This much misunderstood publication is finally properly translated, revised, and colorized for anyone to judge for themselves if its contents are truly "anti-Slavic" or even "anti-Russian," as is often claimed. While the term "Untermensch" translates to Subhuman or Underman, in this case, it doesn't only refer to a racial designation but also a cultural, psychological, and spiritual condition. Under such considerations, we would today refer to such people as "inhuman" or "savages," as this also denotes a lower inward condition regardless of race. For instance, Churchill and FDR here are referred to as "subhuman" while Slavs are presented as victims of Jewish inhuman brutality and an example of what the Jewish-led Soviet leadership had in store for the rest of Europe. They also contrast the way of life created by Aryan-led leadership as opposed to the life conditions created by Jewish-led barbaric leadership. Many should remember that two contrasting worlds were at odds here. These two distinct worlds are still at odds. We must remember that the work and intention of the subhuman are still in effect today. Their hatred for God, the self-sufficient farmer, and Indo-European Western cultural values resound almost daily in their social circles and propaganda apparatus.

So this work presented here is but a glimpse of the struggle and view of the last authentic Western spirit, and the real 'Greatest Generation'. They fought to the end against this physical destructive force in the East, and its spiritual Allies in the West so that Europe could be given a chance to survive into the next century. And so it falls upon the faithful to start unearthing their works, engendering that much needed defiant spirit today for our own inner and outer fight for freedom.

Are you blonde? Are you a Germanic idealist?
Then you should look for and read "Ostara" by Dr. Jörg Lanz von Liebenfels.
A publication for blondes and the man's rights activists!

THE SCIENCE OF THE SODOMITE APELINGS AND THE DIVINE ELECTRON

An Introduction to the most ancient and most modern philosophy and a justification of the monarchy and the nobility.

Foreword

In this world, there was, is, and will always be an eternal struggle between good and evil, human and inhuman, and truth and lies. Between those who create and maintain and those who destroy and uproot; devouring everything and emanating partly from the ignoble human condition of selfishness which only love for family, folk, and God can mitigate. Though this eternal contest transcends race, their foundational opposition to each other is based on race; it is a universal frontline inherited as part of our birth-duty. Today, science has proven the root-cause of innate inhuman qualities as partly inherited which can be cultivated or inhibited according to life experiences. Recent discoveries on the structure of the brain of those who lack empathy force us all to face the reality of primitive minds among us. While various qualities such as intelligence, delayed gratification, impulse control, etc., account for this reality, one fact has always been persistent: the barbarian, savage, inhuman, conscienceless, unempathetic, egocentric, self-aggrandizing being has historically, and up until today, been at odds with the higher creative selfless people that build and sustain civilization and keep the dark forces of barbarism at bay, protecting rights, and upholding freedom and justice.

These civilizational qualities are Western, that is, Indo-European, Germanic, or Aryan, while the opposing anti-Western force, with its inherent hatred for strong families as the foundation of a healthy and stable society, enmity for God as a higher source of morality, and derision for duties and responsibilities that transcend self-serving causes, is often found in the Jew who has been at war with this Western spirit since ancient Greece and Rome attempted to tame their region after many decades of racial chaos, stagnation and dominance of sex cults. Time and again, this Western spirit brought renewal where decay had already set in. Wherever and whenever this decaying, destructive Asiatic desert spirit can find a way to express itself chaos ensues. For centuries, the Jewish made-up religion appealed to the ego of lower man, to its sense of self-important "chosenness" feeling entitled to everything in this world as promised to them. These are psychopathic traits that today have become a standard view of life which justify dishonesty, lies, and misery for the innocent for the sake of fulfilling their goal of destroying noble Western values, ideals, and most importantly, where those noble ideas originate and take root -- targeting those who mostly showcase the decent nature of man --mainly, Western man himself. He alone stands in the way of the subhuman's desire to total physical and spiritual domination. He alone is the last shining light for the noble and decent. These destructive forces, reborn ideologically in the Masonic lodges, carry out the doctrine and worldview of the destroyer through various labels such as liberalism, Marxism, internationalism, Bolshevism, and most recently, globalism. These, however, are all the same civilization ending core tenants of the inhuman spirit, the destroyer, the anarchist, and the Jews in their eternal war against the Western God-oriented order.

"As long as there are men on the earth, the struggle between human and subhuman will be the historical rule; as far back as we can look, this Jewish-led struggle against peoples belongs to the natural course of life on our planet. One can safely be convinced that this struggle for life and death is just as much a law of nature as the struggle of a pestilent bacillus against a healthy body."

Reichsführer-SS Heinrich Himmler 1935

Just like night rises against day, just like light and shadow are eternally hostile – so is the greatest enemy of earth's dominant species, man himself.

The subhuman – that biologically seemingly same shaped creation of nature with hands, feet, a kind of brain, with eyes and mouth, is nonetheless a totally different terrible creature, and only an approximation of man, with human-like facial features – spiritually and psychologically, however, stands lower than any animal. Inside this being lies a cruel chaos of wild, uninhibited passions, a will for nameless destruction, most primitive desires, most undisguised vulgarity.

A subhuman – nothing else!

For not everything with a human face is equal. --

Woe to whomever forgets that!

What this earth possesses in great works, ideas and arts – man has conceived, created and perfected it; he contemplated and invented, for him there was only one goal: to work his way upward into a higher existence, to shape the inadequate, to replace the insufficient with something better.

In this way so developed culture.

So developed the plough, the tool, the house.

So did man become social, so developed family, so developed folk, so developed state. So did man become good and great. So did he rise far above all living beings.

So did he become second to God!

But the subhuman also lived. He hated the work of the other. He raged against it, secretly as thief, openly as slanderer – as murderer. He associated with his own kind.

The beast called the beast. --

Never did the subhuman give peace, never did he give rest. For he needed the half-dark, chaos.

He shunned the light of cultural progress.

He needed for self-preservation the swamp, hell, but not the sun.

And this underworld of subhumans found its leader: the eternal Jew! He understood them, he knew what they wanted. He fed their most base lusts and desires, and unleashed terror on humanity.

It all began in historical times with the annihilation of the Persians, with the Purim Fest, the first glorification of organized mass murder. 75,000 Aryan Persians fell victim to Jewish hatred. Even today, Jewry celebrates this deed of horror as its greatest "religious" festival.

Eternal is the hatred of the subhuman against the light figures, the carriers of light. Eternally does the desert threatens to bring about the decline of the west.

Eternally do the powers of destruction gather together in the distant steppe: Attila and Genghis Khan mass their hun hordes and race across Europe, leaving behind a living apocalypse, fire and death, rape, murder and terror, so that the world of light and thousand-fold knowledge, the powers of progress and human greatness, sink back into the abyss of primeval condition.

Eternal is the subhuman's desire:

That it again becomes desert, where the light of sublime knowledge creatively illuminates the darkness, then his final goal would be achieved, chaos.

So does the struggle of both opposites happen for millennia in accordance to terrible, incalculable laws; again and again there is an Attila, a Genghis Khan, who rips open Europe's gate, who knows only one thing: the total destruction of everything beautiful!

The embodiment of this will for destruction is today called Bolshevism! But this Bolshevism is not a manifestation of our time. It is not a product of our days! It is also nothing new in the framework of human history. Rather it is as old as the Jew himself. His pioneers are named Lenin – Stalin.

"When the leading minds in a folk are butchered, then it comes into governmental, economical, cultural, spiritual, psychological and bodily slavery. The rest of the folk, robbed of its own value through countless blood mixtures – becomes deformed and loses its identity. They lose their own unique significance, and in the historically short course of centuries one knows at best that such a folk had once existed."

Reichsführer-SS Heinrich Himmler 1935

On the infinite a steppes of Russian territory lays Eastern Europe. A sharp contrast is noticed when comparing central Europe with this enormous space. On both sides of the border is the same earth but not the same man.

It is the man who makes his mark on the landscape. Thus on the Germanic side there is planned orderly fields, and well-designed collection of towns; while on the other side there is only impenetrable forests, vast and unkempt, miles of uninhabited steppes where even the rivers wind endlessly through the nothingness.

This poorly kept land which hides fertile soil could be a paradise for man, a potential "California of Europe" alive with fields and fruit, but instead it lies neglected and wasted, lost to the abyss of cultural nihilism.

This land cries out against the subhuman and his reign and wasteful system. -

It is a tearful fate of the black earth.

Endless, fertile, neglected but in all estimates a blessing to Eastern Europe - not thoughtlessly removed from the other side of the continent, but brutally separated by a deliberately created division. However its Eastern European masters have not risen above their primitive ways.

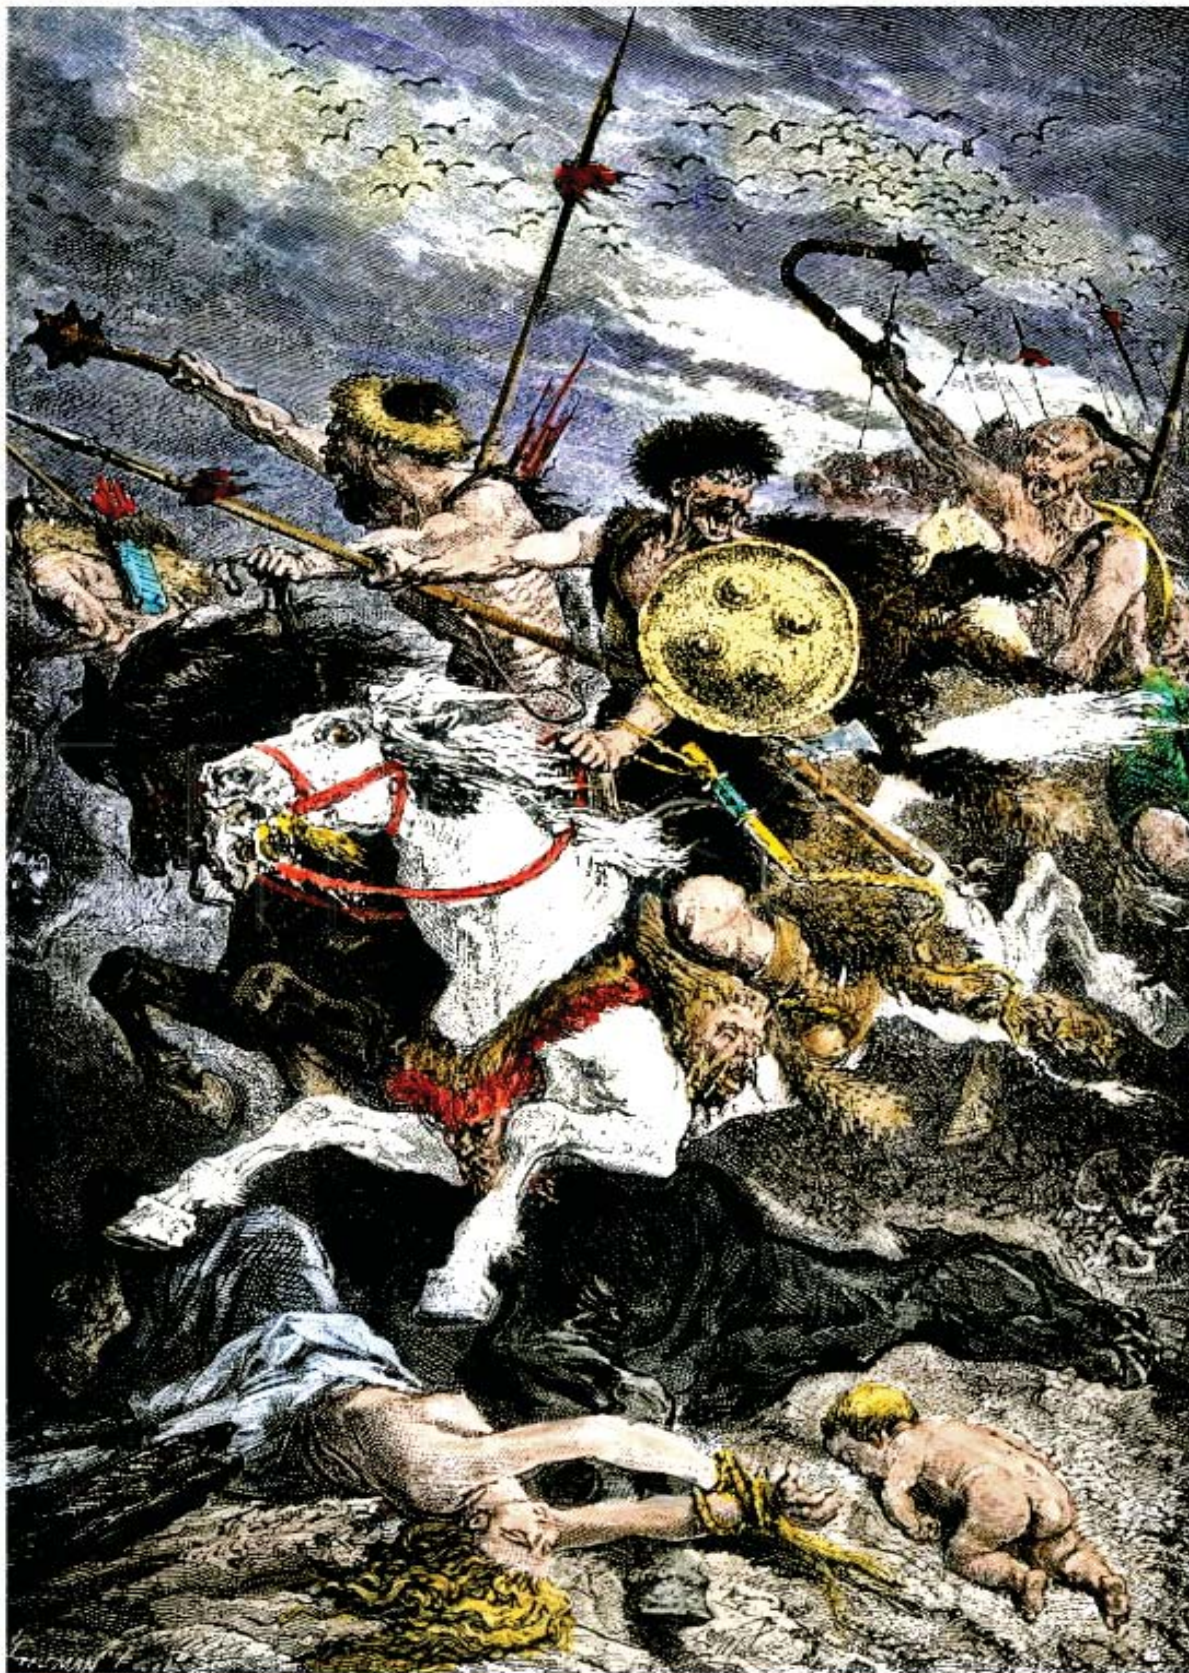

The land sees only chaos and waste because it is not cared for by true man, the valuable carrier of higher culture, the genius, the system fully directed to building peace, prosperity and civilization, which manages the meaningful evaluation of the endless treasure and fertility of the soil. Instead, this land only knew the forces of unrestrained exploitation and bestial war, and destruction.

