Welcome to Q Research General

We are researchers who deal in open-source information, reasoned argument, and dank memes. We do battle in the sphere of ideas and ideas only. We neither need nor condone the use of force in our work here.

"We hold these truths to be self-evident: that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

>are saying it's due to training.

>what is going on?

For years we've been told the "They were on our radar" nonsense. There's even a Bart Simpson meme on this. Prior arrests, counseling, and ABCs knowing about the shooters already was always a discussed point. Seems like it's a bit different, here; like maybe they were on the scene so quickly because <fill in the blank, here>.

BREAKING: America First Legal Releases Second Set of Joe Biden's Vice Presidential Records from Lawsuit Against the National Archive

March 20, 2023

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Today, America First Legal (AFL) released the second production of records obtained through its lawsuit against the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) from Joe Biden’s time as Vice President in the Obama Administration regarding Hunter Biden and his corrupt foreign business dealings.

This second set of documents confirms there was effectively no daylight between Joe Biden and Hunter Biden, who coordinated through their most-trusted associates in response to the controversial stories regarding the Biden family’s business dealings in Ukraine. The evidence from these documents is that:

1. Then-Vice President Biden personally signed off on the statement given in response to reporters about whether Hunter’s appointment to Burisma undermines the Vice President’s credibility in pushing anti-corruption measures in the country;
2. The Office of the Vice President connected reporters writing about Hunter’s appointment to Burisma to Amos Hochstein, a trusted Biden advisor who was then the “point person” for International Energy Affairs at the U.S. Department of State, to provide a “unique and valuable perspective” on the relationships in Ukraine;
3. The Office of the Vice President coordinated closely with Rosemont Seneca Advisors in response to press inquiries, including inquiries regarding Hunter Biden’s alleged Ashley Madison Account; and
4. U.S. Ambassador to Ukraine, Marie Marie L. Yovanovitch, reported—to the Department of State’s Victoria Nuland, Anna Makanju in Vice President Biden’s Office, and the National Security Counsel’s Eric Ciaramella (famously the “whistleblower” in the first impeachment proceeding against former President Trump)—that “[t]his time there are accusations that Burisma allegedly had a subsidiary dump natural gas as a way to pay bribes” and “[m]entions that Hunter Biden and former Polish President Kwasniewski are on the Burisma board.”

Vice President Biden personally signed off on an official press statement about Hunter Biden.

Despite Joe Biden’s assertions that he had zero involvement with Hunter’s appointment to Burisma, he personally signed off on the official statement in response to questions from reporters about whether Hunter’s position with Burisma undermines the Vice President’s credibility in pushing anti-corruption measures in the country.

Joe Biden Lectures Ukraine

By THE EDITORIAL BOARD DEC. 11, 2015

The only applause Vice President Joseph Biden Jr. got while he addressed the Ukrainian Parliament on Tuesday was when he berated Russia. That's not hard: Russia's venality - the seizure of Crimea and the support for separatists in eastern Ukraine - is a strong unifying force in Ukrainian politics.

By contrast, Mr. Biden's ardent talk of the need to put an end to Ukraine's ubiquitous corruption and the power of its oligarchs was met with stony silence.

Mr. Biden was right to upbraid Russia and to pledge an extra $190 million in aid to Ukraine. And as a Western leader who has made Ukraine his special project, he was also right to warn Ukrainian legislators to waste no more time in rooting out corruption. Though the European Union is likely to renew sanctions against Russia again in January, its patience with Ukraine is being tested by the lack of critical reforms. In his address, Mr.

Biden specifically called for an overhaul of the office of the prosecutor general, changes in the energy sector, transparency about official sources of income and other reforms.

Russia's actions are no excuse for the failure of democratically elected Ukrainian leaders to crack down on corruption. About 50 magnates currently own about 85 percent of Ukraine's gross domestic product, according to the Jamestown Foundation's Eurasia Daily Monitor. Many politicians and judges are holdovers from previous governments, mouthing a new line but living by old rules and blocking serious reform measures.

Taking on a so well entrenched system is a huge challenge. A measure of President Petro Poroshenko's weakness against these forces was his having to import foreigners for key jobs, including Mikheil Saakashvili, the former president of Georgia, to be governor of Odessa and David Sakvarelidze, a former Georgian prosecutor, to be Ukraine's deputy prosecutor general.

Sadly, the credibility of Mr. Biden's message may be undermined by the association of his son with a Ukrainian natural gas company, Burisma Holdings, which is owned by a former government official suspected of corrupt practices. A spokesman for the son, Hunter Biden, argues that he joined the board of Burisma to strengthen its corporate governance. That may be so. But Burisma's owner, Mykola Zlochevsky, has been under investigation in Britain and in Ukraine. It should be plain to Hunter Biden that any connection with a Ukrainian oligarch damages his father's efforts to help Ukraine. This is not a board he should be sitting on.

Years After ‘Screw Your Freedom’ Statement, Arnold Schwarzenegger Issues Public Apology: “I’m Sorry for Saying Those Words”

<https://www.essentiallysports.com/us-sports-news-bodybuilding-news-years-after-screw-your-freedom-statement-arnold-schwarzenegger-issues-public-apology-im-sorry-for-saying-those-words/>

<https://twitter.com/Schwarzenegger/status/1643736541750239232>

This particular tweet by a user referring to a controversial statement the star made in 2021 may have changed the direction of his effort. As a remark that was focused on the anti-maskers, it had a domino effect as it struck the chords of many Americans, the echoes of which can still be heard to date. Surprisingly, Arnold Schwarzenegger took notice of the comment and cleared the air with a fitting reply.

Arnold Schwarzenegger expresses his regret for the controversy in 2021

Per the Twitter update, the 75-year-old icon took a moment to acknowledge his fans’ acceptance and expressed his gratitude. That’s not all.

He even apologized for blurting out “Scr*w your freedom” in an interview two years ago. He tweeted, “I’m sorry for saying those words. I try to be relentlessly positive, but sometimes my mouth gets ahead of me. I should have communicated better.”

