ROTH's (62) Obit of Shilling says he was a Raytheon Exec. and that his son says he was outside the Nazi Party - the Times adds that most of his associates? or many? were members, such as vonBraun.

Far-left Bronx and Westchester Rep. Jamaal Bowman has flouted House ethics rules by making political statements on his congressional TikTok account and using official resources to make posts on his campaign TikTok account, according to a complaint filed Monday by a government watchdog.

The Foundation for Accountability and Civic Trust argued in a letter to the Office of Congressional Ethics that Bowman had crossed a line by recording TikTok videos from inside the US Capitol building and in his congressional office.

Bowman, 47, also shared a message calling for the impeachment of Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas from his official account another alleged ethics violation. The accounts — @jamaalbowmanny and @repbowman — identify Bowman as the representative for New York's 16th Congressional District, with the latter account racking up more than 200,000 followers.

"The laws and ethics rules prohibiting Members from using official resources for political purposes are clear and longstanding," FACT Executive Director Kendra Arnold said in a statement. "Not only do these ethics rules protect taxpayer funds, but they also protect the integrity of the government and maintain citizens' trust.

"Anytime a Member does not comply with these laws it is troubling and should concern citizens. The OCE must move swiftly to investigate and enforce these bright-line standards and apply the requisite penalty."

Bowman's office did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

Federal law requires House members to strictly separate campaign and official activities and bars campaigning with the use of official resources — such as government buildings, websites and social media profiles.

The Foundation for Accountability and Civic Trust said Bowman recorded TikTok videos from inside the US Capitol building. TikTok/@repbowman Federal law requires House lawmakers to strictly separate campaign and official acts. TikTok/@repbowman

"The laws at issue in this case protect taxpayer-funded resources from abuse and theft and strict enforcement addresses the public's concerns that incumbents wrongfully use government funds to run for re-election," FACT complained to chief House ethics counsel Omar Ashmawy.

In her group's letter to OCE, Arnold also noted Bowman maintains a TikTok account despite US government concerns that the Chinese-owned social media company could be harvesting more than 100 million American users' data. The FBI and FCC have warned that Beijing-based ByteDance Ltd, which owns TikTok, could share US users' biometric information, browsing history and location with the Chinese government.

The congressman has also recorded videos apparently from his congressional office. TikTok/@repbowman Bowman maintains the TikTok account despite US national security concerns. TikTok/@repbowman

The White House and House of Representatives have since demanded TikTok be removed from all official government devices over espionage concerns. Arnold in her letter suggested that ethics investigators check whether Bowman has installed TikTok on any of his government devices.

More than 30 members of Congress — almost all of whom are Democrats — have TikTok accounts. Some Democratic lawmakers like Bowman have also pushed back against federal bans of TikTok, along with many younger US adults. Just 39% of Americans between the ages of 18 and 29 support such bans, according to a March CBS News/YouGov poll.

"Republicans ain't got no swag," Bowman said during a press conference last month outside the Capitol. "That's why they want to ban TikTok. And I mention that in the context of engaging young people in the democratic process." He also referred to federal efforts to ban the app as "racist towards China."

Bowman is the third House Democrat to be hit with an ethics complaint over the use of Tiktok, along with fellow "Squad" Rep. Ilhan Omar (D-Minn.) and Rep. Wiley Nickel (D-NC).

(This is the asshole that was yelling and screaming in the house about guns and arguing with Thomas Massie! These people are so corrupt it's not funny.)

Biden says he plans on running for reelection but is 'not prepared to announce it yet' (the idiot is trying to scare the country to death) Biden, 80, has said in private conversations that he is "definitely running." Updated: April 10, 2023 - 12:51pm

President Joe Biden said Monday he intends on running for reelection in 2024 but he is not ready to make a formal announcement about his plans.

"I plan on running, AI, but we're not prepared to announce it yet," Biden told NBC-TV "Today" show co-host AI Roker.

Biden, 80, has said in private conversations that he is "definitely running," but he does not plan on launching his campaign until this summer, according to CNN.

The president may face difficulties being reelected, however.

A CNN poll last week found less than one-third of respondents said the the Democrat president deserved to be reelected.

Biden may not even have the support of his own party. Minnesota Democrat Rep. Dean Phillips recently said that "literally hundreds" of fellow Democratic members of Congress are weary about Biden being their 2024 presidential nominee. (A 100 millions of conservatives are not just weary, it's a Hell NO!)

Currently, the only Democrats to have officially announced their 2024 presidential campaigns are Robert F. Kennedy, Jr. and Marianne Williamson.

NARA, Japan — A flower bed was completed Friday close to the site where former Prime Minister Shinzo Abe was shot dead in Nara City last year that, although part of a previously planned project, will now serve as a de facto memorial to the late politician.

The Nara city government had been redeveloping the area around the north side of Kintetsu Railway Co.'s Yamato-Saidaiji Station prior to the shooting, and placing flower beds on sidewalks along the road were part of the project.

The actual site of the shooting has become a road as planned and was opened for traffic from Saturday.

Abe was shot on July 8 last year while delivering a campaign speech in support of a Liberal Democratic Party candidate for the House of Councillors on a section in the middle of the street surrounded by guardrails. ...
