In processing the cross-references, the pages considered for possible release included only those pages which mention the subject of your request and any additional pages showing the context in which the subject of your request was mentioned. FBI FOIPA Addendum

As referenced in our letter responding to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request, the FBI FOIPA Addendum provides information applicable to your request. Part 1 of the Addendum includes standard responses that apply to all requests. Part 2 includes standard responses that apply to requests for records about individuals to the extent your request seeks the listed information. Part 3 includes general information about FBI records, searches, and programs.

Part 1: The standard responses below apply to all requests:

- (i) 5 U.S.C. § 552(c). Congress excluded three categories of law enforcement and national security records from the requirements of the FOIPA [5 U.S.C. § 552(c)]. FBI responses are limited to those records subject to the requirements of the FOIPA. Additional information about the FBI and the FOIPA can be found on the www.fbi.gov/foia website.
- (ii) Intelligence Records. To the extent your request seeks records of intelligence sources, methods, or activities, the FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and as applicable to requests for records about individuals, PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(1), (b)(3), and (j)(2)]. The mere acknowledgment of the existence or nonexistence of such records is itself a classified fact protected by FOIA exemption (b)(1) and/or would reveal intelligence sources, methods, or activities protected by exemption (b)(3) [50 USC § 3024(i)(1)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that any such records do or do not exist.

Part 2: The standard responses below apply to all requests for records on individuals:

- (i) Requests for Records about any Individual—Watch Lists. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of any individual's name on a watch list pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(7)(E) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that watch list records do or do not exist.
- (ii) Requests for Records about any Individual—Witness Security Program Records. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could identify any participant in the Witness Security Program pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(3), 18 U.S.C. 3521, and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.
- (iii) Requests for Records for Incarcerated Individuals. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of any incarcerated individual pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.

Part 3: General Information:

- (i) Record Searches. The Record/Information Dissemination Section (RIDS) searches for reasonably described records by searching systems or locations where responsive records would reasonably be found. A standard search normally consists of a search for main files in the Central Records System (CRS), an extensive system of records consisting of applicant, investigative, intelligence, personnel, administrative, and general files compiled by the FBI per its law enforcement, intelligence, and administrative functions. The CRS spans the entire FBI organization, comprising records of FBI Headquarters, FBI Field Offices, and FBI Legal Attaché Offices (Legats) worldwide; Electronic Surveillance (ELSUR) records are included in the CRS. Unless specifically requested, a standard search does not include references, administrative records of previous FOIPA requests, or civil litigation files. For additional information about our record searches, visit www.fbi.gov/services/information-management/foipa/requesting-fbi-records.
- (ii) FBI Records. Founded in 1908, the FBI carries out a dual law enforcement and national security mission. As part of this dual mission, the FBI creates and maintains records on various subjects; however, the FBI does not maintain records on every person, subject, or entity.
- (iii) Requests for Criminal History Records or Rap Sheets. The Criminal Justice Information Services (CJIS) Division provides Identity History Summary Checks – often referred to as a criminal history record or rap sheet. These criminal history records are not the same as material in an investigative “FBI file.” An Identity History Summary Check is a listing of information taken from fingerprint cards and documents submitted to the FBI in connection with arrests, federal employment, naturalization, or military service. For a fee, individuals can request a copy of their Identity History Summary Check. Forms and directions can be accessed at www.fbi.gov/about-us/cjis/identity-history-summary-checks. Additionally, requests can be submitted electronically at www.edo.cjis.gov. For additional information, please contact CJIS directly at (304) 625-5590.
- (iv) National Name Check Program (NNCP). The mission of NNCP is to analyze and report information in response to name check requests received from federal agencies, for the purpose of protecting the United States from foreign and domestic threats to national security. Please be advised that this is a service provided to other federal agencies. Private Citizens cannot request a name check.

I hope you are well. I heard from the front office that you are covering for ASAC [redacted] this week. Various news outlets are reporting today that Julian Assange suggested during a recent overseas interview that DNC Staffer, Seth Rich was a Wikileaks source, and may have been killed because he leaked the DNC e-mails to his organization, and that Wikileaks was offering $20,000 for information regarding Rich's death last month. Based on this news, we anticipate additional press coverage on this matter. I hear that you are in a class today; however, when you have a moment, can you please give me a call to discuss what involvement the Bureau has in the investigation.