This mishap took place while he attempted to encourage everyone to comply with CDC guidelines during Covid-19.

Although Schwarzenegger’s words may have been uttered for a particular reason, they sparked a lot of tumult among fans. Most condemned him for cursing, ironic to his persistent positive demeanor. “I want to thank you for your open-mindedness. I think we should be able to disagree without being enemies,” his post initially stated.

Hiding the cures.

That they are all Sadist, psychopaths, and cannibals

That people had hints but let it go on, stayed in ignorance, turned away from finding-out and so are themselves guilty (whether true or not)

That's what will end the health of many people? Those who are not psychopaths will be destroyed by the guilt of what they didn't do, didn't hear, didn't believe - the guilt that what they viciously mocked, going along with the crowd - turned out true; and their deliberate ignorance fed it.

that's my nomination for what will put people into the hospital

Either that or something to do with ALIENS?

my guess; FWIW

He sold out to HW a long time ago, no one will identify him as terminator or hero any longer, he's only apologizing because many are coming out and revealing they were pressured to. But he wanted people to die if they didn't get it. This ugly side of movie stars has always been there.

the first one that condemned the talk of people wishing non vaxed to die was Tim Robbins...

These people are probably seeing their friends and fellow stars dropping like flies and they want forgiveness before they die. I'll leave that up to God.

<<https://www.bitchute.com/video/C0OMCozJ2pxE/>

According to this video, frazzledrip is fake originating with a pedophile.

Probably put out to discredit real information.

Beginning of this video has bucoup links to other info.

I originally had heard that frazzledrip was a subfile off the insurance file from the Anthony Weiner laptop.

This vid does not go into any detail as to how they found the orignal source.

Extensive detail with criminal record of said source though.

From below, it led to a 404 link so I copy pasta title in Bitchute search and found the above link 3rd down of 8.

<<https://prepareforchange.net/2021/05/25/pizzagate-pedogate-documentaries/>

Link here, from the seconds I looked so far, is a repository of child sex abuse documentaries such as Fall Cabal ect...

All from me trying to see what is current status of VOAT/Pizzagate crowd.

Apparently they shut down in 2020.

I didn't notice the date on that, 2011. Fuckin ancient. I figured it would have been the kind of move you do to try to show your gonna try and win back some of those manly customers back to pay money for your pisswater and using sex appeal to get you to buy things is one of the oldest tricks in the book. Anyway, carry on.

@SenSchumer

We grieve for those who were killed, those who were injured, and all their families in this latest mass shooting in Louisville.

This cannot continue.

We must keep working for stronger gun safety legislation in this country.

Out of Ammunition, Who are the Players as in "Ender's Game" that are the true wizards and warlocks battling for the "Good"

https://enderverse.fandom.com/wiki/Ender%27s_Game_\(Novel\))

However, when the simulation ended, Ender discovered that the "audience" watching his "final exam" was now in jubilation and delight. Rackham and Graff told Ender that he had not been playing a game, and had never played against Rackham, but instead had been commanding real ships across interstellar distances; the task made possible via the ansible, a form of instantaneous communication making use of Philotic energy. This technology was discovered following the Second Formic War, as the method of telepathic communication the Formics used was reverse engineered. He had just commanded the fleet attacking the Formic Homeworld, and destroyed their entire species once and for all.

would they have ever written it like that, anon?

just like we think that XIV is fourteen, and that is correct to us, it turns out that 14 was very often written like this: XIII huh.

I think that if it's a hundred plus fifty they probably would have written it CL

I'm not an expert but you'll have to look to epigraphics to find the real answers to this.

I vote for English number 150 being CL, but LLL would probably have worked too.

Tracy Beanz 🚩 THREAD: Kari Lake vs Maricopa County shenanigans

@KariLake has filed a brief in the AZ Supreme Court opposing the sanctions proposed against her for raising the argument that 35,563 ballots were unaccounted for and added to the total ballots at Runbeck.

Hobbs et al had argued this was a brand new claim (false) and asked for sanctions for that reason. This was filed last week, but I was away so I am threading it now.

Lake attorney's are asking the court to not only deny sanctions against them, but also to consider the brief they just filed as a motion for reconsideration. To read more about the weaponization of sanctions by those who wish to punish honest legal pursuits in AZ, you can read this: <https://www.uncoverdc.com/2023/01/03/maricopa-county-corruption-now-its-your-problem-too/>

Maricopa didn't ask for sanctions, but the other parties did. In order to request sanctions due to the provisions those parties cite, the court must find (and the lawyers must successfully argue) that they brought claim for an improper motive, or that they pressed issues that aren't supportable by any legal theory, and for which there is no "colorable legal argument." Both of those claims are patently false here, and a request for sanctions under these conditions is really meant as some sort of attempted "punishment."

Back when I was threading and detailing responses, I talked about how government actors are granted presumptions that assume they are acting in good faith. Not so for Runbeck.

Respondents don't even attempt to show any evidence rebutting the claim, and no one can argue that Lake doesn't honestly believe that illegal votes and misconduct determined the results of the 2022 election.

This entire argument stems back to CoC issues. If proper Chain of Custody were followed, Maricopa would have known if even one ballot were inserted. They didn't follow process or law, and Maricopa was unaware of the actual ballot totals.

This is a little confusing, but I will explain. The entire reason that Lake raised this issue in the appeal process was to answer an argument that Hobbs herself raised. It was a counter, so it obviously couldn't have been a "brand new" claim, as Hobbs asserts.

Hobbs cites two unique forms used in CoC in Maricopa, asserting that because of that process, the county would be aware of anything "injected" or "inserted."

Unfortunately for them, it was proven they weren't. They needed Runbeck to tell them what was there, when they should have already known.

The defense (Hobbs) presented exhibits at trial. Exhibit 33 was a compilation of forms entitled "MC Incoming Scan Receipts" which is a recording from Runbeck of the number of early ballot packages it scanned for signature verification and counted on its scanners between 11/8 and 11/9. The forms recorded a total of 298,942 early ballot packages.