Certainly, the developed peoples of Central and Western Europe wanted to secure this land, it was their purpose. First there were the Goths and the Varangians, who based there empires in this territory and introduced culture. Then the Swedish, Flemish, the Dutch, Shwabs and Lower-Saxon settlers, attempted to bring light into the darkness. The cry for help sounded for centuries from these lands. Even Peter the Great, Catherine II and all the rest called on the German peasant and the German officer, a European scientist, physician and engineer.

But time and again the forces of darkness prevailed, in a wild frenzy, animal fury, the helping Germanic Spirit was brutally and senselessly destroyed.

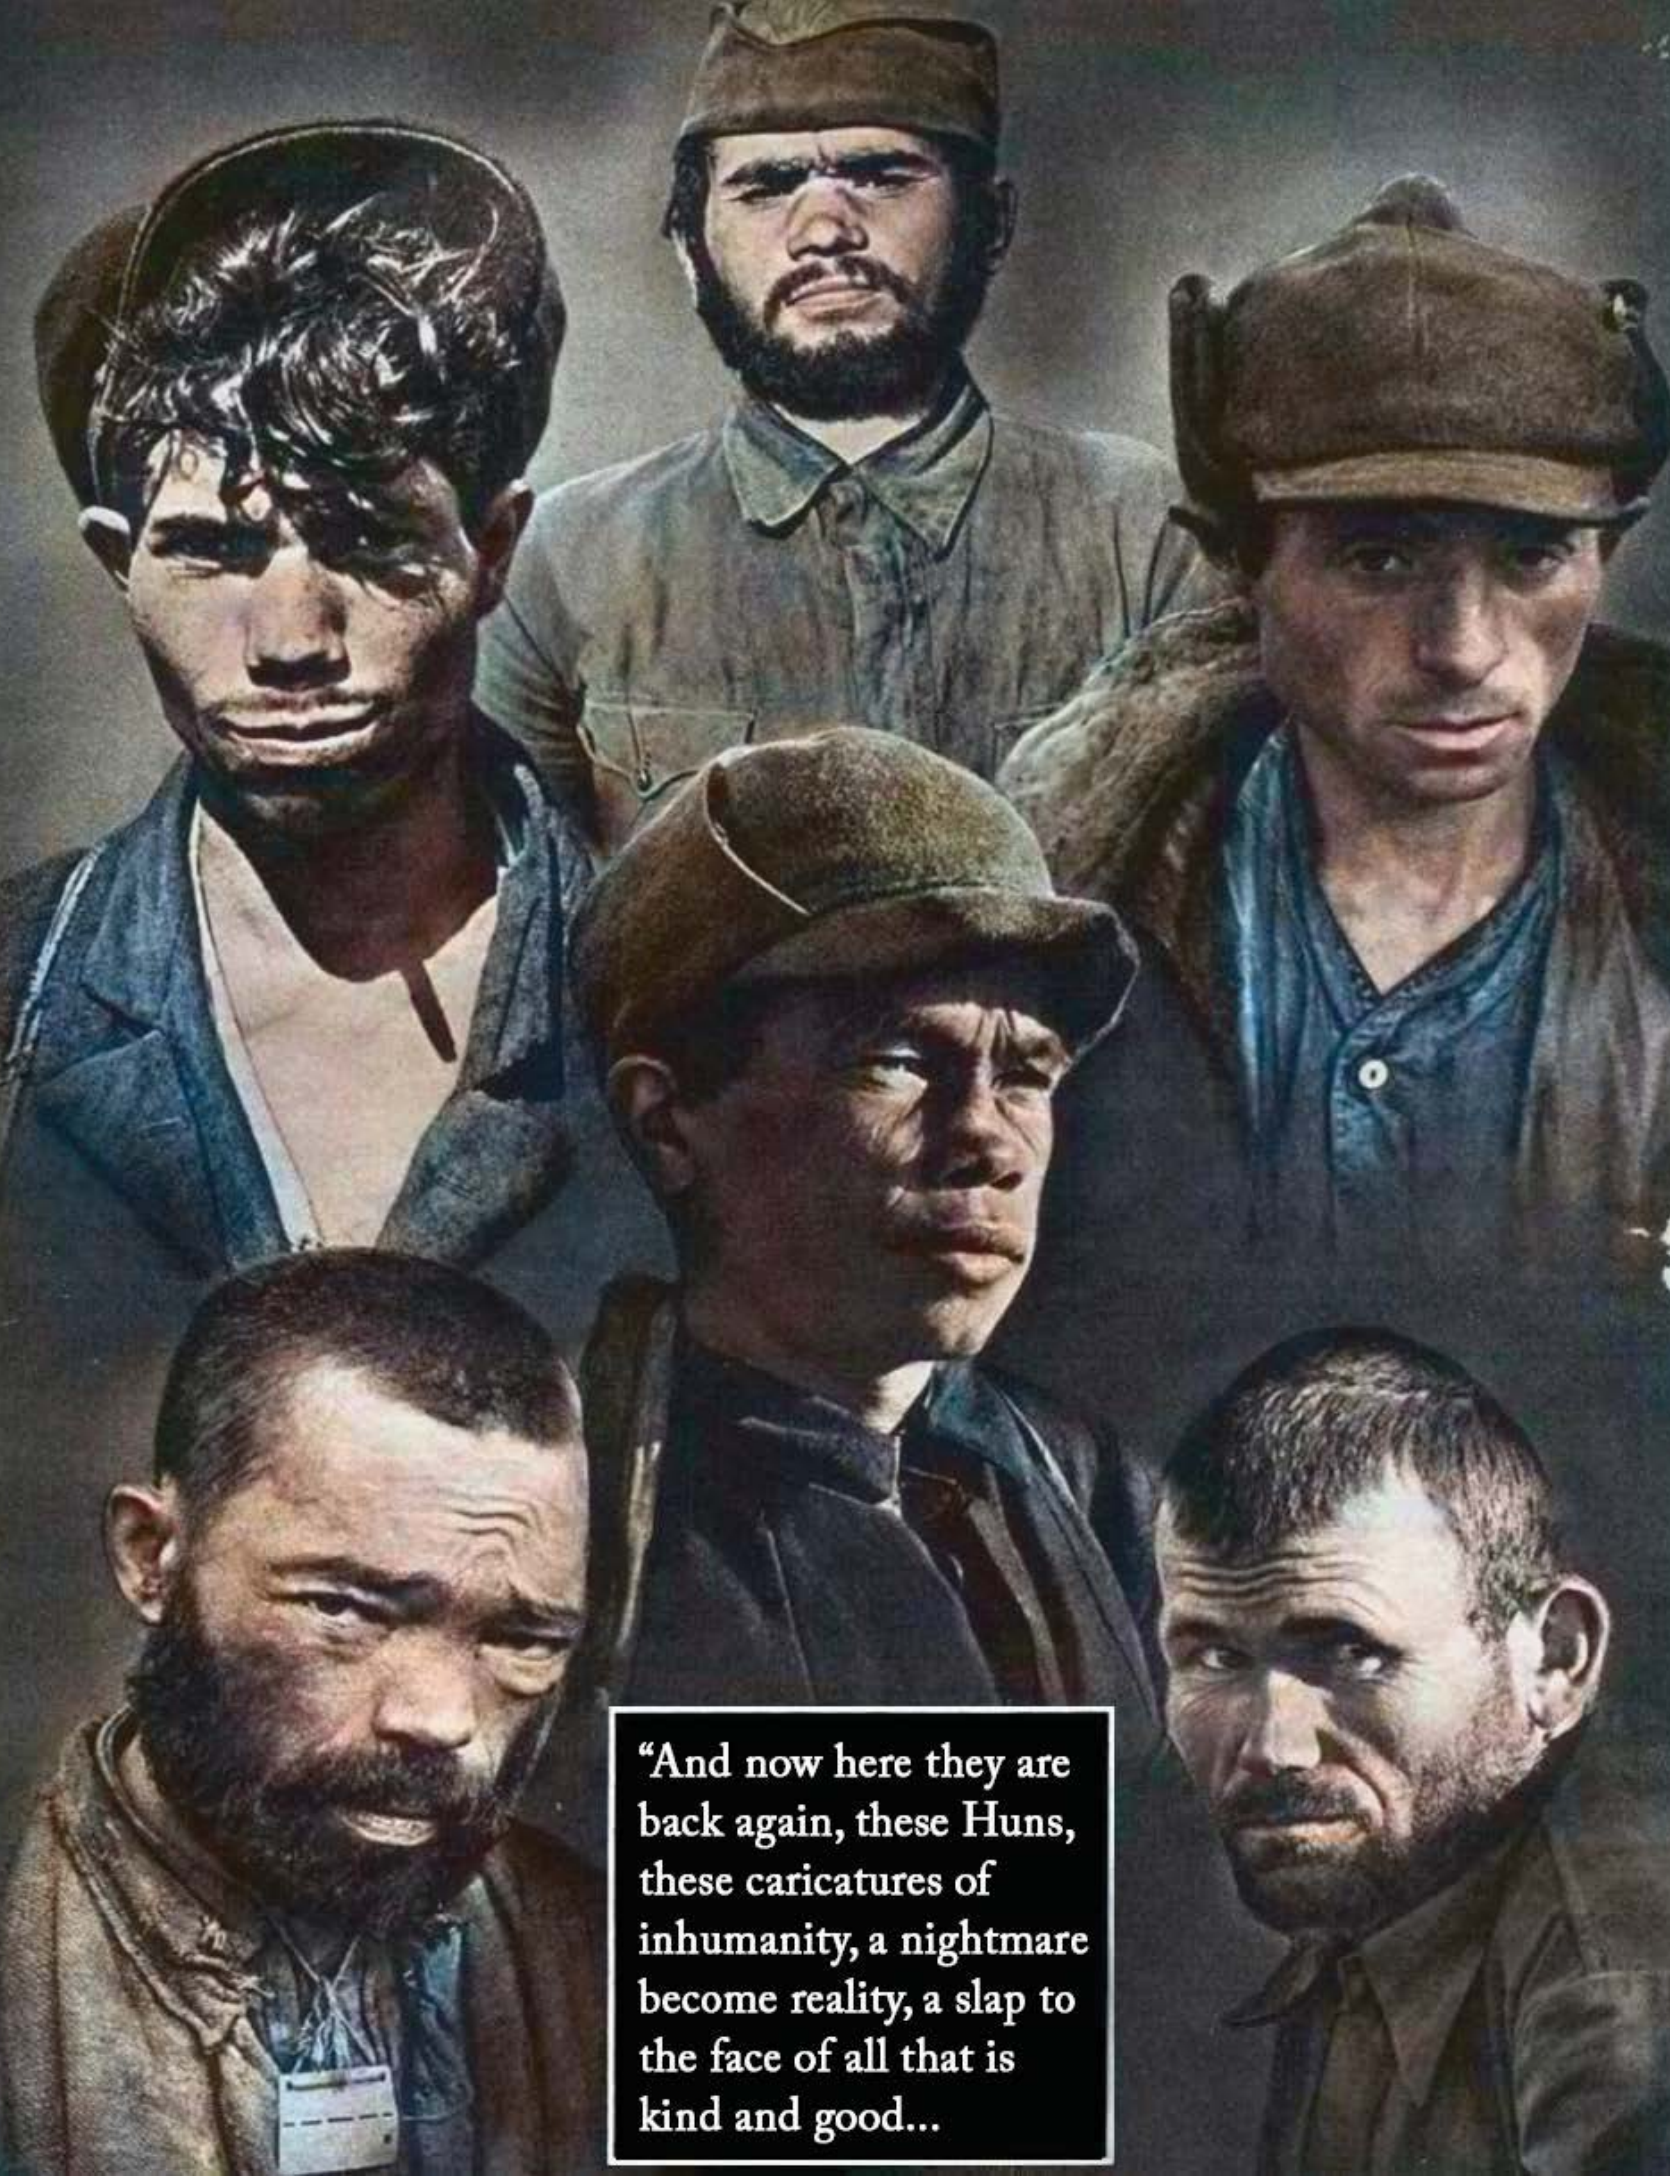

The assault of the Subhumans began with the terrible invasion of Attila and Gengis Khan

On their small ugly steppe horses, the subhuman hordes appearing as if they were part of the animal, growing out of its fur, descended onto Europe with their inhuman cry. Their narrow eyes shone with excitement as the greedy bloodthirsty desire to reign down murder, fire, desolation and destruction on all in their path. The cry "the Huns come" was heard for centuries and became synonymous with fear and loathing. Russia became the stepping stone whereby the ideology and doctrine of the Subhuman -- of Nihilism and Bolshevism born again -- burst forth, in his image. A Bolshevik rabble imbued with wild ardor shouts the destruction of "western bourgeoisie". Repeatedly this same wild bestial spirit with sharpened spears, cursing and foaming at the mouth came to bring destruction to the cultured west.

The red poet Peter Oreshchin in one of his writings said:

"Holy mother earth shakes under the stomping of millions of feet. The Crescent has left the mosque and the cross has left the Church. This is the end to the lights of Paris. I saw yellow Chinese through the hatches of the Urals. India, as it were, washed her garments for the festival. From the steppe rises the smoke of the victims, brought to their new god. London sinks under the waters. All of Berlin lies in ruins. The sweet moan of the noble, that perishes in combat. Hordes will sweep toward Mont Blanc and will traverse God's valleys. So the nomadic Kirghizs pray to a new world!"

"And now here they are back again, these Huns, these caricatures of inhumanity, a nightmare become reality, a slap to the face of all that is kind and good..."