Thanks,

Paul J. Manafort, date of birth [Redacted] was interviewed at the Special Counsel's Office, located at 395 E Street SE, Washington, D.

C. Participating in the interview were Special Agent (SA) [Redacted] SA [Redacted] Senior Assistant Special Counsel (SASC) Jeannie S. Rhee, SASC Andrew Weissman, and Assistant Special Counsel Aaron Zelinsky. Manafort was accompanied by his attorneys, Richard Westling, Thomas Zehnle, and [Redacted] After being advised of the identity of the interviewing agents and the nature of the interview, Manafort provided the following information:

Roger Stone was informally involved in the Donald J. Trump presidential campaign in April or May of 2016. Stone had been involved in the campaign in the beginning, while Manafort was not, so Manafort used Stone for institutional memory and knowledge of the campaign. Stone used Manafort for informal access back into the campaign.

Stone recommended that Manafort bring on Michael Caputo, which Manafort did. Caputo initially came on to help with the April primary in New York, and then Manafort brought him on full time after that. Caputo had worked with Stone in the past and Manafort had met him years prior. Stone also recommended [Redacted]

Manafort said Stone gave him information about Corey Lewandowski and Hope Hicks, two members of the campaign that Manafort did not know well. Stone hated Lewandowski, who undercut Manafort in the campaign. Stone thought he was helping Manafort by undercutting Lewandowski in the press, but it did not actually help Manafort much.

Manafort explained that "the Count of Monte Cristo" was a nickname given to him during the Dole campaign period. [Redacted] made that nickname up for Manafort because of the way Manafort wore his overcoat over his shoulders like a cape.

Stone was an effective advocate from outside of the campaign. He was effective with both the mainstream and the alt-right media. Stone could also do things from outside the campaign that the campaign may not want to tape was coming out in advance. Manafort did not ask Stone about his connection to WikiLeaks or ask where the information came from; Manafort did not need to know who Stone spoke to.

Stone's statement of denial on October 11, 2016 that he had advance knowledge of the leak of the Podesta emails was "inconsistent with what he told" Manafort. Manafort believed Stone knew in advance Podesta's emails were coming out.

Manafort and Stone did not have a conversation in which Stone said Manafort should not tell anyone what he knew about the timing of the Podesta emails. They did not talk about Stone running away from what Stone had told Manafort.

In approximately the last six months, Manafort and Stone have had conversations in which Stone told Manafort he was being targeted by the Special Counsel's Office and that the investigation was costing him a lot of money. Stone said the Special Counsel's Office was accusing him of effectively controlling the timing of the leaked Podesta emails. Manafort thought it was some time in May or June 2018 that Stone told him the Special Counsel's Office thought he had a role in the Podesta emails. Stone did not expressly remind or tell Manafort what he (Stone) knew about the emails. They did not discuss the fact that Stone did actually have advance knowledge of the Podesta emails.

Stone said to Manafort that he was not the decision maker or the controller of the information. Stone said he may have had advance knowledge, but he was not the decision maker. Stone was making clear to Manafort that he did not control the emails or make decisions about them. Stone said he received information about the Podesta emails but was a conduit, not someone in a position to get them released. Manafort was confused as to the various people and hacks. Manafort asked Stone to go through the narrative of Assange, Guccifer, the DNC hack, and Seth Rich so that Manafort could understand it.

Stone knew Manafort knew that Stone's public statements were false, but Stone "confused" Manafort.

Stone did not advise Manafort to punch back or discredit the Special Counsel's Office. Stone did not raise any desire to respond to the Special Counsel's Office investigation by planting media stories.

Manafort was not aware of any attempts on Stone's part to contact Manafort after Manafort was incarcerated.

