all previous lives are an infinite photonic soup easy simple to accumulate false notions based on probability of certain stories arising allowing you to fixate on em if most people have had "infinite" they just pull out whatever they think is cool or real but it was all technically real and not real desu

so the only real is your current

you were everyone

fighting immigrants is even an opportunity, no one hold you back against a wall to vaxx you you did it because of pressure. I am the only victim here. save the kids? what a fucking joke. they can turn gay if they want to, who the fuck cares as long as the child is not yours. everybody is suffering because of their own choices, I am suffering for being the best worker there ever was. its not fair.

But what can they
There are so many things that one time it was over there
But that was millions of years ago I alone remember
And I know why I took on this form
To help them, they reject me, reject me, reject me, reject me, reject me, reject me reject me This is always this is But what does to be we done

What you are referring to is labeled "N" on the Hopi Prophecy rock. It doesn't mean "Reinvigorate the resource base" as you proposed. It illustrates that there are two paths and "N" is the bridge. You either stay on the tech tree path (labeled "I") and go into the strange outlandish tech shit (which ultimately leads to destruction) or go back the the "lower" path and learn about the real spirit connection.

you're retarded and don't understand why the state needs to be abolished before any kind of non-coercive cooperation can occur, even parliamentary socialism is a hoax that drains the movement of its vigor and makes it play in the field of the oligarchs syndicalism remedies this issue by having the workers who keep the country rolling decide their own matters, none of the methods of influencing the syndicate are stripped of them and they are motivated by not only self preservation but by mutual benefits that the syndicate provides for them >people wouldn't work together they're willing to work as slaves for a wage that doesn't support them in a meager life, you think they're above putting petty differences aside to make the syndicate run properly?

>workers cannot manage themselves!

catalonia managed, as do workers unions of today despite being mere placeholders >foreign threats!

military can function independent of the governing body and they can't kill their own families unless they want to pick up a shovel and do the busy work of the workers that keep the country running themselves, nor do they have any motivation to jackboot the people without commands of some career opportunist >but military junta!

western people are too educated to fall for that and the soldiers won't fire on their own families