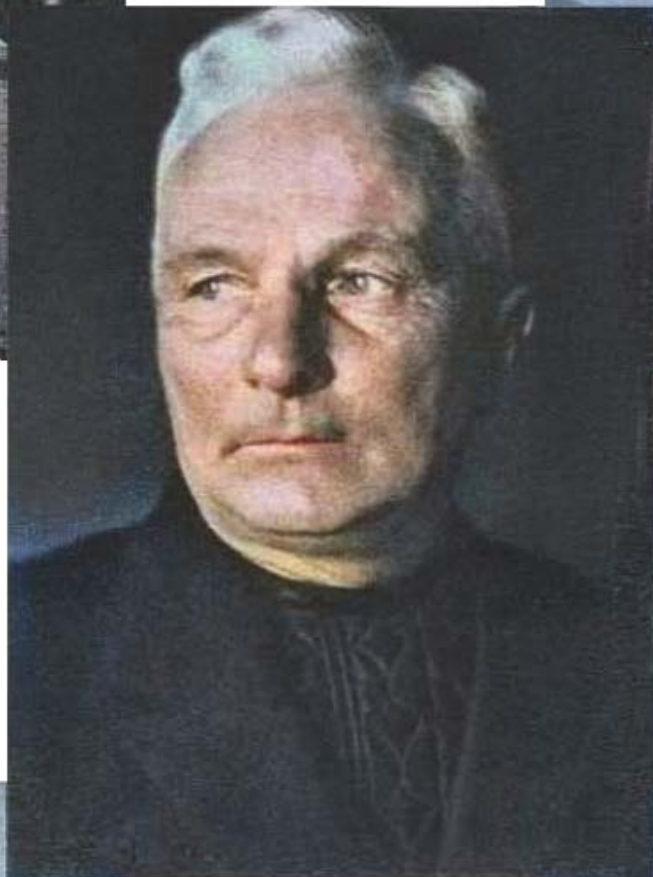

“...allied with primitive creatures and the scum of the world, but suitable tools in the hands of their master the eternal Jew! Their leader in organized mass murder remains camouflaged in his civilian dress, the Jew is only invisible to the naive fools”

This Finnish Officer...

this Dutch seaman...

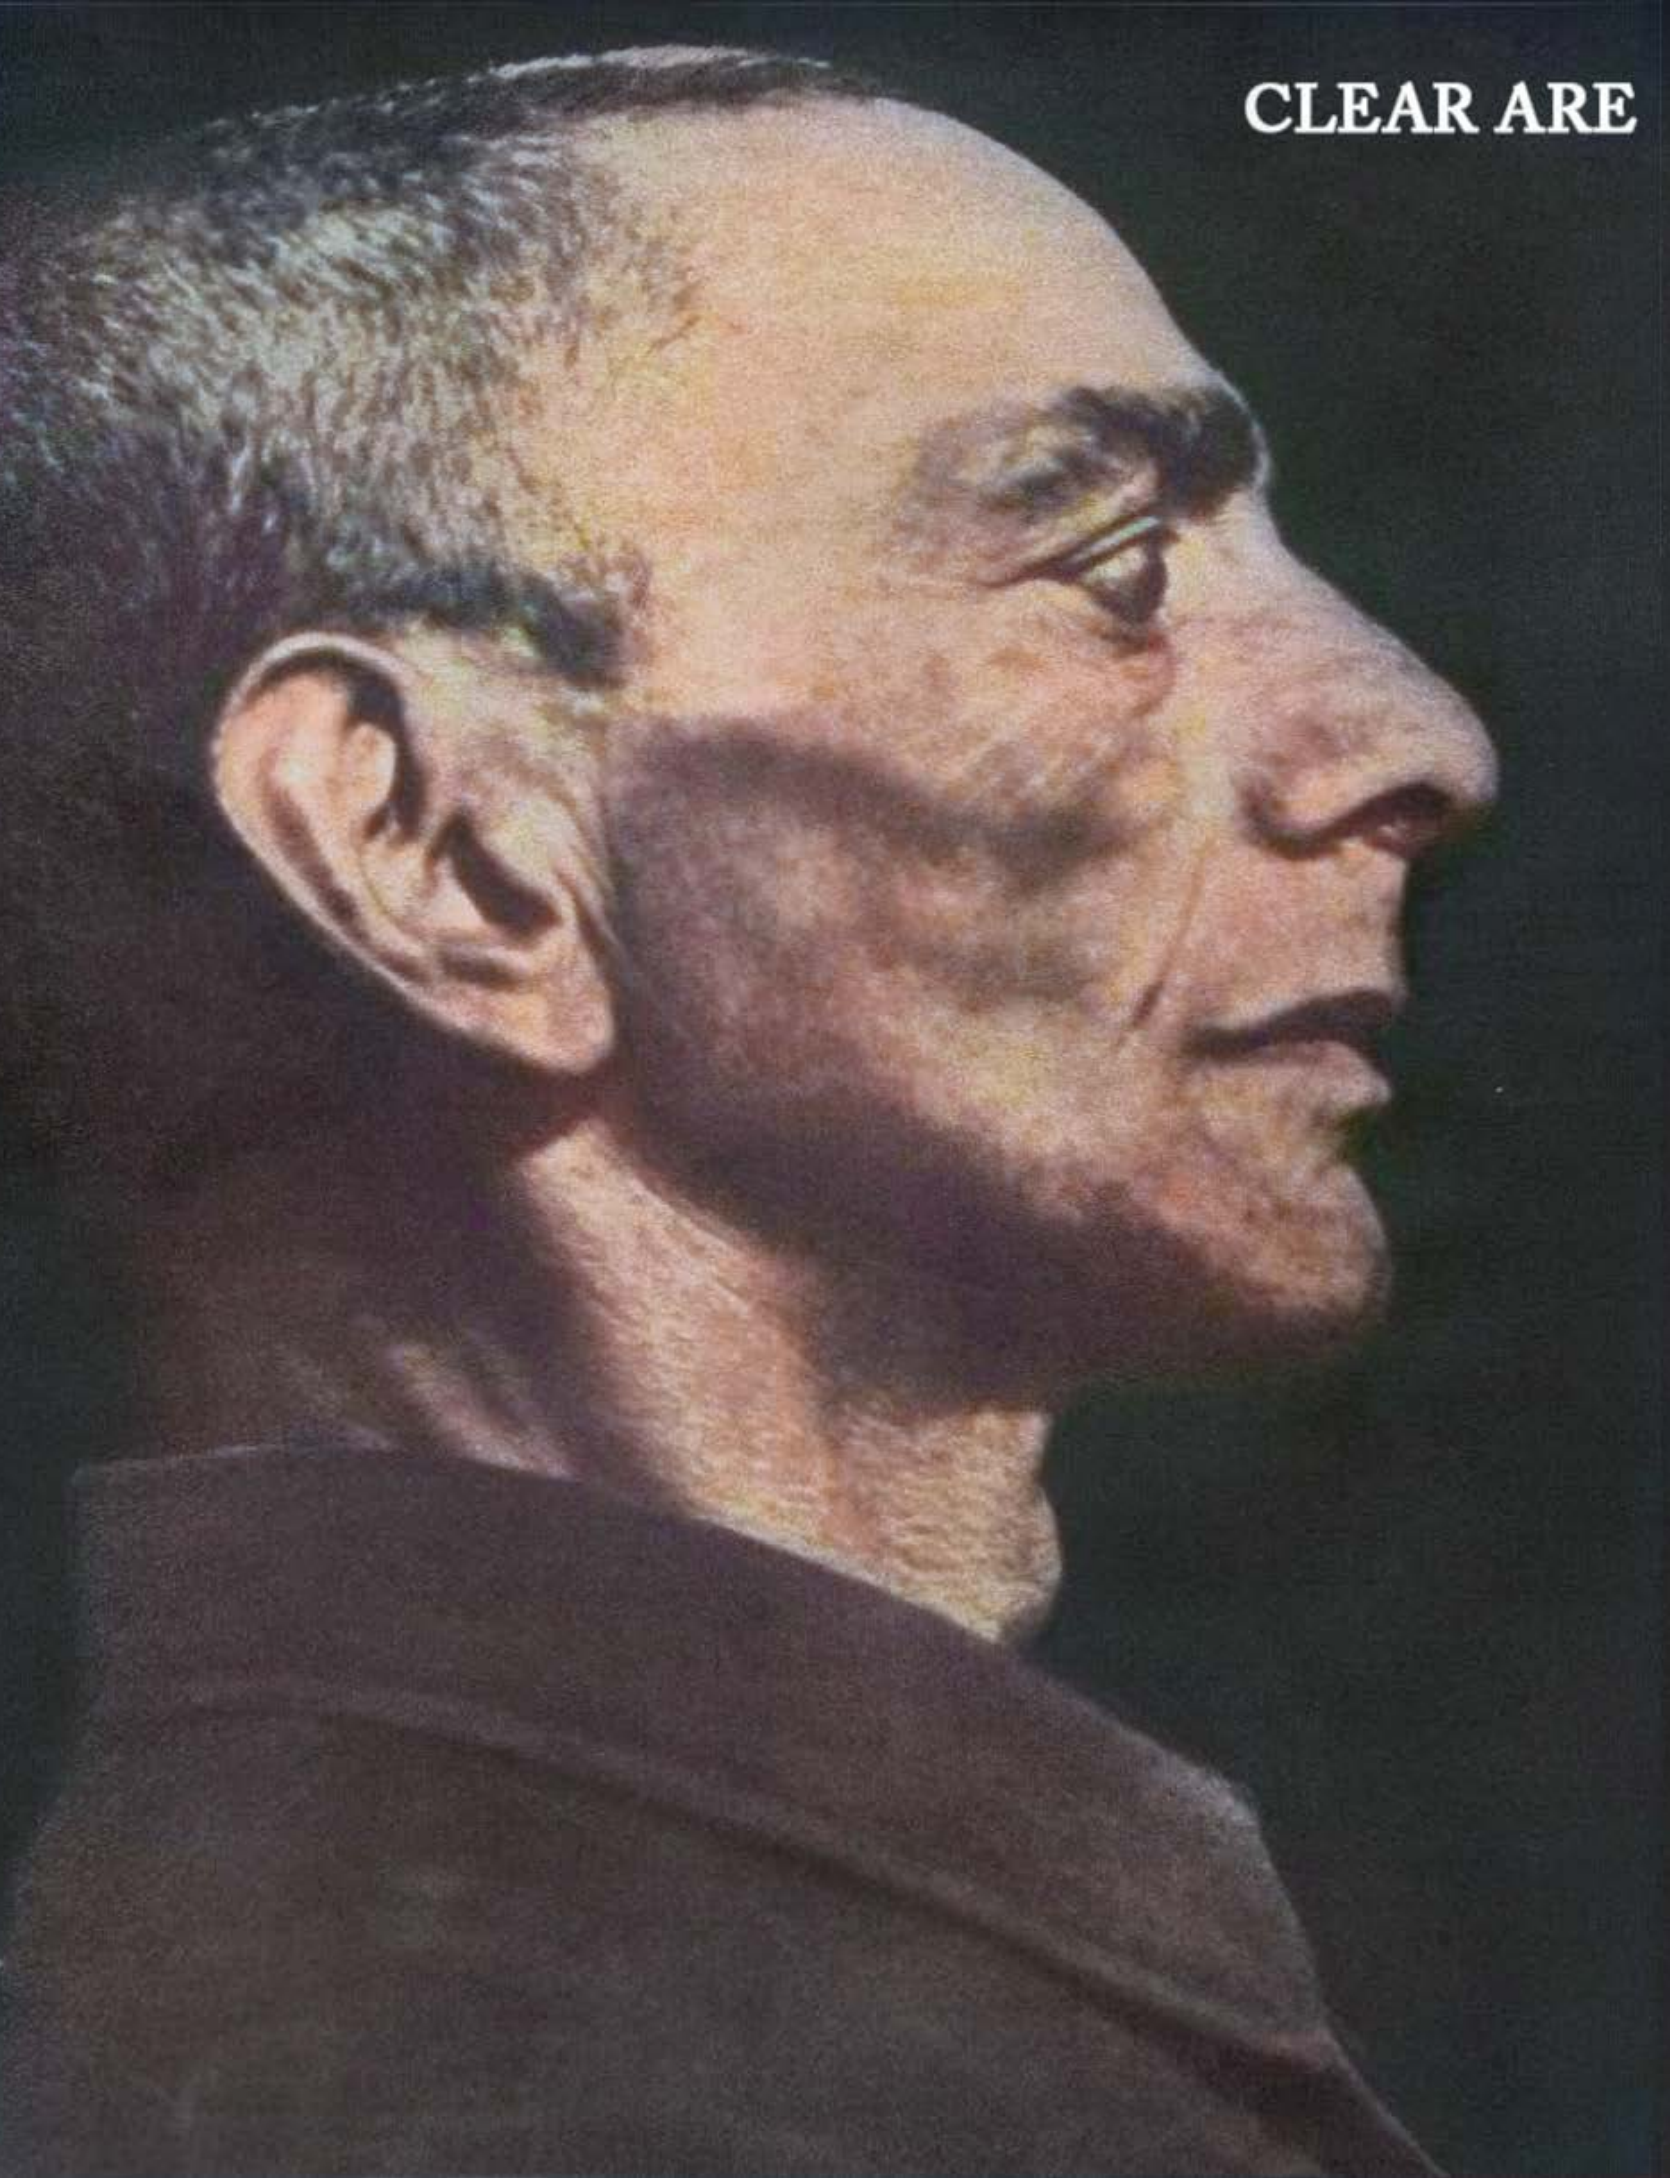

this young Italian...