(U) ~~(S//NF)~~ On June 15, 2016, an article written by "Guccifer2" was posted to his personal WordPress blog. In the article, Guccifer2 implies he hacked the Democratic National Committee (DNC) servers and refutes an earlier announcement by CrowdStrike, a U.S. based cyber security company, that the DNC hack was perpetrated by two sophisticated hacker groups. In July 2016, Guccifer2 posted documents attributed to the DNC hack on his personal blog. On July 22, 2016, Wikileaks published more than 19,000 DNC emails with more than 8,000 attachments. Guccifer2 claimed responsibility for sharing the information with Wikileaks through his two Twitter accounts. On August 31, 2016, Guccifer2 released documents on his personal blog purported to be from the computer of Representative Nancy Pelosi.

Jerome Robert Corsi, date of birth (DOB) [Redacted] social security account number [Redacted] was interviewed at the Special Counsel's Office, 395 E Street SW, Washington, DC in the presence of his attorney, [Redacted]. Present for the interview were FBI Special Agent (SA) [Redacted] FBI SA [Redacted] FBI Intelligence Analyst (IA) [Redacted] Senior Assistant Special Counsel (SASC) Jeannie S. Rhee, SASC Andrew Goldstein, and Assistant Special Counsel (ASC) Aaron Zelinsky. Prior to the interview, Corsi signed a proffer agreement, originally signed on September 21, 2018. Corsi was advised that intentional false statements during this interview would be a violation of federal law. After being advised of the purpose of the interview and identities of the interviewing Agents, Corsi provided the following information:

Corsi had remained silent on his media platforms, for approximately two months, and since he was first approached by representatives from the Special Counsel's Office. He will eventually return to those activities because he depends on them for income.

Corsi spent the evening prior to this interview trying to reconstruct events that were discussed in previous interviews. Corsi wanted to remember certain things but could not and he became frustrated as a result. Corsi had a hard time determining whether or not he was actually remembering things or if he was inventing them. Corsi forgot a lot of events given they happened over two years ago.

period. Corsi examined the senders and recipients of each email. Corsi also compiled a list of the emails which he posted online. What jumped out to Corsi was that all of the emails pertained to operatives in the Democratic National Committee (DNC). Corsi looked for emails from John Podesta and did not find any. From that, Corsi deduced that Assange's next release of information would likely pertain to Podesta. Corsi said he likely shared what he had deduced with Stone.

Corsi reviewed the Schultz drop as if he was conducting a forensic exam. He attempted to determine which computer systems the emails had originated from in an attempt to further determine what might be coming in next drop. He learned this concept from [REDACTED] Corsi explained that by conducting a similar review he was able to determine that Guccifer 2.0 had been inside a network system called NGP VAN. The Guccifer 2.0 release contained information related to donors, voting data, and opposition research. Assange had emails that looked different to Corsi so he surmised they were evidence of a hack on a different system.

b7C -3

Corsi was asked if he also looked at what was released by DCLeaks and he confirmed that he had. Corsi downloaded the DCLeaks release and put them into a file. He remembered downloading a compressed [.zip] file and going through each file one by one. Corsi remembered seeing files with the initials NGP on them. Corsi knew those to be the initials of [REDACTED]

Corsi said he believed there were two ways to hack a computer. First, having the username and password credentials for a legitimate user on a system. Second, having access to a server where the emails passed through. Corsi believed the information from the Schultz drop seemed they were obtained from a server where they had passed through. In addition to the lack of emails from Podesta, Corsi also noticed that the last email had been sent in late May 2016. Therefore, Corsi believed the emails were likely to have been stolen around that time.

Corsi advised that he knew Seth Rich had been killed at 4:30 AM on July 10, 2016. The circumstances surrounding Rich's death were suspicious to Corsi. Specifically, he wanted to know where Rich's laptop went. Corsi then explained there had been speculation as to whether or not Rich had actually stolen the emails from the DNC, rather than them having been hacked.

Corsi's source, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Her ex-husband told Corsi she is crazy, but Corsi continues to rely on her for information because her reporting is good. Corsi provided an example of how [REDACTED] had tracked down [REDACTED] [REDACTED] who was involved in setting up a private server for Clinton.