The next was a compilation of forms called "MC Inbound- Receipt of Delivery." These are records created at Runbeck documenting ALL early ballots delivered to Runbeck prior to Runbeck scanning the ballots.

Four witnesses, in addition to a county employee, signed these forms for Election Day deliveries after 7 AM on 11/8- verifying the estimated number of ballots delivered to Runbeck.

Hobbs used these exhibits to "prove" that CoC laws were followed and that Maricopa would immediately know if a ballot were added or removed.

Lake stated that she calculated the number of ballots recorded on their forms - dated 11/8-11/9 and noted as "Election Day" and "Election Night"

And.... ...the number of ballots recorded on the Receipt of Delivery forms...

And used THEIR NUMBERS to prove the discrepancy of 35,563 ballots more scanned than received.

There is no possible argument here for sanctions, or that there weren't 33,563 MORE ballots scanned than received, and Hobbs own defense exhibit was used to prove it.

For Hobbs to be correct that Maricopa would pick up any of this immediately, they would need to know the exact number of ballots at EVERY stage in the process- which is what the law requires- however, Maricopa ADMITTED that they disregarded that requirement on Election Day because of VOLUME.

They said there were too many ballots for them to follow the process.

Even if we accept their excuse that they were just "too busy" to follow the procedure, the result should be at least close.

This is a decision usurping difference in vote totals, again, based off of their own (supposedly perfect and infallible) numbers.

I know they put Hannah in front of me, they tried to fool me before. They put a pretty girl in my class 2 months after I drew the picture, she looked pretty close to the drawing.

From my grandmother I have a necklace, a silver snake which carries the silver ring.

Report Reveals the Alarming Reason Why Bud Light and Nike are Shoving “Transgender” Dylan Mulvaney in America’s Face

<https://www.thegatewaypundit.com/2023/04/report-reveals-the-alarming-reason-why-bud-light-and-nike-are-shoving-transgender-dylan-mulvaney-in-americas-face/>

Executives at companies like Nike, Anheuser-Busch and Kate Spade, whose brand endorsements have turned controversial trans influencer Dylan Mulvaney into today’s woke “It girl,” aren’t just virtue signaling.

They’re handing out lucrative deals to what were once considered fringe celebrities because they have to — or risk failing an all-important social credit score that could make or break their businesses.

At stake is their Corporate Equality Index — or CEI — score, which is overseen by the Human Rights Campaign, the largest LGBTQ+ political lobbying group in the world.

Ben Garrison Cartoons @grrrgraphics

Stop the Insanity! Trans madness goes corporate- New Ben Garrison Cartoon for Monday

The worst aspect of the trans delusion: The woke, Marxist educators are pushing it on children in schools. They try to convince confused boys that they are really girls and tell girls they are really boys. Dangerous hormone treatments and even sexual mutilation follows.

All states must pass law banning the ‘transitioning’ of children.

WOKE CORPORATIONS PUSH TRANS INSANITY

supposedly same "variety" on the Hunter laptop - the part that was encrypted and the 1/2 cracked.

The one we saw was naked Joe whipping a young girl tied to pole.

it was a vid.

Similar one of what looks like Epstein torturing a girl / young woman, in the sun, tied to the grass ;

He was taking his time.

People complained it wasn't him But looked like him to me.

The vids of baby torture will probably put people in the hospital?

There were ones of Hunter with a child.

Some very long "on-going investigations" that never break.

WRAY was smirking as he Bullshitted along those lines under questioning by Congress.

Maybe they'll never make it public "for the good of the Country"

They likely would claim it was all "fake news" and done with deep fake; should anything be released.

Someone must be waiting to present it in Court, With provenance and testimony and all that.

Trump has cases' they seem to all have been quashed for now.

Heading to SCOTUS

Zero respect for comped SCOTUS - so it's a long wait, for comped military...

Russian Victory is Inevitable RU

@WinRussiawill

USCU Operation "Peter Pan": how the Americans took children out of Cuba

Against the backdrop of Russia's accusations of alleged kidnapping of Ukrainian children , it is worth recalling one of the most high-profile CIA operations.

✂ Operation "Peter Pan" consisted in the mass export of tens of thousands of children without parents from revolutionary Cuba to the United States. From 1960 to 1962, more than 14,000 Cubans aged 6 to 18 were transported from the island to Miami. At the same time, the participation of the CIA in the operation was strictly secret.

🔊 To pull off the operation, US propaganda spread a rumor that the Fidel Castro government wants to deprive parents of their rights, take their children away from them and send them to hard labor in the USSR. Parents in a panic agreed to the transportation of children.

✂ In the United States, of course, they tried to justify the deceit towards Cuban children in this story. Of course, there were no trials over the crime of the Americans.

Dalai Lama speaks out after bizarre video showed him asking to kiss boy's tongue

By Yaron Steinbuch April 10, 2023

The Dalai Lama has apologized after a video emerged of the Tibetan spiritual leader kissing an Indian boy on the lips — and asking him to “suck my tongue.”

He was taking questions in February from an audience in Dharamsala, the Indian town where he lives in exile, when the child asked the Nobel Prize winner, “Can I hug you?”

The Dalai Lama invited him onto the stage and pointed to his cheek, prompting the boy to give him a hug and a kiss, CNN reported.

The 87-year-old then pointed to his lips, and said: “Then I think finally here also.”

He then pulled the unidentified boy’s chin and kissed him on the mouth, adding: “And suck my tongue.”

As they pressed their foreheads together, the boy poked his tongue out before moving away — but the Dalai Lama pulled him in for another hug.

“Now, you should look [to] those good human beings who create peace [and] happiness,” the Dalai Lama said. “[You] should not follow those human beings who [are] always killing other people.”

The audience reacted to the awkward scene at his temple in McLeod Ganj with laughter and applause as the Dalai Lama appeared to also tickle the child.