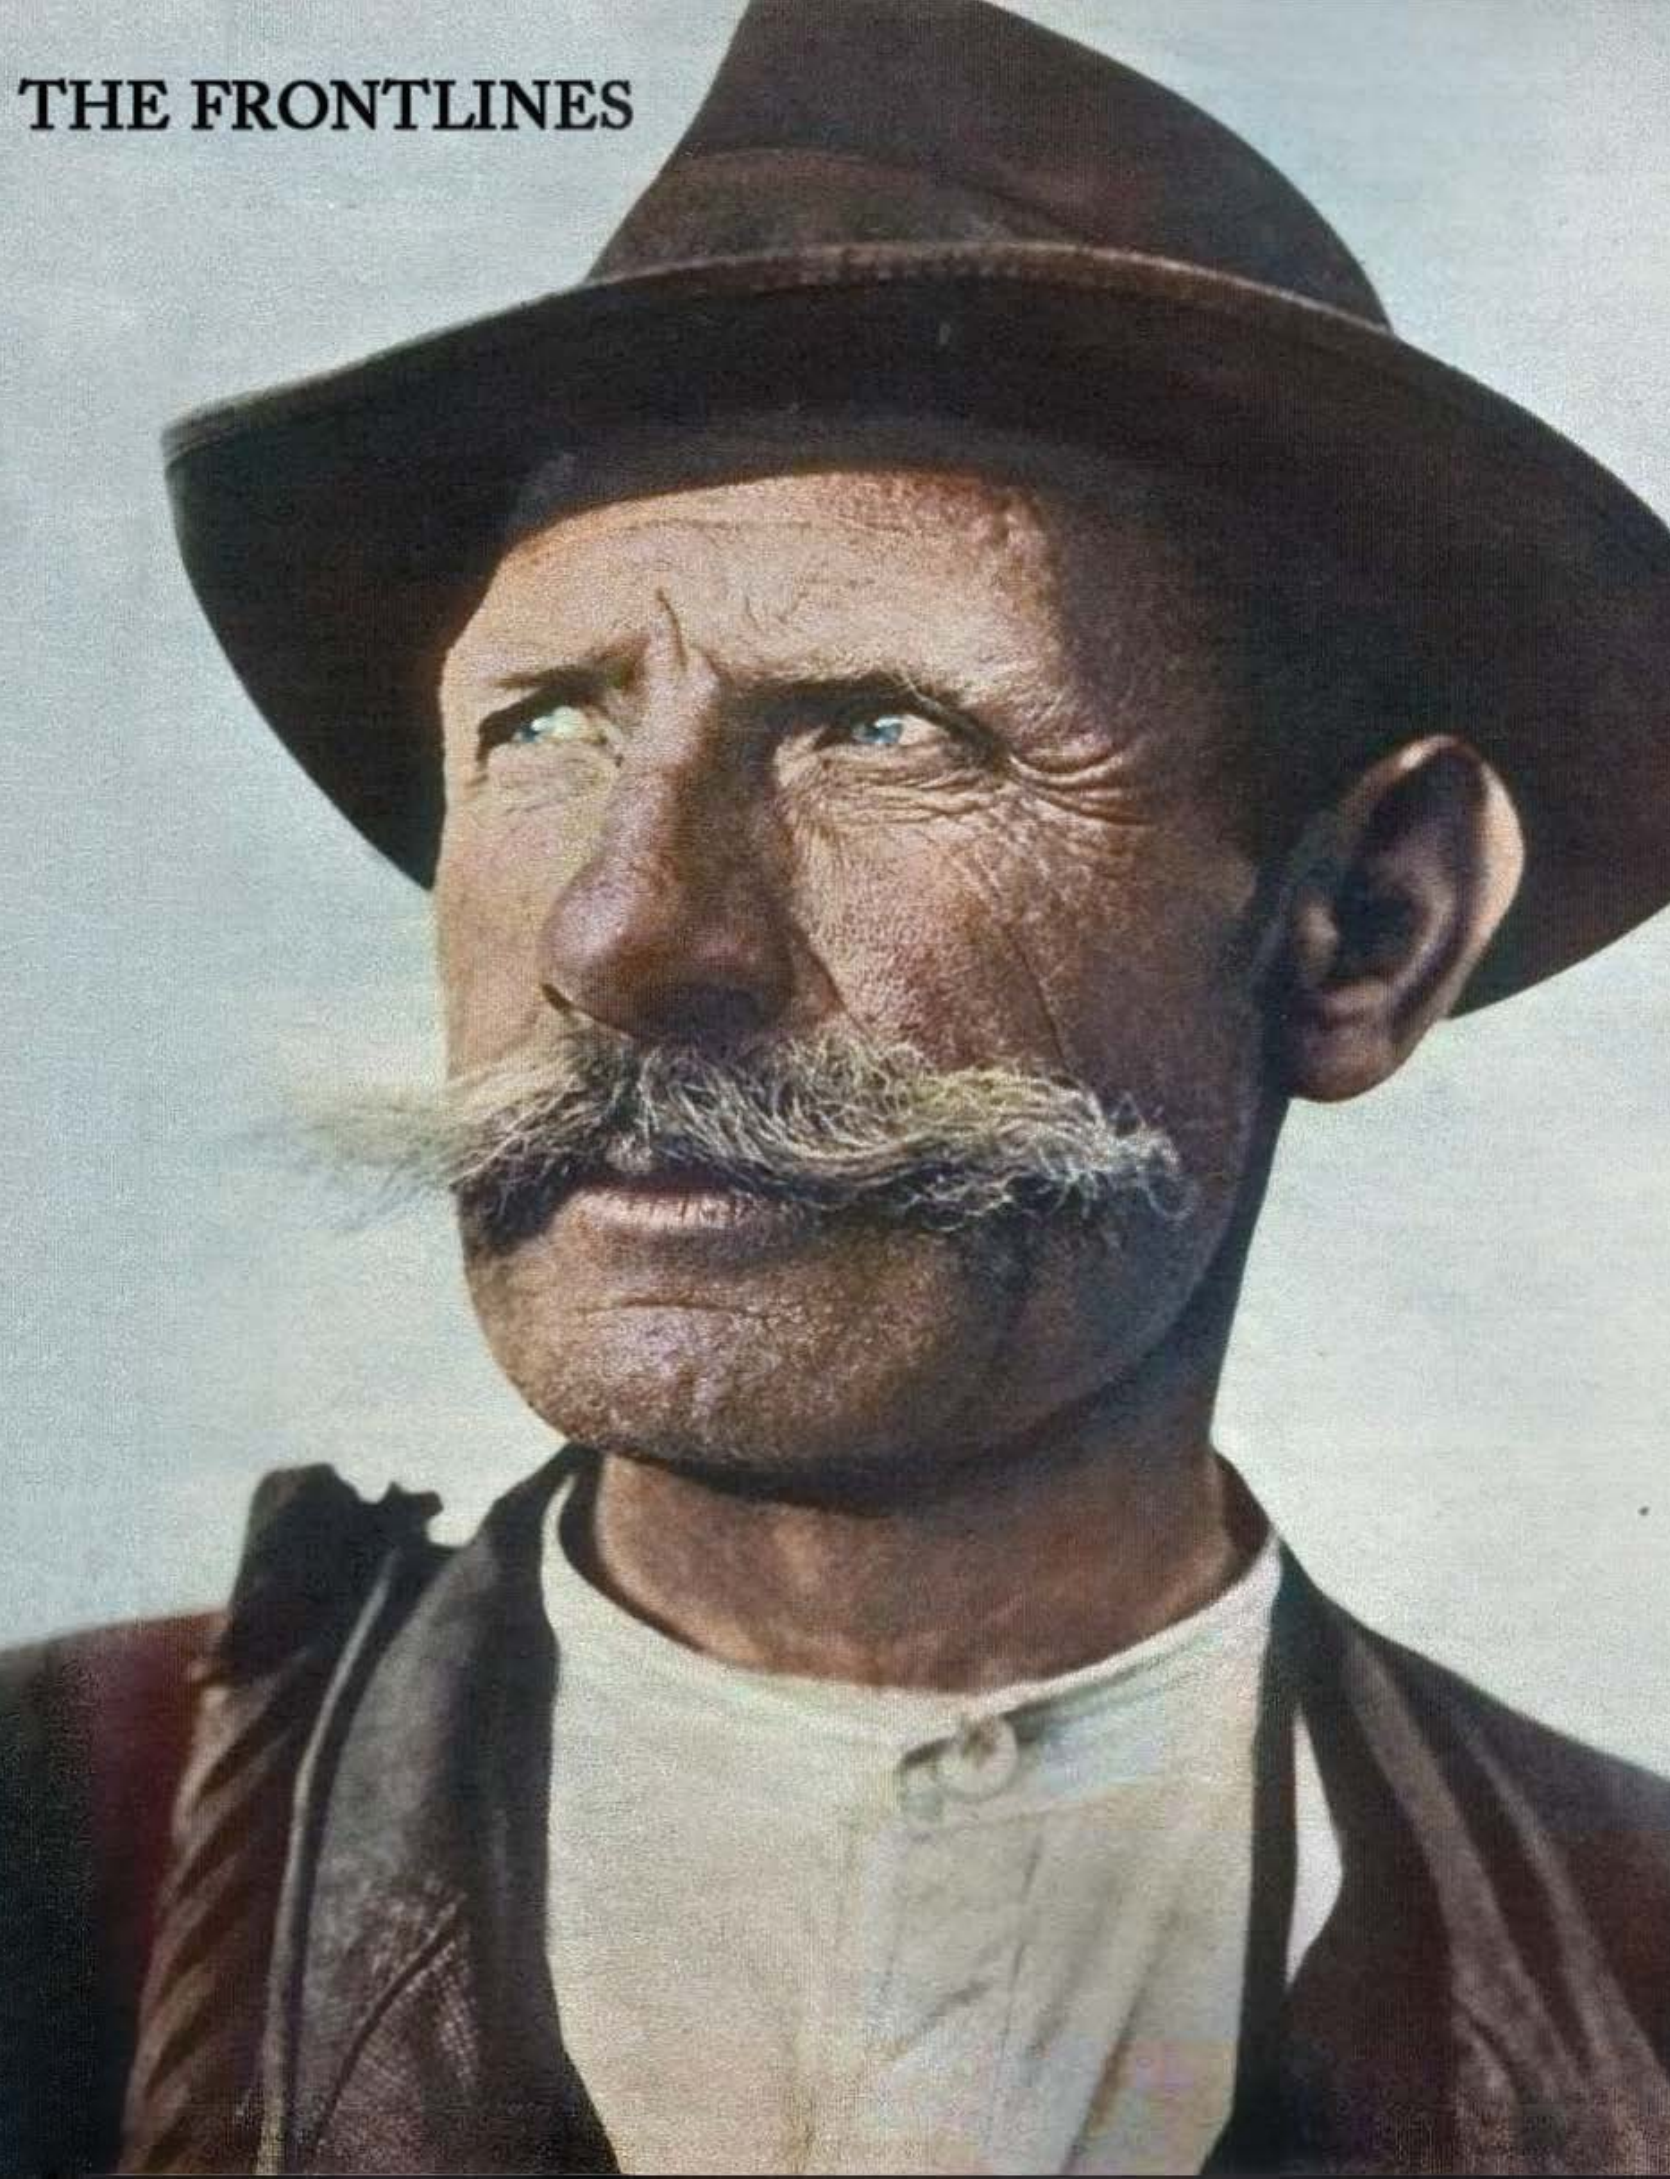

this north German farmer, all these European peoples and races the subhuman wishes to destroy from this earth, to eject from the human race! Here is the community of fate of those of related higher blood!

CLEAR ARE

THE FRONTLINES

This time the Jew wanted to be absolutely sure. So he made himself an officer, a Commissar, the outstanding leader of the subhuman.

And against him stand those who struggle for all that is noble and good to prevent Europe decaying into madness:

The German Army Officer...

A leader of the Waffen-SS...

the dive bomber pilot...

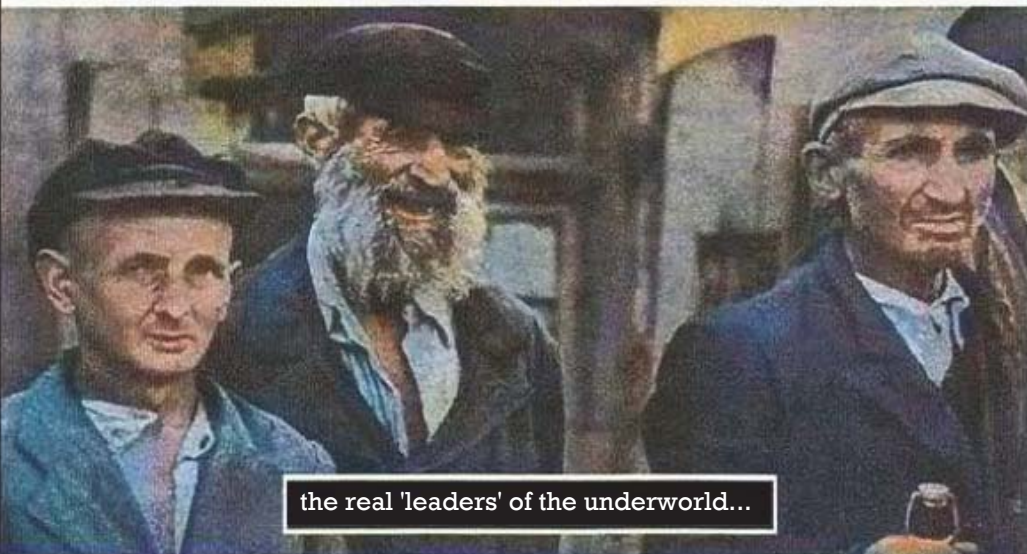

the U-boat commander.