Corsi explained that by forwarding Stone's email request to Malloch he was merely complying with what Stone wanted him to do. Corsi did not expect Malloch to actually do anything with the request which was why he only wrote something to the effect of, "Ted, from Roger," and included no additional instructions for Malloch. Corsi generally had much more detailed discussions with Malloch and provided two examples; when he tried to get Malloch a job on the Trump campaign and when he introduced Malloch to Sam Clovis. Corsi did not actually think Malloch would do anything to reach Assange.

When asked if he ever remembered having a FaceTime conversation with Malloch about what Assange had planned to do, Corsi said he only remembered having such a discussion with [REDACTED] Corsi believed that discussion occurred sometime before he left for Italy, possibly on July 25, 2016. Corsi has known [REDACTED] since approximately 2004. [REDACTED] also thought Rich stole the emails from the DNC and believed the British and John Brennan were behind the Fusion GPS dossier. [REDACTED] also believed the upcoming Wikileaks information would pertain to Podesta. [REDACTED] told Corsi he believed Assange was smart and strategic, and that if Assange didn't drop all of the emails at once then there would be a second drop sometime in October.

08/02/2016 EMAIL TO ROGER STONE

Corsi was shown an email [Document 4] he sent Stone on August 2, 2016. In the email he told Stone, "Word is friend in embassy plans 2 more dumps." Corsi read the email and said he had never seen it before. [Agent note: Corsi was then afforded time to review the email privately with his attorney.] Corsi read each line of the email out loud and provided an explanation for each one.

[REDACTED]

Sentence 2 - "Word is friend in embassy plans 2 more dumps. One shortly after I'm back. Impact planned to be very damaging." Corsi used the phrase "word is" in his email because he was boasting and inventing that he had a source who was providing him information. Corsi said it was the only explanation because he did not recall having anyone else. Corsi remembered Assange had publically stated that he had more information on Clinton, and Corsi speculated that it would likely come in the form of two more dumps, but that ultimately did not happen. Later in the interview, Corsi said

Corsi was asked what he was referring to when he used the phrase "friend in embassy" in his email. Corsi said he was referring to Assange but he did not want to use his name because Stone may have thought Corsi was being boastful. When asked if Corsi wrote the email to suggest that the information was coming from Malloch, Corsi stated he did not remember that being the case, nor did he remember having any discussions about Malloch with Stone at that time.

Later in the interview Corsi advised he was being deliberately oblique in his email, using "secret squirrel stuff," because he did not want the information to be decoded. Corsi admitted he was using suggestive language with Stone to portray that Corsi was a source of information for Stone.

Corsi explained that when he figured something out, sometimes out of left field, he often used the phrase "word is" to provide validity to his statements. Corsi said it seemed likely that he wanted Stone to believe he had the information from Assange. Corsi then added that he was likely relaying three things to Stone: 1) there would be more upcoming information released, 2) it pertained to Podesta, and 3) it would be released in seriatim. When asked if he shared that information with Stone upon his return, Corsi stated that he believed he had, in a follow-up phone call with Stone after Corsi had returned from Italy.

Later in the interview, Corsi said he did not remember receiving any information from Wikileaks or Assange, but he was not saying that it did not happen.

Rohrabacher confirms he offered Trump pardon to Assange for proof Russia didn't hack DNC email

Follow Michael Isikoff Chief Investigative Correspondent, Yahoo News · February 20, 2020

WASHINGTON — Former California Republican congressman Dana Rohrabacher confirmed in a new interview that during a three-hour meeting at the Ecuadorian Embassy in August 2017, he told Julian Assange he would get President Trump to give him a pardon if he turned over information proving the Russians had not been the source of internal Democratic National Committee emails published by WikiLeaks.

In a phone interview with Yahoo News, Rohrabacher said his goal during the meeting was to find proof for a widely debunked conspiracy theory: that WikiLeaks' real source for the DNC emails was not Russian intelligence agents, as U.S. officials have since concluded, but former DNC staffer Seth Rich, who was murdered on the streets of Washington in July 2016 in what police believe was a botched robbery.