“This video is scandalous,” Colombian journalist Vicky Dávila said on Twitter.

“The Dalai Lama kisses a boy who approaches him on the mouth. The attendees applaud and laugh instead of condemning this aberration.”

The leader’s Twitter account, which has 19 million followers, said Monday:

“A video clip has been circulating that shows a recent meeting when a young boy asked his Holiness the Dalai Lama if he could give him a hug.

“His Holiness wishes to apologize to the boy and his family, as well as his many friends across the world, for the hurt his words may have caused,” the statement said.

The Dalai Lama proceeds to kiss the boy on the lips. News.com.au

“His Holiness often teases people he meets in an innocent and playful way, even in public and before cameras,” it added. (Bullshit, why does he travel with a group of little boys?)

The exiled leader was at an event with the M3M Foundation, the philanthropic arm of Indian real estate company M3M Group, which is based in Dharamshala, CNN reported.

The network has reached out to the foundation for comment.

The Delhi-based child rights group Haq: Center for Child Rights told CNN that it condemns “all form of child abuse,” adding that “some news refers to Tibetan culture about showing tongue, but this video is certainly not about any cultural expression and even if it is, such cultural expressions are not acceptable.”

The octogenarian, who fled to India in 1959 after a failed uprising against Chinese rule in Tibet, is regarded by Beijing as a dangerous separatist.

He has worked for decades to draw global support for linguistic and cultural autonomy in his homeland while living in Dharamshala.

The Dalai Lama has sparked controversy before, including during a 2019 interview with the BBC in which he said that if a female Dalai Lama should succeed him, she “should be more attractive.” He later apologized for the comment.

The year before, he suggested that Europe should be reserved for Europeans while discussing the rising level of African refugees entering the continent.

“The whole Europe (will) eventually become Muslim country? Impossible. Or African country? Also impossible,” he said, CNN reported, adding that it’s better to “keep Europe for Europeans.”

PROCTER & GAMBLE AND GLAAD STUDY: EXPOSURE TO LGBTQ REPRESENTATION IN MEDIA AND ADVERTISING LEADS TO GREATER ACCEPTANCE OF THE LGBTQ COMMUNITY

May 27, 2020

Findings from the "LGBTQ Inclusion in Advertising and Media" study by GLAAD and P&G reveal that non-LGBTQ consumers look favorably on companies that include LGBTQ people in advertising.

The study also finds exposure to LGBTQ people in the media increases non-LGBTQ consumers' comfortability with LGBTQ people in their daily lives.

P&G will release a new film on the impact of LGBTQ-inclusive advertising, as well as best practices to ensure fair and accurate representation of the LGBTQ community in advertising with GLAAD and the Association of National Advertisers.

New York, NY - Wednesday, May 27, 2020 - GLAAD, the world's largest lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer (LGBTQ) media advocacy organization, today announced findings of the "LGBTQ Inclusion in Advertising and Media" study, conducted in partnership with Procter & Gamble (P&G), the world's largest advertiser. GLAAD and P&G's study details how non-LGBTQ Americans respond to TV, films, and ads featuring LGBTQ representation. Results demonstrate high comfortability around viewing LGBTQ images in the media, favorability towards brands with LGBTQ-inclusive advertising, and that inclusive media images lead to greater acceptance and understanding.

Looks like they may be relying on "outside sources" for their research and polling. Here is one example from 2020 where a queer advocacy group was employed.

Wtf @DJT

I am pleased to report that after a search, we were able to find the gold (paint!) Driver given to me by my friend & former Prime Minister of Japan, Shinzo Abe. It was in a locker, with other clubs, at Trump International Golf Club in Palm Beach County, Florida. It has never been used. Based on the fact that this club was given to me before entering office, I am told that there are no reporting requirements, but I am nevertheless forwarding it to NARA. My company buys thousands of clubs a year!

 Subject: WSJ / Hunter Biden

Dear Kate,

I'm a correspondent for The Wall Street Journal, based in our bureau in Moscow. I'm working on a story about Hunter Biden's involvement with the Ukrainian gas firm Burisma and former Ukrainian ecology minister Mykola Zlochevsky (Burisma's owner).

As you may know, Mr. Zlochevsky is under scrutiny in the U.K. in a money laundering probe and in Ukraine in a number of investigations, including those examining allegations of illegal enrichment and abuse of power.

Here's the main question I was hoping you could answer for the story: The Vice President has served as the chief person to deliver U.S. calls for Ukraine to root out corruption. Do you believe Hunter's involvement with Mr. Zlochevsky – who for many Ukrainians has come to symbolize the sort of behavior the Vice President is demanding the country put to an end – undermines the U.S. message?

It would be very happy to hear your response on this, or anything else the Vice President's office may have to add on Hunter's involvement with Burisma and Mr. Zlochevsky. Also happy to chat if you'd like. Thanks very much.

All the best,
 Paul

RFK Jr.'s 'disgusted' family unlikely to support his bid for president

By Isabel Vincent

With his just-declared bid for the US presidency, Robert F. Kennedy Jr. sees himself at the forefront of “a new revolution to resurrect American democracy” — but the anti-vaccination crusader will likely have his work cut out for him in convincing Democrats and even members of his own family to vote for him in 2024.

“Most of the Kennedys are disgusted with his attitude,” said Kennedy family biographer Laurence Leamer, referring to Robert’s recent anti-vaccination activism. “They still care about him, but he’s an embarrassment.”

Robert, 69, filed paperwork to run for president with the Federal Election Commission last week. He plans to formally announce his bid to take on President Joe Biden in a Democratic primary at a hotel in Boston on April 19, according to his Team Kennedy campaign. (Biden told the “Today” show Monday that “I plan on running” in 2024.)

The environmental lawyer and author has earned the disapproval of many of his Kennedy relatives for his controversial views on vaccines and his attacks on former White House medical chief Anthony Fauci, as well as his embrace of his father’s convicted assassin, Sirhan Sirhan

Robert has said Sirhan did not actually participate in the murder of Robert Kennedy Sr. during a Los Angeles presidential campaign stop in 1968.