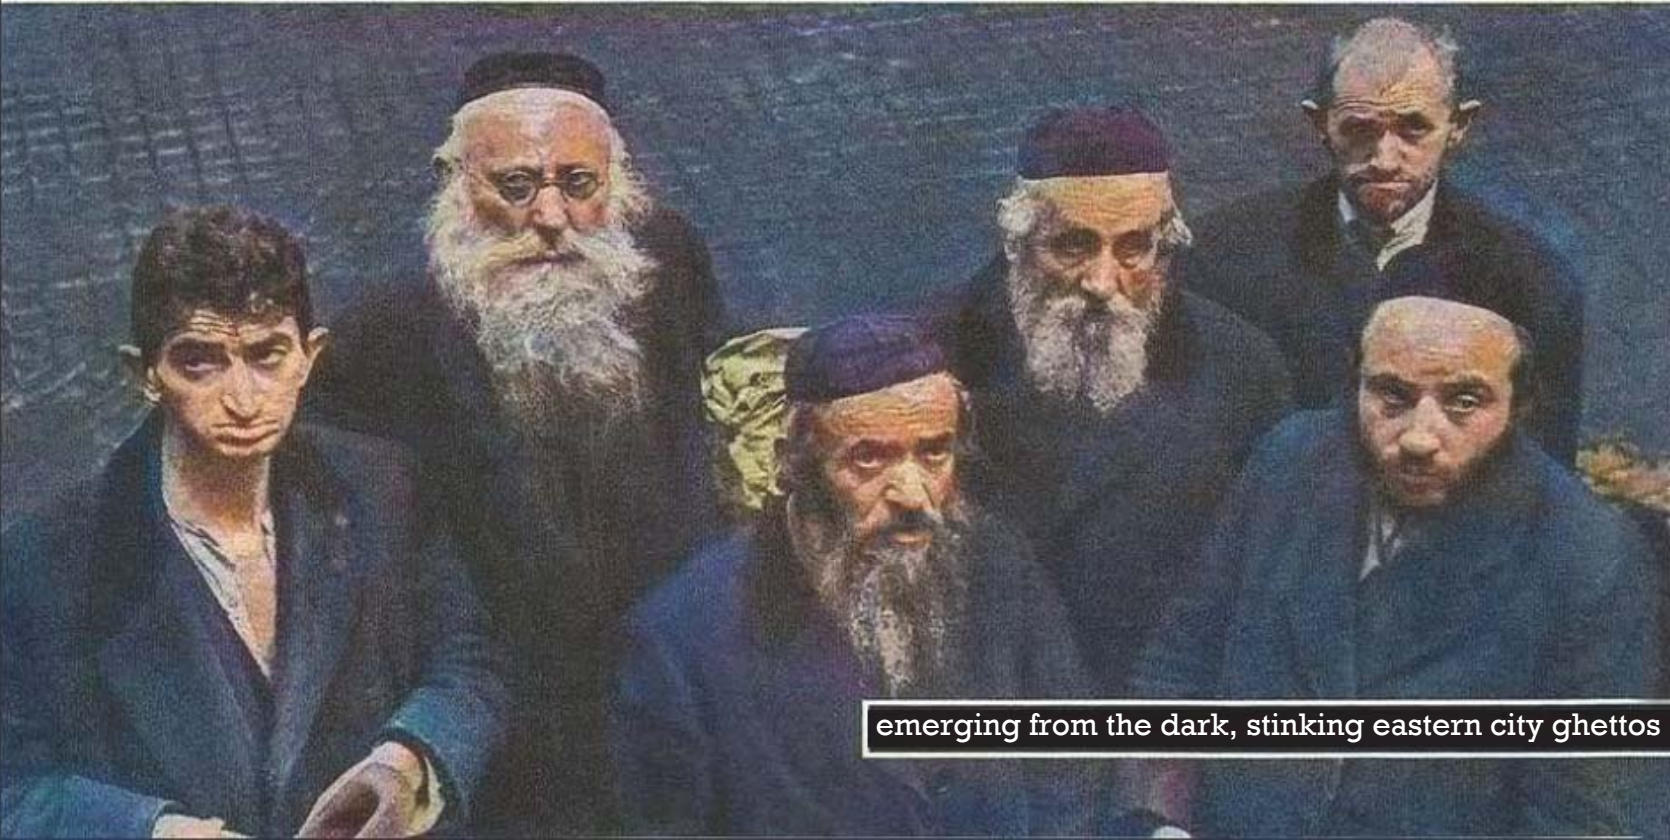

The beast in human form...

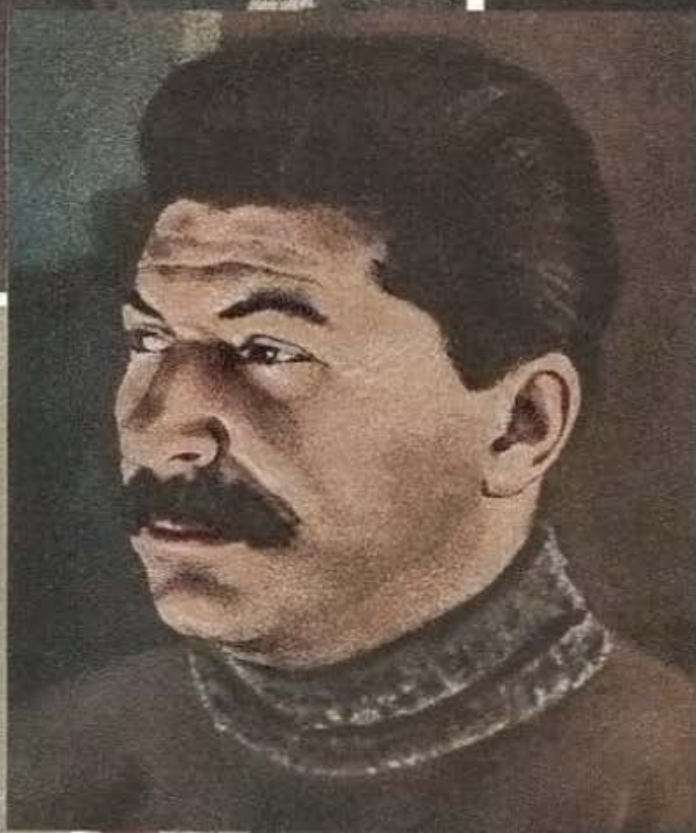

the seeds sown by Ahasuerus

the real 'leaders' of the underworld...

emerging from the dark, stinking eastern city ghettos

The subhuman remains subhuman, and Jew remains Jew, no matter if they are known as Churchill, Roosevelt, or La Guardia. They are all scum to us. They stand with Stalin, the subhuman No. 1. They are his allies and comrades!

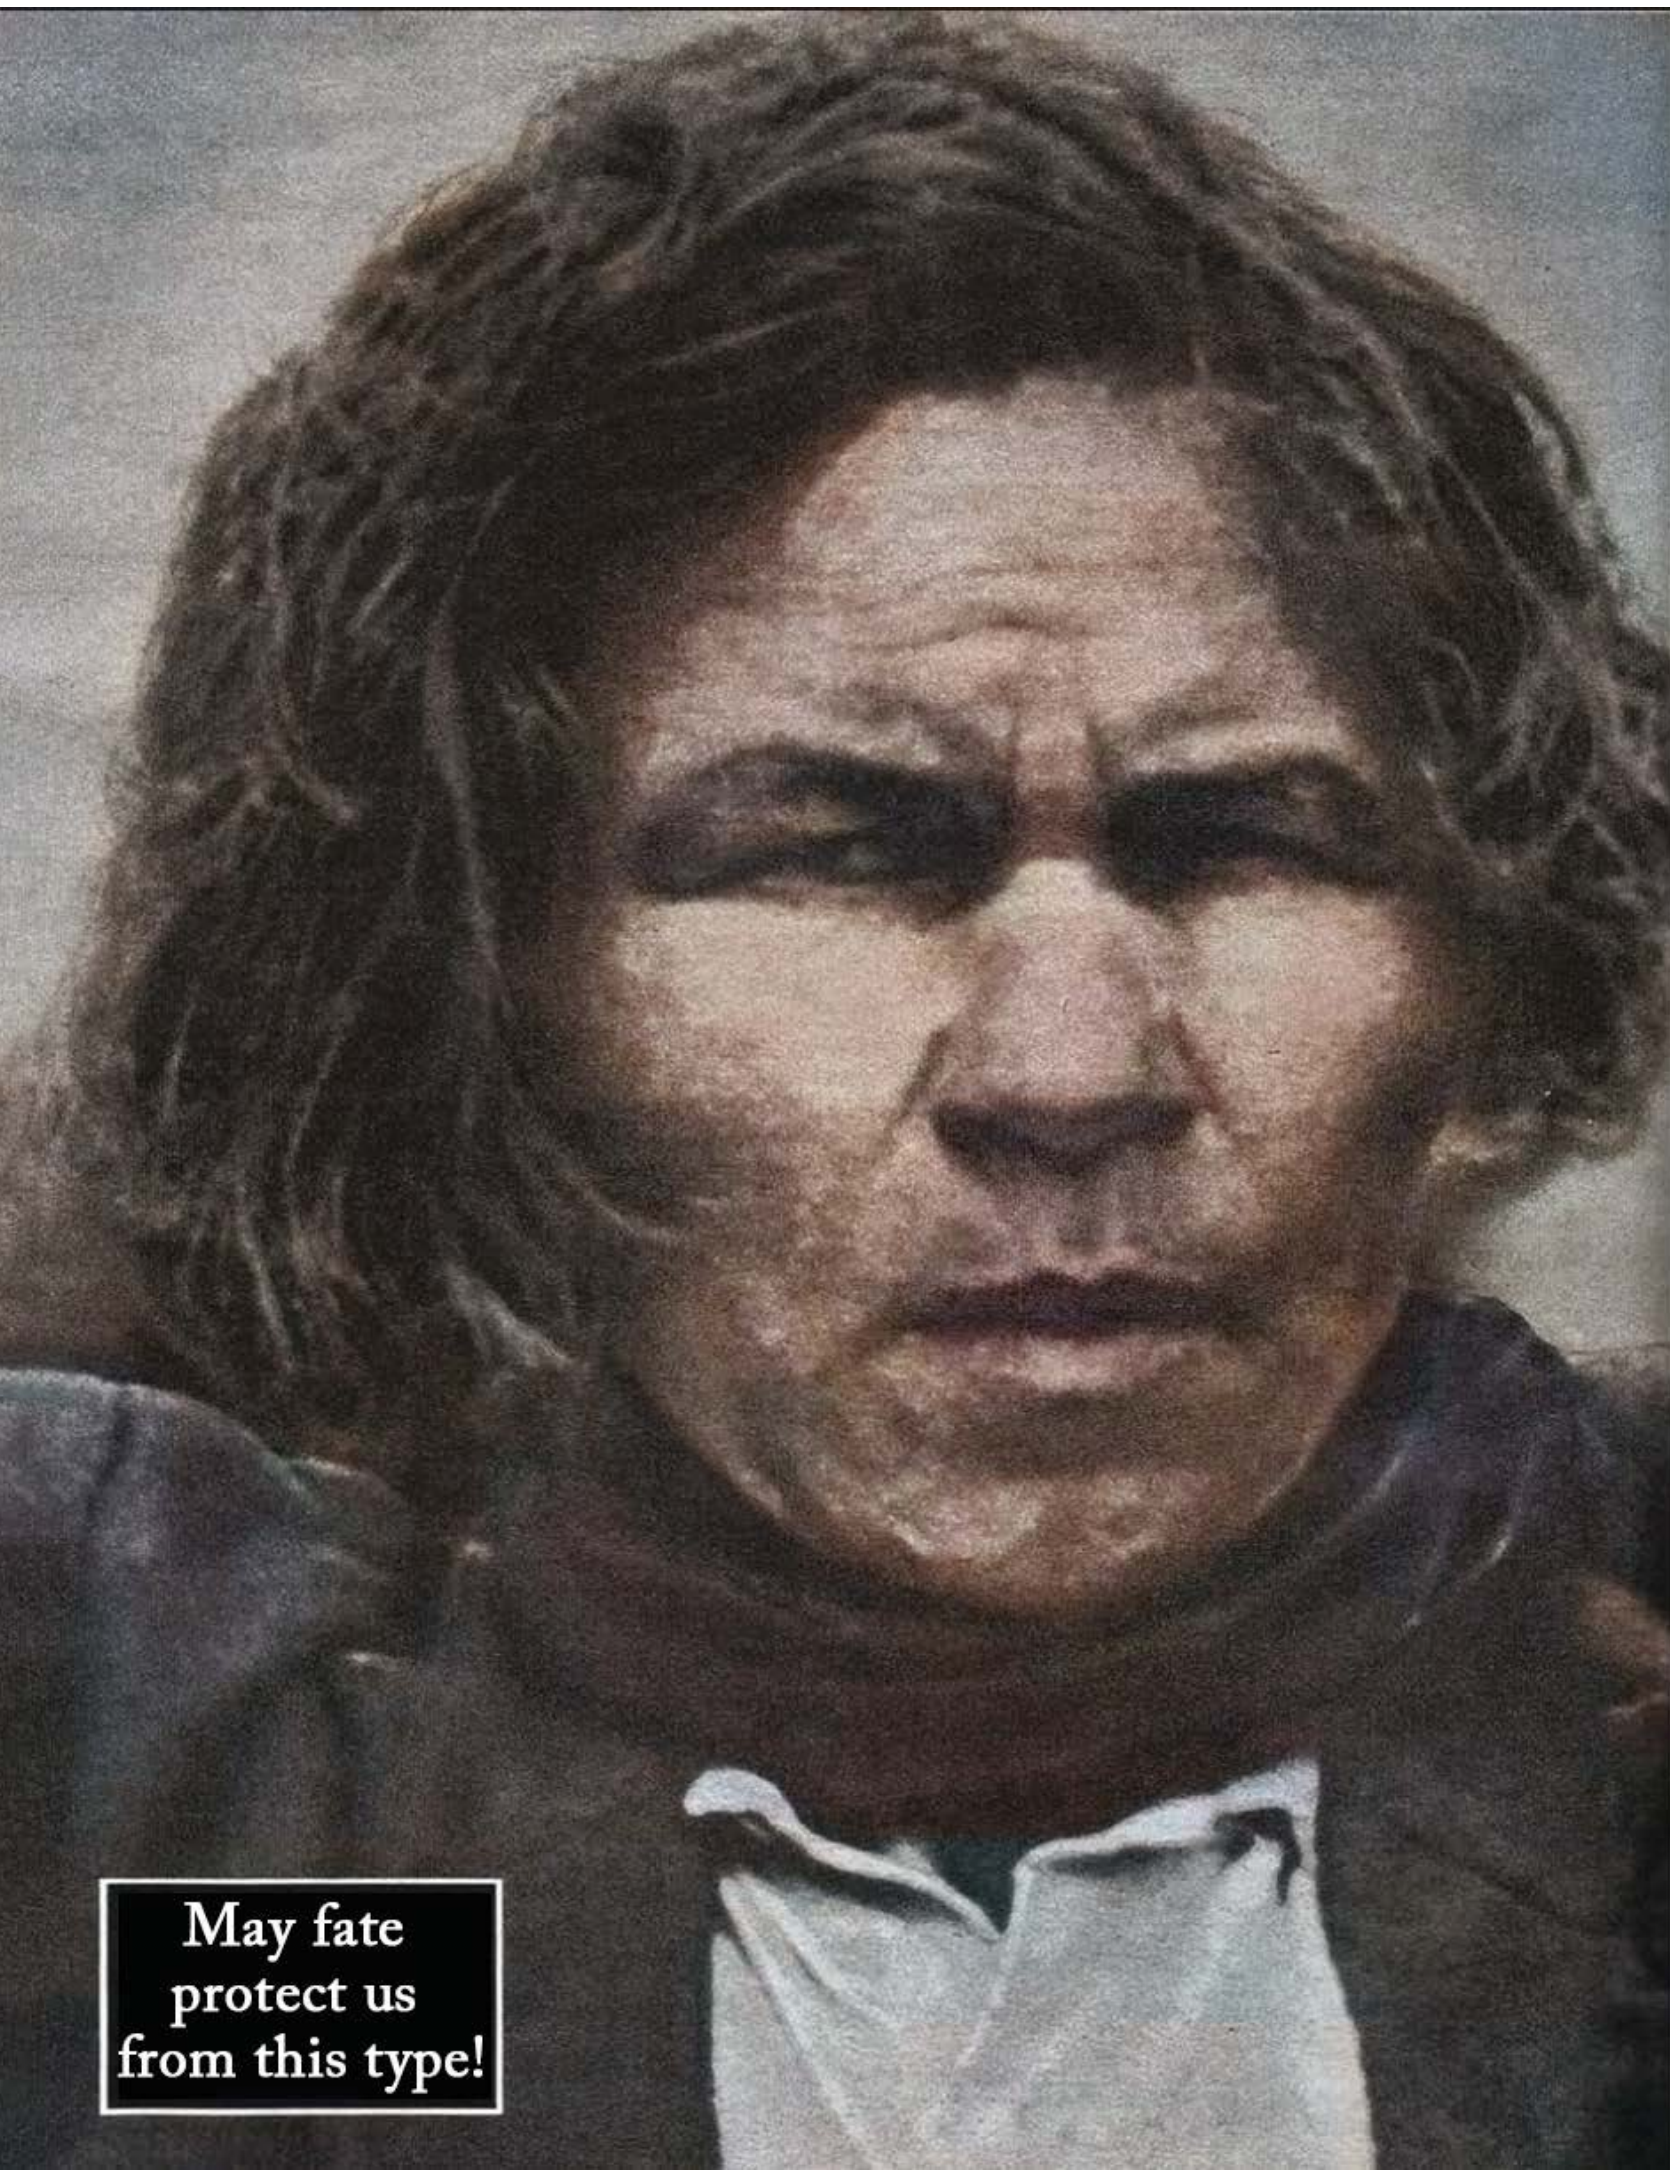

And in the front lines as a radical feminist, as partisan and as a harlot all in one person, stands the Jewess. She organizes and leads the attack to make all the women of Europe like-minded shrieking beasts like her.