Robert’s uncle, John F. Kennedy, was also assassinated in Dallas in 1963. “After more than 50 years in prison, the state’s own psychiatrists and the parole board deem that Sirhan poses no threat to society,” Robert wrote in a 2021 opinion piece for the San Francisco Chronicle, urging California governor Gavin Newsom to grant Sirhan, 79, parole Leamer told The Post Thursday that the rapprochement with Sirhan particularly grated on his relatives, including six of his siblings and his 94-year-old mother, Ethel Kennedy, who said in 2021 that she does not want the convicted killer released from prison.

In a 2019 opinion column for Politico, Robert’s siblings Kathleen Kennedy Townsend and Joseph P. Kennedy II, along with his niece Maeve Kennedy McKean, denounced his crusade against vaccinations.

Robert, the bestselling author of “The Real Anthony Fauci: Bill Gates, Big Pharma, and the Global War on Democracy and Public Health,” is the chair and chief legal counsel of the Georgia-based Children’s Health Defense, a non-profit that campaigns against vaccines for children.

“Robert F. Kennedy Jr. — Joe and Kathleen’s brother and Maeve’s uncle — is part of this campaign to attack the institutions committed to reducing the tragedy of preventable infectious diseases,” they wrote. “He has helped to spread dangerous misinformation over social media and is complicit in sowing distrust of the science behind vaccines.”

Even actress Cheryl Hines, Robert’s third wife, has distanced herself from his vaccine extremism after he invoked Nazi Germany in a speech against vaccines at the Lincoln Memorial last year. In it, he implied that those who oppose vaccines are being persecuted more severely than Anne Frank, the German teen who hid from the Nazis in Amsterdam before being sent to her death at Auschwitz.

“My husband’s reference to Anne Frank at a mandate rally in DC was reprehensible and insensitive,” Hines tweeted. “The atrocities that millions endured during the Holocaust should never be compared to anyone or anything. His opinions are not a reflection of my own.” Robert later apologized for the reference. However, Hines does apparently support his presidential run.

“I’m thinking about it, and I’ve passed the biggest hurdle, which is my wife has green-lighted it,” Robert said during a speech in New Hampshire last month, when he first spoke of running for the top office. Actress Cheryl Hines, who stars in “Curb Your Enthusiasm,” is RFK Jr.’s third wife — and has publicly lashed out at him over his vaccine extremism.

Kennedy has also been enmeshed in other scandals that are likely to resurface during his presidential run. In 2013, The Post revealed that he kept a “sex diary” in which he chronicled his affairs with numerous women while married to second wife, Mary Richardson Kennedy, who committed suicide in 2012. But with Robert’s presidential bid and anti-vaccination advocacy, Leamer said that “he’s found a new life for himself” — even if it’s separate from his famously liberal family.

“American Resurrection,” Robert’s Substack website, is devoted to advancing “my lifelong battle against the corrupt merger between state and corporate power that has subverted America’s once exemplary democracy,” he writes.

“Do the Democrats really want Robert F. Kennedy Jr. in this race?” said Leamer. “The whole thing is just troubling for Democrats.”

OK so now the creep-shills agency idiots are doing their 'redheads are fish are women are less and treat them as objects' psyop.

Do they have to pay royalties to all of these models in these photos, who probably have no idea that their visages are being maltreated by agency associates and cringe shill botic psyops?

would it be nice if every woman who shows up in these images has to get royalties?

maybe that's why they spam all the disreputable democrat faces: because they are paying them royalties to use their smug faces in these so-called memes.

did you know that a certain dictator of 1930s German speaking nation used to get royalties for the postage stamps that showed his freakish face on them?

Kentucky Gov Andy Beshear lost two ‘close friends’ in Louisville shooting, as witnesses describe carnage

By Emily Crane April 10, 2023 12:52pm

An emotional Kentucky Gov. Andy Beshear has revealed two of his “close friends” were among the four victims gunned down in Monday’s Louisville bank shooting.

The Democratic Gov. said another friend was also among the eight injured when a lone gunman stormed into the Old National Bank in the city’s downtown area and opened fire at around 8.30 a.m.

“This is awful. I have a very close friend that didn’t make it today. And I have another close friend who didn’t either,” a tearful Beshear said at a press conference.

“And another who’s at the hospital who I hope is going to make it through.”

Police haven’t yet released the identities of the slain or injured victims.

Louisville Metro Police Department Deputy Chief Paul Humphrey said two of the injured were cops who were hurt when officers engaged in a shootout with the gunman just moments after arriving on the scene.

One of those officers was in a critical condition and undergoing surgery at the University of Louisville Hospital as of Monday morning, Humphrey said.

Beshear heaped praise on the responding officers in the wake of the shooting.

“I want to thank them, and all of our other law enforcement officers, for responding and doing their best to try and save some of my friends and many others,” Beshear said.

The gunman, who also hasn’t been publicly identified, was killed in the ordeal.

“We believe this is a lone gunman involved in this that did have a connection to the bank,” Humphrey said. “We’re trying to establish what that connection was to the business, but it appears he was a previous employee.”

In the aftermath of the tragedy, survivors recalled seeing the gunman firing off several shots with a “long assault rifle” on the first floor of the bank’s building.

“He just started firing,” one witness told WHAS11. “I didn’t see his face. We were in the conference room. Whoever was next to me got shot, their blood’s on me.”

Another witness said he ran for his life as soon as the gunfire erupted.

“We have a break room. I got in there, shut the door for a second, and then I was looking around opening the door to see where he was at, and I could see him still shooting,” the man told WHAS-TV.

Manufacturing Consent: The Political Economy of the Mass Media is a 1988 book by Edward S. Herman and Noam Chomsky. It argues that the mass communication media of the U.S. "are effective and powerful ideological institutions that carry out a system-supportive propaganda function, by reliance on market forces, internalized assumptions, and self-censorship, and without overt coercion", by means of the propaganda model of communication.[1] The title refers to consent of the governed, and derives from the phrase "the manufacture of consent" used by Walter Lippmann in Public Opinion (1922).[2] The book was honored with the Orwell Award.

A 2002 revision takes account of developments such as the fall of the Soviet Union. A 2009 interview with the authors notes the effects of the internet on the propaganda model.

III Ilah (黒の神イル・イラー Iru Irā, literally meaning "Black God") or Ilah, is the "god" who created Alma Torran and later destroyed it. It is believed by Solomon that Ilah is a lump of power without will, which is responsible for all of the creation and phenomena of the world. Ilah is worshiped by Al-Thamen, who wish to summon it to the current world. Currently, they are merged with Solomon's father, David. Sinbad is their reincarnation in the current world.

Donald Trump receives $3,755 driver from Japan's Prime Minister

By E. Michael Johnson November 20, 2016

SHORT STORY

When President-elect Donald Trump and Japan Prime Minister Shinzo Abe met the other day, the pair—as is custom—exchanged gifts and instantly found some common ground: golf.

Although some media reports offer conflicting information on what Trump gave to Abe (some said a golf shirt, others reported clubs), GolfDigest.com has learned that Trump received a driver from the Prime Minister. The club is a Honma Beres S-05 with 9.5 degrees of loft with a 5S Armqr Infinity stiff shaft. The company's website describes the club as being for players seeking a higher trajectory and slice correction.

Interestingly, Abe might have gotten the golf-gift idea from his grandfather, former Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi, who in 1957 played a round of golf with then President Dwight Eisenhower.

The driver, which sells for $3,755, comes in either a black- or gold-colored head. Fittingly, given Mr. Trump's penchant for adorning rooms in gilded gold, the Prime Minister opted for the latter.

I thought 13 minutes was way too long for the last shooter situation in Nashville though. I mean, she was in the Green Hills area of Nashville where it's very monied so I would think cops would be right there.

Police: 4 killed in shooting at downtown Louisville building

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A shooting at a bank in downtown Louisville killed at least four people and wounded at least eight others Monday, police said. The suspected shooter was also dead.

The shooting, the 15th mass killing in the country this year, comes just two weeks after a former student killed three children and three adults at a Christian elementary school in Nashville, about 160 mile (260 kilometers) to the south.

Police arrived as gunshots were still being fired inside the Old National Bank and exchanged fire with the shooter, Louisville Metro Police Department Deputy Chief Paul Humphrey said at a news conference. It wasn't clear whether the shooter killed himself or was shot by officers.

“We believe this is a lone gunman involved in this that did have a connection to the bank. We’re trying to establish what that connection was to the business, but it appears he was a previous employee,” Humphrey said.

Humphrey said that at least eight people were being treated at a hospital for wounds, including two police officers, one of whom was in critical condition.

>LLL Lawrence Livermore Laboratory is World War-related...

Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory (LLNL) is a federally funded research and development center in Livermore, California, United States. Originally established in 1952, the laboratory now is sponsored by the United States Department of Energy and administrated by Lawrence Livermore National Security, LLC.[1]

The lab was originally established as the University of California Radiation Laboratory, Livermore Branch in 1952 in response to the detonation of the first atomic bomb by the Soviet Union during the Cold War.[2] It later became autonomous in 1971 and was designated a national laboratory in 1981.[3]

A federally funded research and development center, Lawrence Livermore Lab is primarily funded by the U.S. Department of Energy and it is managed privately and operated by Lawrence Livermore National Security, LLC (a partnership of the University of California), Bechtel, BWX Technologies, AECOM, and Battelle Memorial Institute in affiliation with the Texas A&M University System.[4] In 2012, the laboratory had the synthetic chemical element livermorium (element 116) named after it.[5]

If you follow wildlife management, a fisheries, that kind of image is familiar.

And, of course, the people are always very in shape, well tanned. They show the picture to document their catch, which is done usually as part of a competition. It's a catch and release thing.

But out of respect for those hard working people, spamming it here seems . . . seedy.

What the fentanyl crisis looks like from a Washington state hospital

The fentanyl crisis is not just a drug addiction issue—it's a multi-pronged public health crisis that stops at no lines or victims.

As Washington state faces an ongoing fentanyl overdose crisis, state lawmakers have proposed many fixes to the problem, from making simple possession a felony again to cracking down on pill production machines.

But what does the crisis look like at the local level, out of the halls of Olympia?

To get a measure of this, The Center Square interviewed by email Dr. Raul Garcia. He is the medical director of Astria Toppenish Hospital in Toppenish, Washington as well as the executive director of the nonprofit Opportunity for Washington, a group that weighs in on drug addiction and homelessness, among other issues.

TCS: From the perspective of an emergency physician in Washington state, how bad is the fentanyl problem?

Garcia: Throughout my 25 years serving as an emergency physician, 16 in Central Washington, I have never seen a crisis develop and then multiply as drastically as fentanyl overdoses have. According to the Centers for Disease Control, 107,375 people in the United States died of drug overdoses and drug poisonings in the 12-month period ending in January 2022 with 67 percent of those deaths involving synthetic opioids like fentanyl. Here in Washington State, overdose deaths involving synthetic opioids, mostly fentanyl, have increased 10-fold just over the past year—and I've seen it firsthand.

It says 'Galentines' at the top of his post. Anon has seen many gay guys post their 'Galentines' pics on Valentines Day. Maybe that's one of those things they won't tell in the news. If he had a girlfriend or wife, there wouldn't be those 'Galentines' posted.

did you pay the model in that photo to use his image?

I doubt it.

it's disrespectful to take images of people which they share for purposes of being on the job or for their social reasons, steal them, and post them for the titilation of strangers on some random board.

how is that gate keeping?

I'm not deleting them.

I'm merely commenting on the practice of people who spam.