In contrast we see the healthy energetic peasant woman of Bulgaria, the grace of the Spanish women, the nobility and charm of Italian women, the faith, decency and beauty of Germanic girls - all of this they want to destroy and erase from the face of the earth.

May fate protect us from this type!

Women like her will be the mothers of Europe!

These images reflect the situation of children in the "Soviet State"! This is the consequence of the systematic Jewish destruction of the family! This sea of bitter children's tears will take hundreds of years to dry.

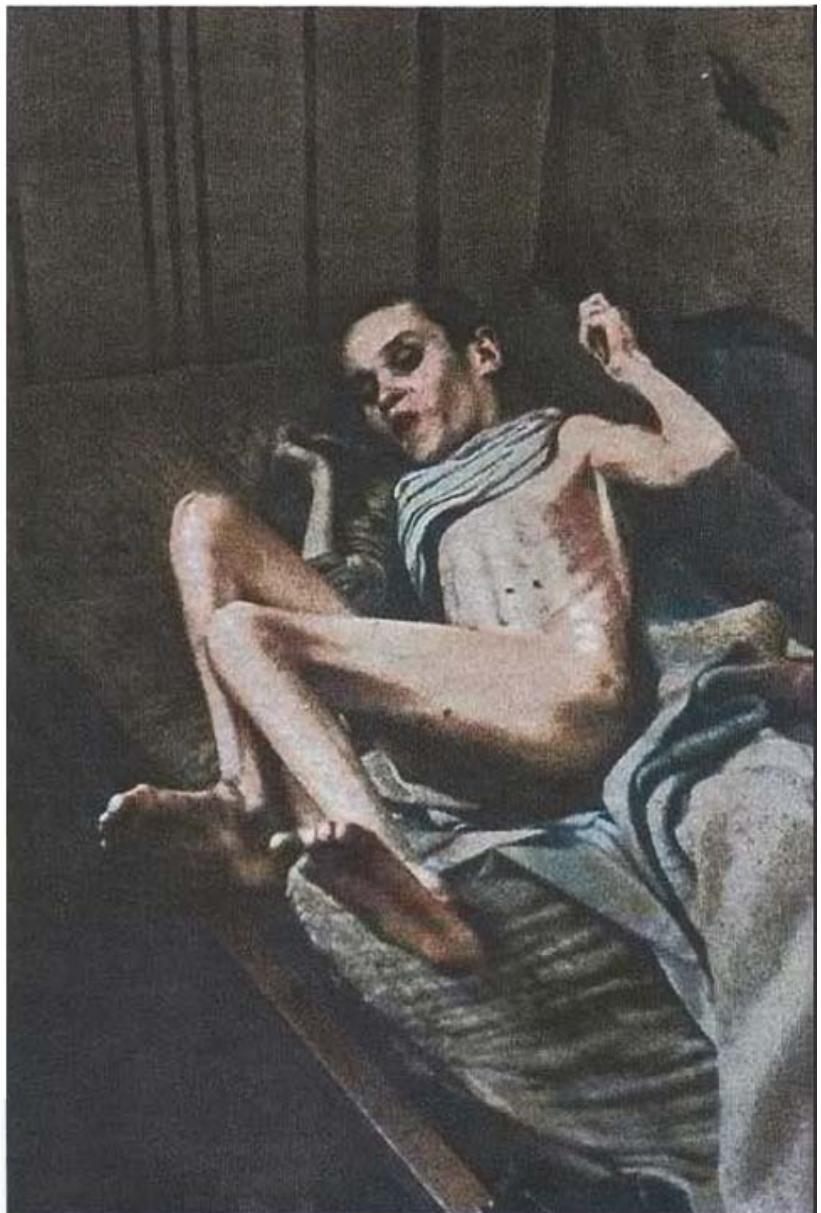

This appallingly dirty, suffering creature with its deathlike eyes is a Soviet child, ...

covered with the scabs this small poor creature is the victim of the misery the Jews brought about.

these starving 10 year olds - the children of Soviet hell is the clearest indictment against this monstrous inhumanity.

We however know what we have in the mothers of our nations. We honor them as the eternally fertile source of ongoing life. We know that motherhood is the greatest joy in this world and believe with infinite reassurance that the young women of the Aryan-European family of nations are conscious of their mission once again.

in the Netherlands...

Everywhere the same joy in being a mother - in Switzerland...

in Croatia and in Denmark

From this misery
we seek to protect our sunny youth

This is the fate of the youth, and the end of the family in the Soviet paradise.

In Germany...