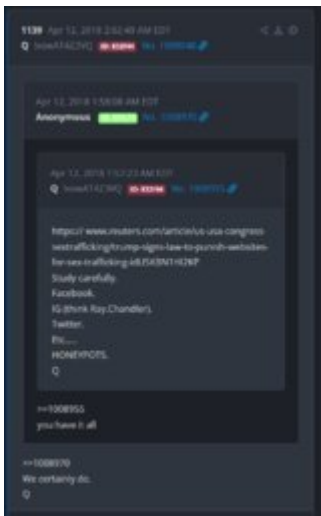

by spamming them that's a comment about the image.

so if you can comment about it, so can I.

(U) KEY TERMS
Term	Description
Attaching 10th, giving 10, Supreme 10thman	A reference to 10th attackers Black Redger and Alex Mission. "Giving 10" often is used to state an intent to emulate Redger by committing a mass attack. Redger described himself as a "Supreme 10thman."
Assession	A term used to describe an individual having a goal status by giving sexual or romantic attention.
-cal	A suffix which is added to words to describe specific types of traits. Examples include: 10thcal (10th who is bold), 10thcal (10th who is short), 10thcal (10th who combines age), 10thcal (10th who supports use of prohibition to gain sexual attention).
Chad (Chadman, Chad, Chadman)	A specific term used to describe idealized version of a male, who is very successful at gaining sexual and romantic attention from women. 10ths often readily compare against Chads for attention.
Female 10th, Female	Terms used to differentiate females.
Just 10th (J10th)	A phrase used to describe the targeting of 10th for sexual attention in order to be their first sexual experience, before their perceived corruption by society, and is "justified" by some as the only choice 10th has to escape from 10th status.
It's Over	A comment which describes the hopelessness of being an 10th. The typical response to this comment is "It never begins."
10th	Acronym for "10th Down 10th Red," which is perceived as the only option for 10ths to cope with their 10th status.
10thman	A term used to describe the matching of the attractiveness level of both romantic partners, which 10ths use as a solution to the perceived problem of attraction over having no potential partners.
10thman	The process of self-improvement with the intent to become more attractive.
10thman	Acronym for "10th Going 10th Chad 10th," which refers to an online community that has overlap with the 10th community.
10th	Acronym for "10th in Education, Employment, or Training," which signifies that a person is truly hopeless. Not used exclusively by 10th.
Female 10th, Female	Female terms used to describe "female 10th." Not used exclusively by 10th.
Red 10th, Black 10th	Red 10th refers to a belief shared by many online communities that 10ths are corrupt, and that the belief is a victim of the corruption. Black 10th, which is specific to 10th, refers to a belief that this corruption can only be changed through massive societal restructuring, often including violence.
10th	A reference to committing suicide by hanging.
10th	Idealized version of a female, who is very successful at gaining sexual and romantic attention from men. Chooses Chad over 10th.

Report: FBI Is Now Flagging Online Terms “Red Pill”, “Based”, and “Chad” as Extremist Terms

The FBI on Monday released new documents that reveal common words used on the internet are being flagged by FBI agents as extremism.

The new documents were released by the FBI after the Heritage Foundation’s Oversight Project filed a FOIA request.

The documents are titled “Involuntary Celibate Violent Extremism” and in them, they contained a glossary of several words that the FBI claimed were used by “incel” extremists.

The terms “red pill”, “Chad”, and “based” were all considered to be extremist rhetoric.

‘Squad’ member Jamaal Bowman hit with ethics complaint over TikTok use

By Josh Christenson April 10, 2023 12:58pm

Far-left Bronx and Westchester Rep. Jamaal Bowman has flouted House ethics rules by making political statements on his congressional TikTok account and using official resources to make posts on his campaign TikTok account, according to a complaint filed Monday by a government watchdog.

The Foundation for Accountability and Civic Trust argued in a letter to the Office of Congressional Ethics that Bowman had crossed a line by recording TikTok videos from inside the US Capitol building and in his congressional office.

Bowman, 47, also shared a message calling for the impeachment of Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas from his official account — another alleged ethics violation. The accounts — @jamaalbowmanny and @repbowman — identify Bowman as the representative for New York's 16th Congressional District, with the latter account racking up more than 200,000 followers.

“The laws and ethics rules prohibiting Members from using official resources for political purposes are clear and longstanding,” FACT Executive Director Kendra Arnold said in a statement. “Not only do these ethics rules protect taxpayer funds, but they also protect the integrity of the government and maintain citizens’ trust.

“Anytime a Member does not comply with these laws it is troubling and should concern citizens. The OCE must move swiftly to investigate and enforce these bright-line standards and apply the requisite penalty.”

Bowman's office did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

Federal law requires House members to strictly separate campaign and official activities and bars campaigning with the use of official resources — such as government buildings, websites and social media profiles.

The Foundation for Accountability and Civic Trust said Bowman recorded TikTok videos from inside the US Capitol building. TikTok/@repbowman Federal law requires House lawmakers to strictly separate campaign and official acts. TikTok/@repbowman

“The laws at issue in this case protect taxpayer-funded resources from abuse and theft and strict enforcement addresses the public's concerns that incumbents wrongfully use government funds to run for re-election,” FACT complained to chief House ethics counsel Omar Ashmawy.

In her group's letter to OCE, Arnold also noted Bowman maintains a TikTok account despite US government concerns that the Chinese-owned social media company could be harvesting more than 100 million American users' data. The FBI and FCC have warned that Beijing-based ByteDance Ltd, which owns TikTok, could share US users' biometric information, browsing history and location with the Chinese government.

The congressman has also recorded videos apparently from his congressional office. TikTok/@repbowman Bowman maintains the TikTok account despite US national security concerns. TikTok/@repbowman

The White House and House of Representatives have since demanded TikTok be removed from all official government devices over espionage concerns. Arnold in her letter suggested that ethics investigators check whether Bowman has installed TikTok on any of his government devices.

More than 30 members of Congress — almost all of whom are Democrats — have TikTok accounts. Some Democratic lawmakers like Bowman have also pushed back against federal bans of TikTok, along with many younger US adults. Just 39% of Americans between the ages of 18 and 29 support such bans, according to a March CBS News/YouGov poll.

“Republicans ain't got no swag,” Bowman said during a press conference last month outside the Capitol. “That's why they want to ban TikTok. And I mention that in the context of engaging young people in the democratic process.” He also referred to federal efforts to ban the app as “racist towards China.”

Bowman is the third House Democrat to be hit with an ethics complaint over the use of TikTok, along with fellow “Squad” Rep. Ilhan Omar (D-Minn.) and Rep. Wiley Nickel (D-NC).

(This is the asshole that was yelling and screaming in the house about guns and arguing with Thomas Massie! These people are so corrupt it's not funny.)

Trump signs law to punish websites for sex trafficking

By Reuters Staff

3 MIN READ

WASHINGTON (Reuters) - U.S. President Donald Trump on Wednesday signed legislation aimed at penalizing website operators that facilitate online sex trafficking and chipping away at a legal protection for the technology industry.

The law is intended to make it easier for state prosecutors and sex-trafficking victims to sue social media networks, advertisers and others that kept exploitative material on their platforms, although victims would be required to show websites knowingly facilitated sex trafficking.

The signing occurred as Washington sharpens its scrutiny on technology companies, which have largely evaded regulation, for their use of privacy protections and consumer data. Mark Zuckerberg, the chief executive of Facebook Inc, has been testifying before lawmakers this week.

Silicon Valley has long opposed efforts to rewrite the Communications Decency Act, which protects companies from liability for content posted by their users and has been credited with fueling the sector's growth for 20 years.

However, Facebook and other technology companies and lobbying groups mostly withdrew opposition to the legislation in recent months after negotiating changes that limited the bill's potential impact.

Some technology companies fear the bill could signal more efforts to tighten regulation on the industry.

Law enforcement has lobbied for such legislation for years, and the bill had drawn support from Ivanka Trump, the president's daughter and a White House adviser.

"This is a momentous day in the fight to help stop online sex trafficking, and a big victory for trafficking victims and survivors who for too long have been denied the opportunity to get the justice they deserve," said Republican U.S. Senator Rob Portman, a co-sponsor of the Senate version of the bill.

On Monday, an indictment against Backpage.com, the internet's second-largest classified ads website, which is used for sex trafficking, was unsealed.

Trump, who had been expected to sign the bill, did not respond to reporters' questions when he signed it.

NEW YORK (AP) — Hilary Swank has given birth to twins — a boy and a girl.

The 48-year-old “Million Dollar Baby” actor posted a photo of her and her twins looking at the sunset on Instagram Sunday evening with the caption: “It wasn’t easy. But boy (and girl!) was it worth it.”

She added on Instagram that she’s “posting from pure heaven.” She and entrepreneur Philip Schneider have been married since 2018.

Over the course of her pregnancy, Swank had been filming her new ABC show “Alaska Daily.” She shared in an interview in October that when her pants didn’t fit during filming, she cut them open and put a jacket on to hide her bump.

“You don’t tell for 12 weeks for a certain reason. But then, like, you’re growing and you’re using the bathroom a lot and you’re eating a lot. I’m sure there’s been conversations, and when I get back to the set, people will be like, ‘Oh, it all makes sense now,’ the two-time Oscar winner said.

At January’s Golden Globes, Swank joked on the red carpet that she had “three months to go and I walked into a store the other day and this woman goes, ‘Honey, you better start jumping up and down to get that baby out.’ And this other woman like she’s like, ‘Oh, my God, three more months.’”

Ahead of the birth, She lightheartedly shared with her Instagram followers that she was contemplating putting Salt-N-Pepa’s “Push It” on her delivery playlist.

Biden says he plans on running for reelection but is 'not prepared to announce it yet'(the idiot is trying to scare the country to death)

Biden, 80, has said in private conversations that he is "definitely running."

Updated: April 10, 2023 - 12:51pm

President Joe Biden said Monday he intends on running for reelection in 2024 but he is not ready to make a formal announcement about his plans.

"I plan on running, Al, but we're not prepared to announce it yet," Biden told NBC-TV "Today" show co-host Al Roker.

Biden, 80, has said in private conversations that he is "definitely running," but he does not plan on launching his campaign until this summer, according to CNN.

The president may face difficulties being reelected, however.

A CNN poll last week found less than one-third of respondents said the Democrat president deserved to be reelected.

Biden may not even have the support of his own party. Minnesota Democrat Rep. Dean Phillips recently said that "literally hundreds" of fellow Democratic members of Congress are weary about Biden being their 2024 presidential nominee. (A 100 millions of conservatives are not just weary, it's a Hell NO!)

Currently, the only Democrats to have officially announced their 2024 presidential campaigns are Robert F. Kennedy, Jr. and Marianne Williamson.

NARA, Japan -- A flower bed was completed Friday close to the site where former Prime Minister Shinzo Abe was shot dead in Nara City last year that, although part of a previously planned project, will now serve as a de facto memorial to the late politician.

The Nara city government had been redeveloping the area around the north side of Kintetsu Railway Co.'s Yamato-Saidaiji Station prior to the shooting, and placing flower beds on sidewalks along the road were part of the project.

Flower bed built near site of Abe's shooting

NARA, Japan— A flower bed was completed Friday close to the site where former Prime Minister Shinzo Abe was shot dead in Nara City last year that, although part of a previously planned project, will now serve as a de facto memorial to the late politician.

The Nara city government had been redeveloping the area around the north side of Kintetsu Railway Co.'s Yamato-Saidaiji Station prior to the shooting, and placing flower beds on sidewalks along the road were part of the project.

The actual site of the shooting has become a road as planned and was opened for traffic from Saturday.

Abe was shot on July 8 last year while delivering a campaign speech in support of a Liberal Democratic Party candidate for the House of Councillors on a section in the middle of the street surrounded by guardrails. ...