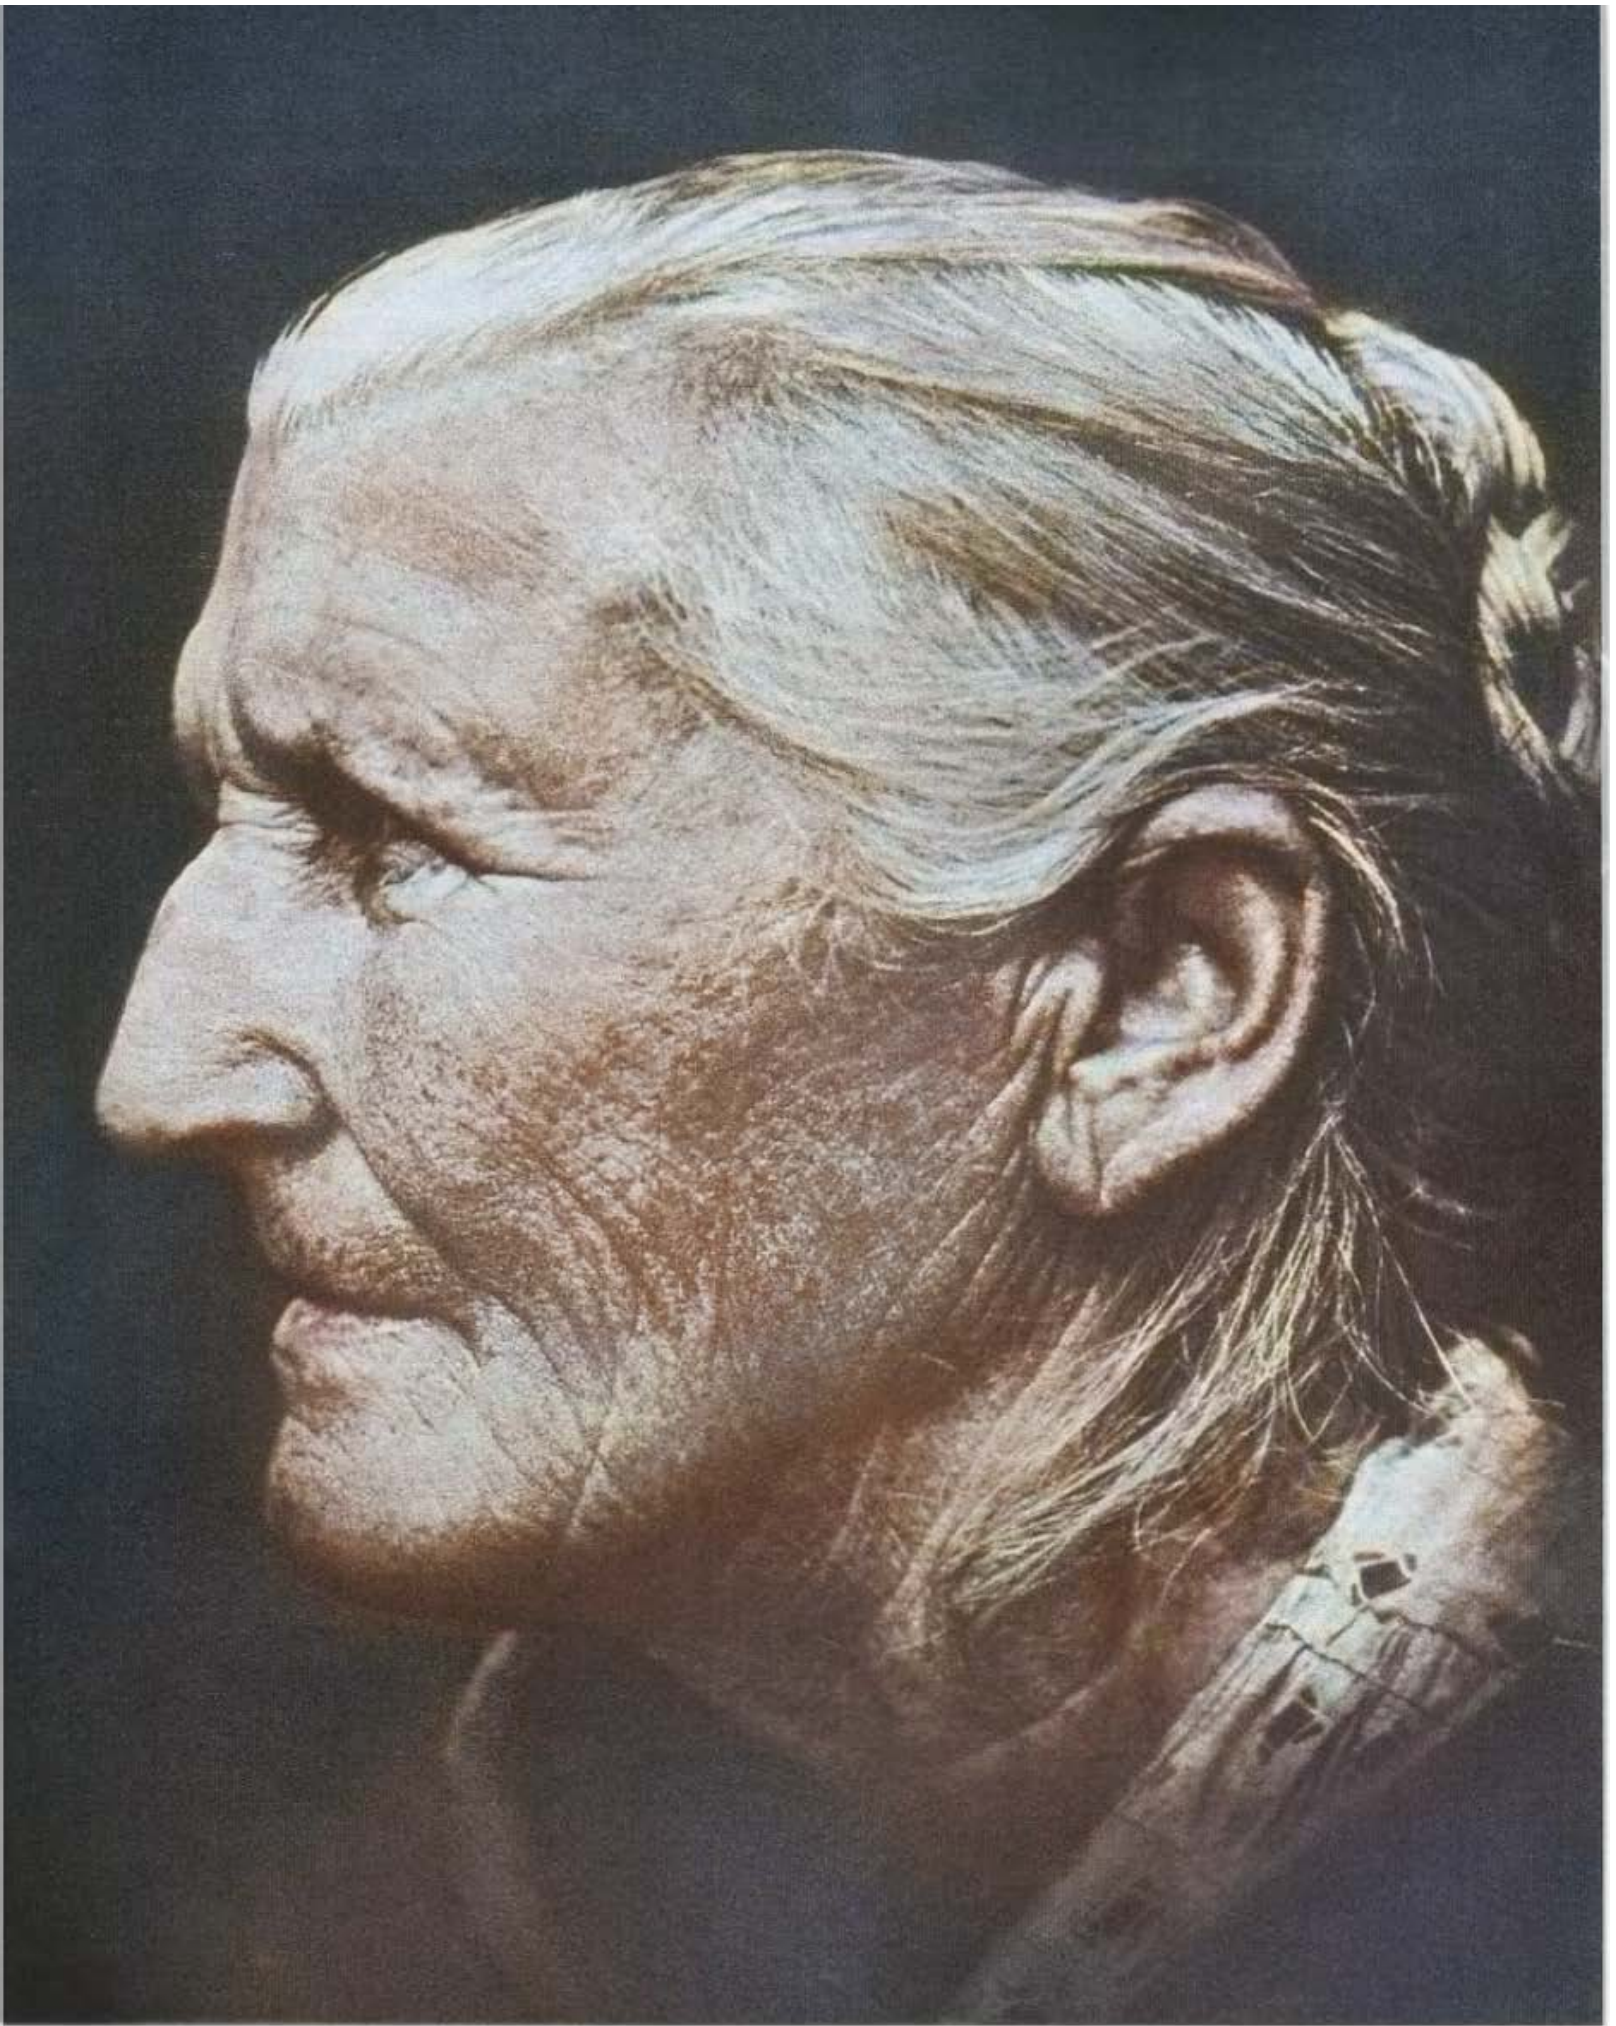

in Wallonia

The most precious possession of all European nations are their children, and the family is their stronghold.

Life is horrible for the elderly
in the Soviet paradise

We however want to see our mothers live a well-protected and carefree retirement after many years of work.

Although we heard much of the terror which existed in the Soviet Union much still remained hidden behind the red curtain. Now that millions of European soldiers have seen for themselves what was previously hidden behind this curtain, they fight fanatically for their homes, their families and their beautiful homelands

This is how it looks like in thousands of miserable huts...

From trash, waste and dirt in the street, Soviet citizens search for their daily bread. They live from day to day and hand to mouth. They never know what the next day might bring ...

They live in filth and vermin. Instead of comfortable houses, shabby walls with the posters of Soviet propaganda.

In contrast the European house is a place of culture and cleanliness.

You cannot fail to notice that i n c o m p a r a b l e difference in attitude and expression of this farmer and those "citizens" of the Soviet Union, with respect to a family way of life and situation of children.

T h e s e little-ones
breathe fresh air under the sun. The hand of their powerful state takes care of them. A happy fate waits for them, guarded from that l i f e, which awaits those children in the Soviet Union.

Soviet cities are an unimaginable hell. Chased from the countryside, millions of people congregated, and were left to vegetate in musty, sinister cellar-like holes.

A man does not look long for a place to spend the night. His bed might be a plank or a sack of straw, but as he lays on the street, no-one cares about him.

So the Soviet youth begs.

We see the glorious Russian worker!

Gone would be the comfort of these French pensioners...

the storage business of these capable Finns through which they secure their livelihood...

this happy crowd of Turkish children...

the life joy of these Norwegian youth...

the happiness of this Flemish peasant family...

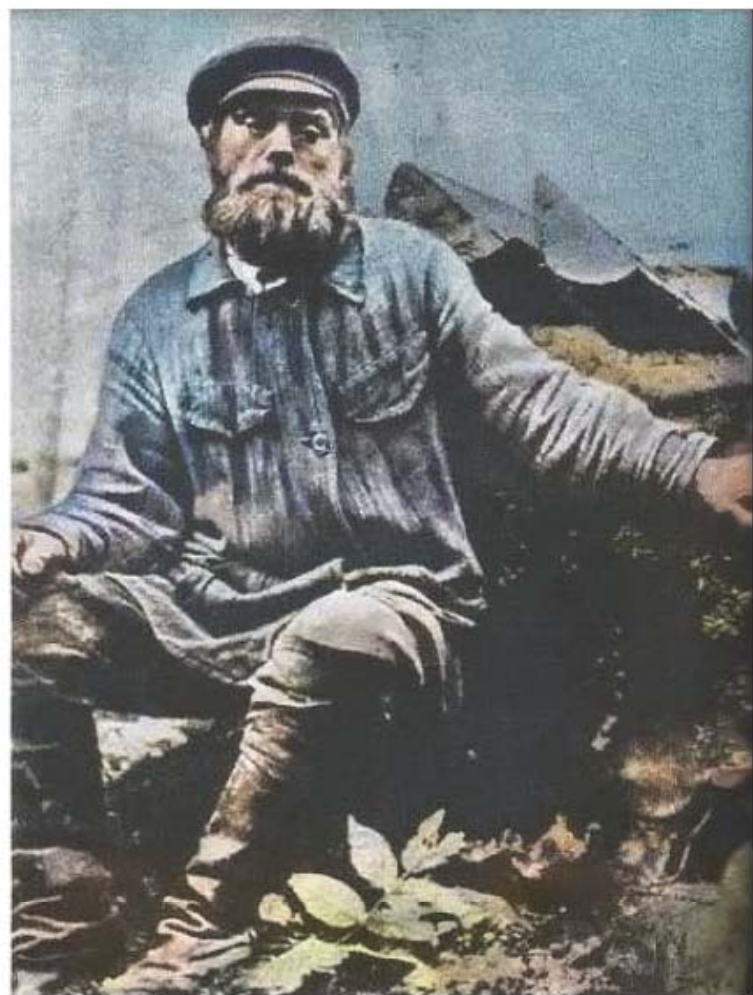

and this work break in a spacious, breezy and sunny public dining room.

Here they live, in their thousands, dug away into the earth, under planks, rags and trash. If they are "lucky," they will have this view from their burrow until they reach the old age. Millions of others will die of starvation in the forced labor camp system.

The people lead an animal-like existence in these bleak holes that do not deserve to be called home.

Even that which the farmer has still tediously labored for is immediately taken away by the Soviet authorities.

As it would be with the tranquility of this old greek...

with the zest for life of these Slovakian country youth...

and with the peace and rich fruits of the land, worked by these capable Hungarian farmers.

with the peace of this retired Pomeranian fisher couple...

The J e w s have succeeded well in u p r o o t i n g the people in the Soviet state. The farmer was declared the deadly enemy of the Soviet system. They were treated like cattle (goyim). All his property was taken away. They were made slaves and had to work only for their Jewish masters.

He is trampled by the system and the brutality of the Proletariat.

Whether he wanted to or not, he was driven to and from Kolkhozs (community farms), nothing was ever his own, not house or hearth.

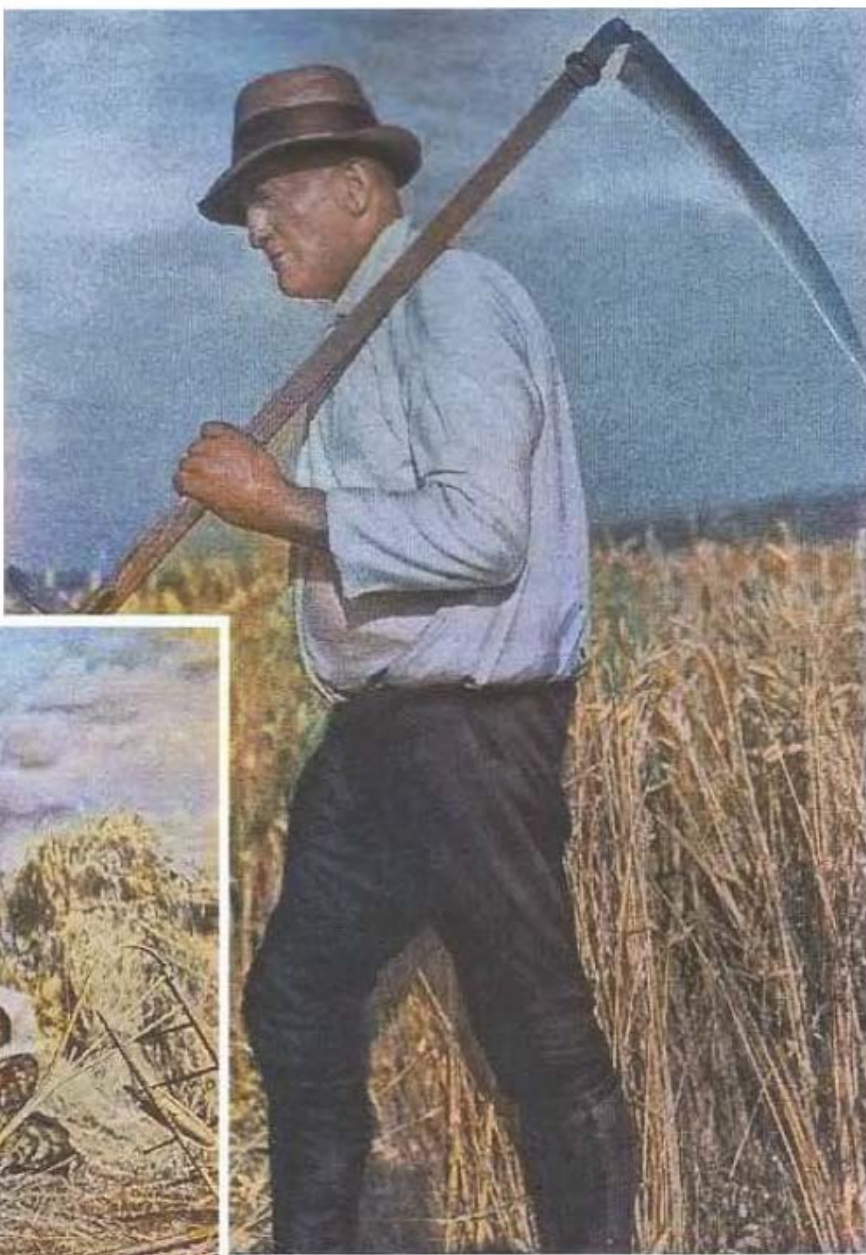

His reward was just the thinnest spoon broth from the Soviet kitchen.

Was it any wonder that as their houses and villages were destroyed, that according to order, more and more men dug homes out of the earth and lived an almost completely underground existence under the slogan: "To work - not to stand !"

And yet God preserves
the European peasant who is proud to go to their fields, harvesting grain and enjoying life in beautiful farmhouses.

Family farmhouse in Upper Barvaria.

New farmer's house in Romania.

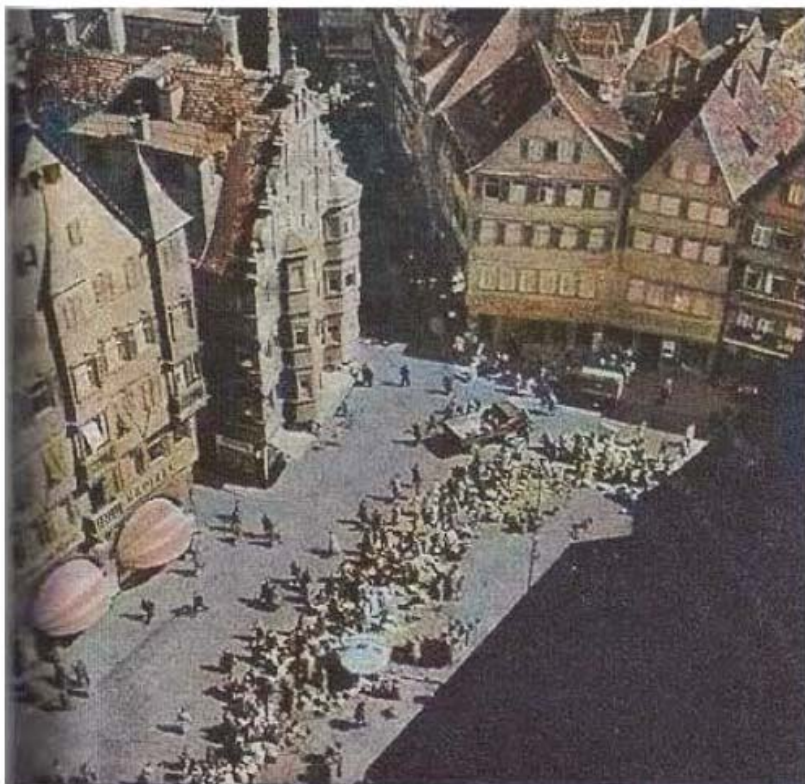

This is how the "comfortable residences" of the Soviet worker looks. Behind the blatant facades of the red party houses and the huge factories hide the slums of inhumanity, incredibly filthy and life-threatening in nature.

The Soviet worker lives worse than a Bushman. He drifts hopelessly every morning and evening between his miserable housing and the ostentatious facades of the elegant houses of its party leaders.

To us, these wretched places do not even seem fit to house our domestic animals.

the bright cottage of a Portuguese worker and a suburban German city...

This is how comfortable houses in a small German town look like...

and here also the housing complexes of a large city...

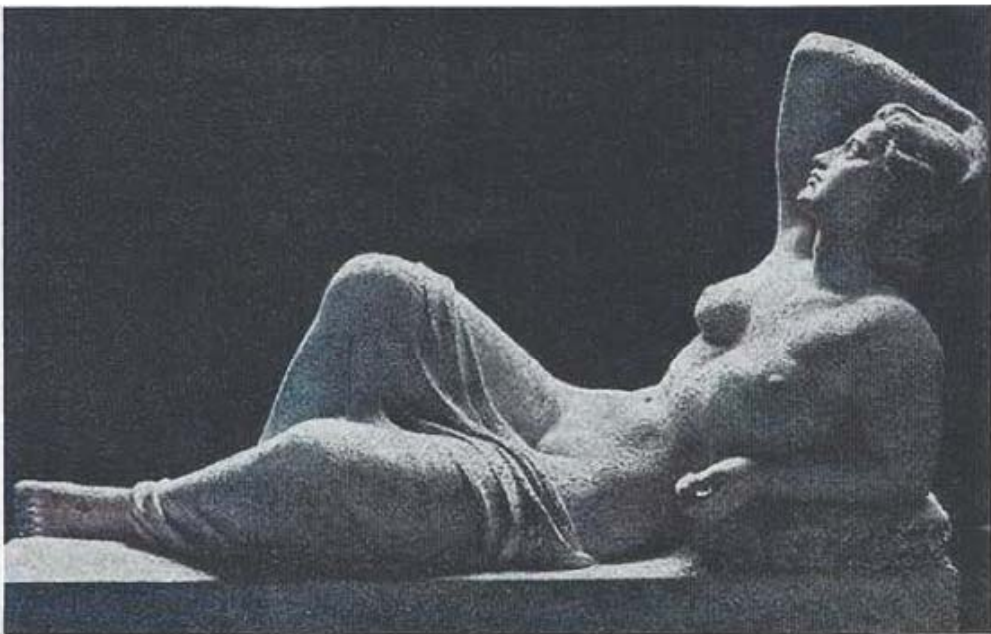

We live safe and clear with our children in the old and new houses of our eternally cultured Europe.

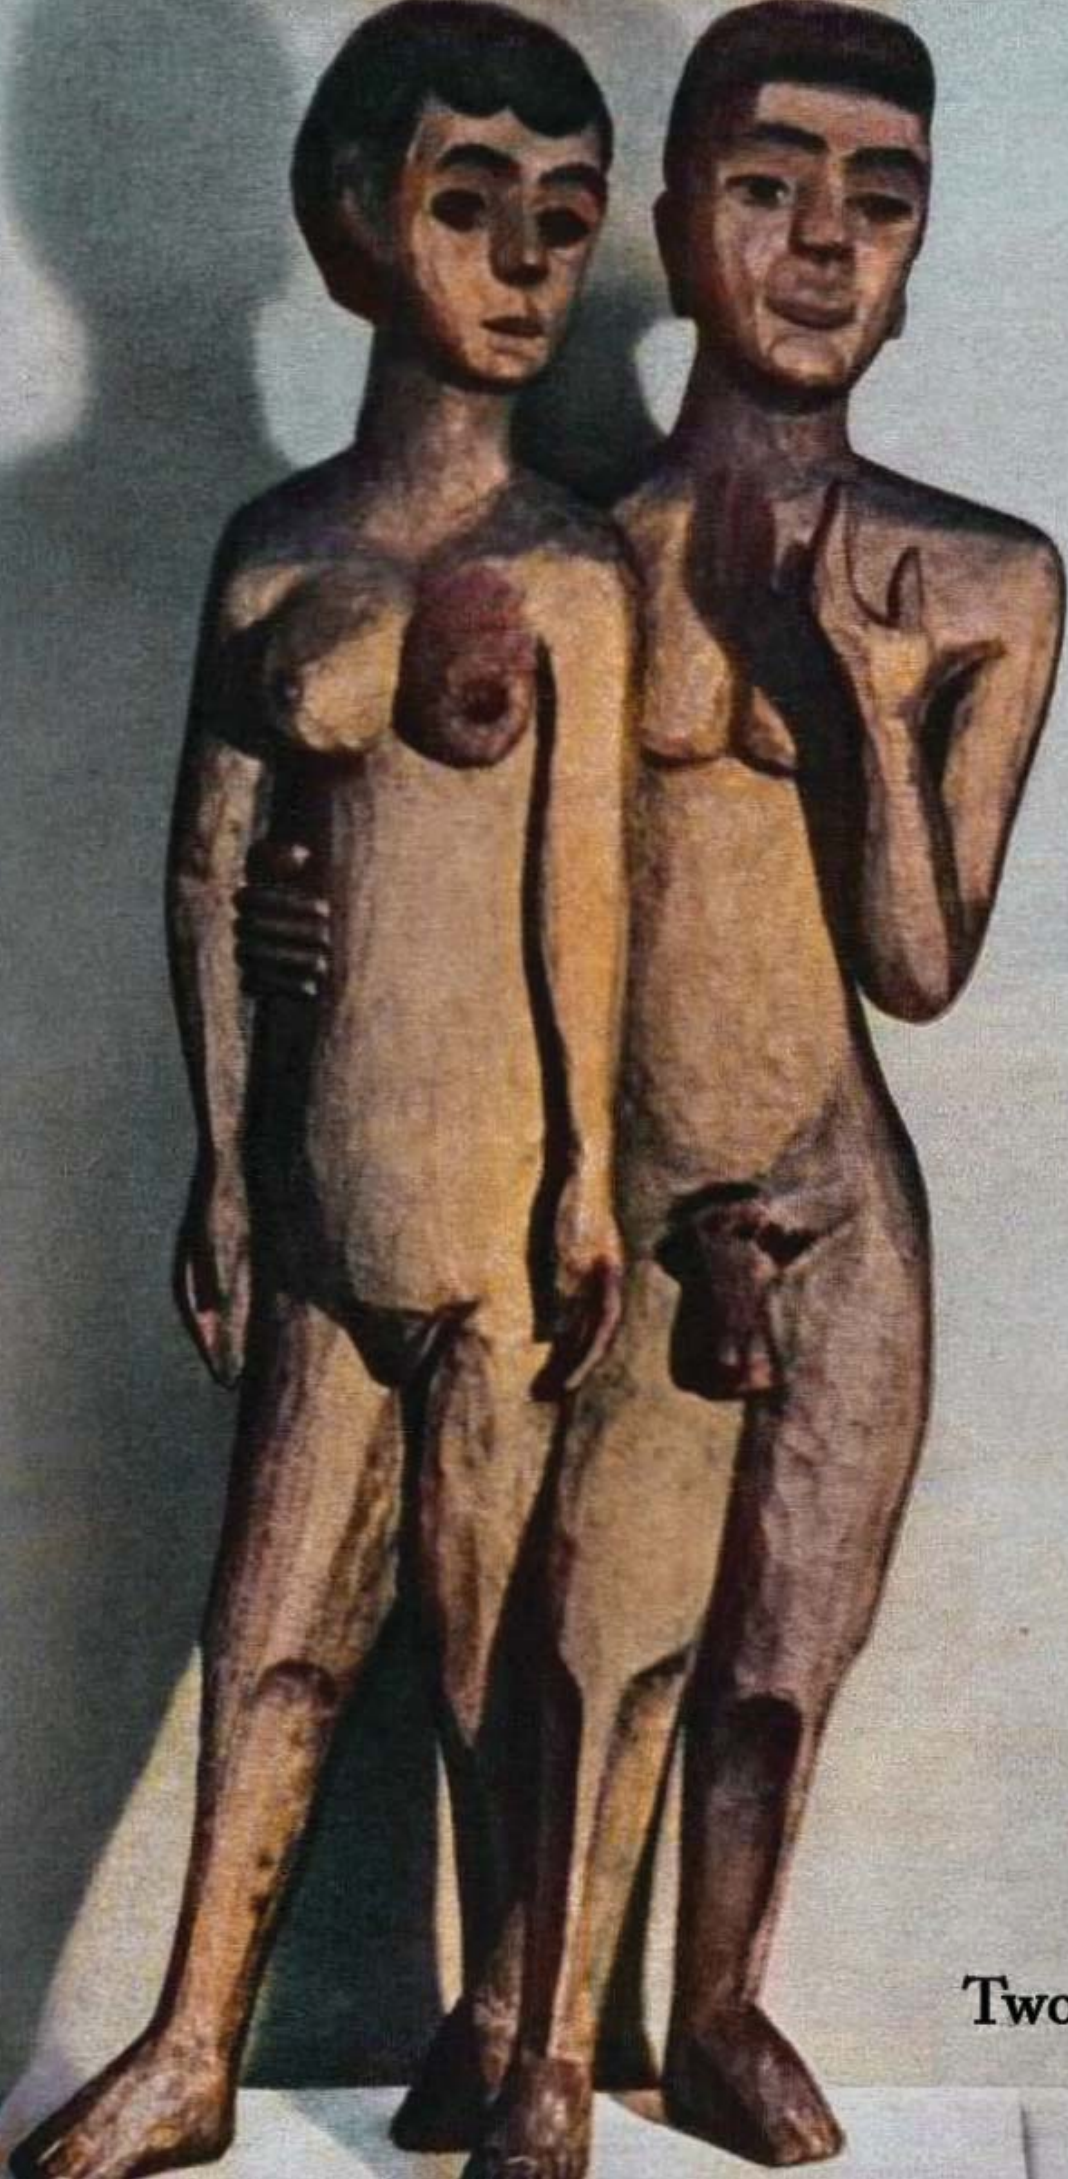

"In the name of tomorrow we seek to burn Raphael, to destroy all art collections, and eradicate all blossoming art." So sings a Soviet poet. We know what he wants to say - As the Jew is, so is his art! As is the art, so is his material: sheet metal, cement and gypsum!

As noble as the Aryan man is, so is his art noble. He turns the world's dreams into reality.

Two subhumans

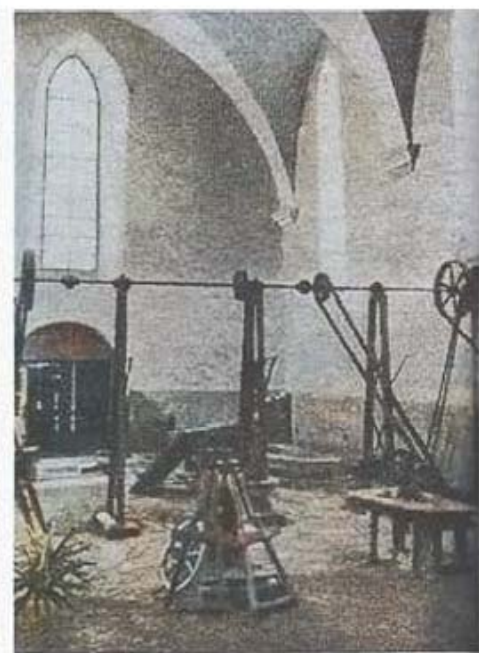

Two Humans

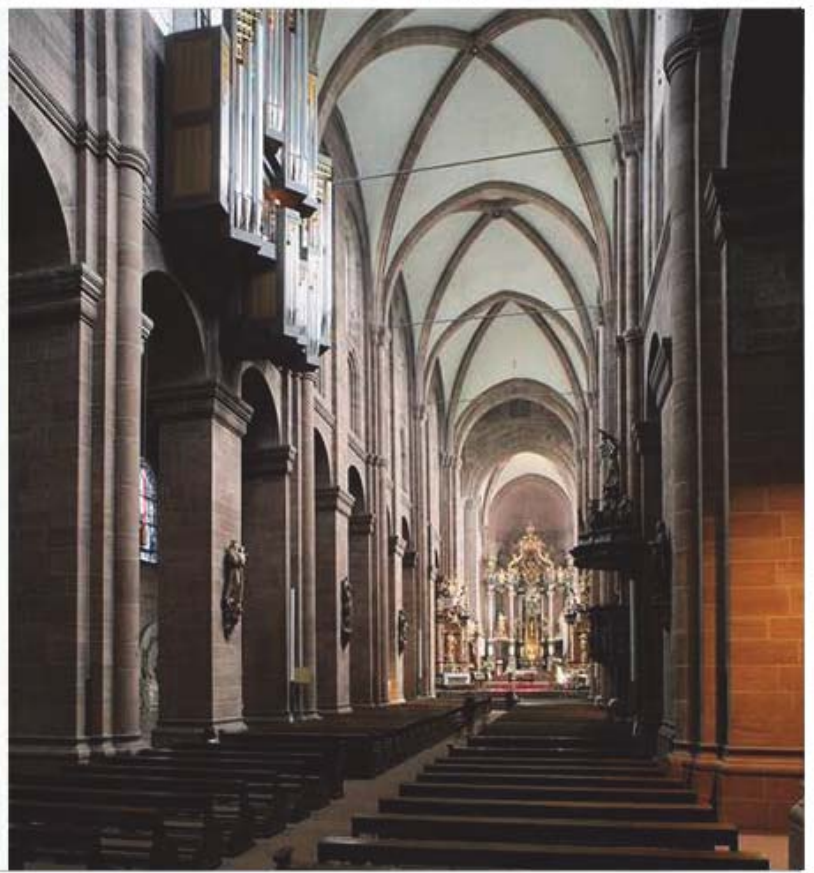

"God-that is folly and cowardice; God means tyranny and misery; God is evil. For me there is: Lucifer, Satan! And whoever you are, you are the spirit which the faith of my father set up against God and the church." So says the Jew.

Because the Jew and the inhuman hates all divine things, they have plundered the churches and turned them into factories. It was his greatest satisfaction when these buildings which offended him the most were blown up.

But Aryan Europe is distinguished by the fact that it allows belief in God and everyone has freedom of religion.

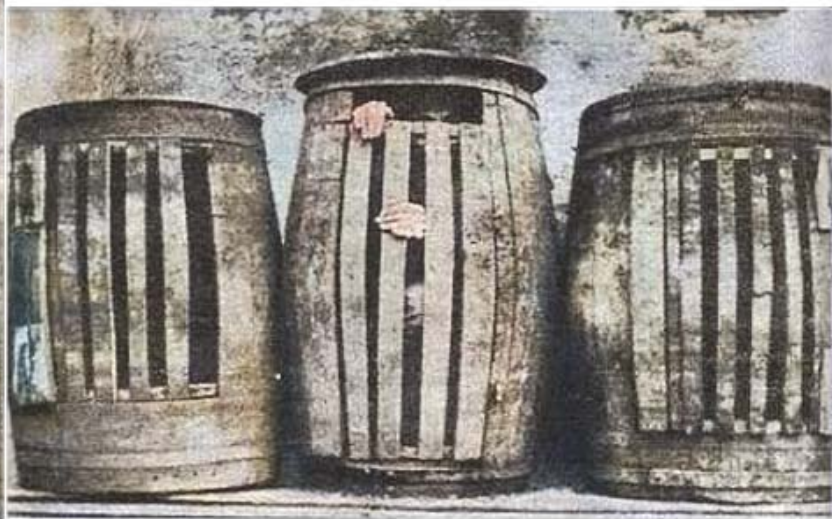

This is what the church looks like in Russia

Like this in Germany

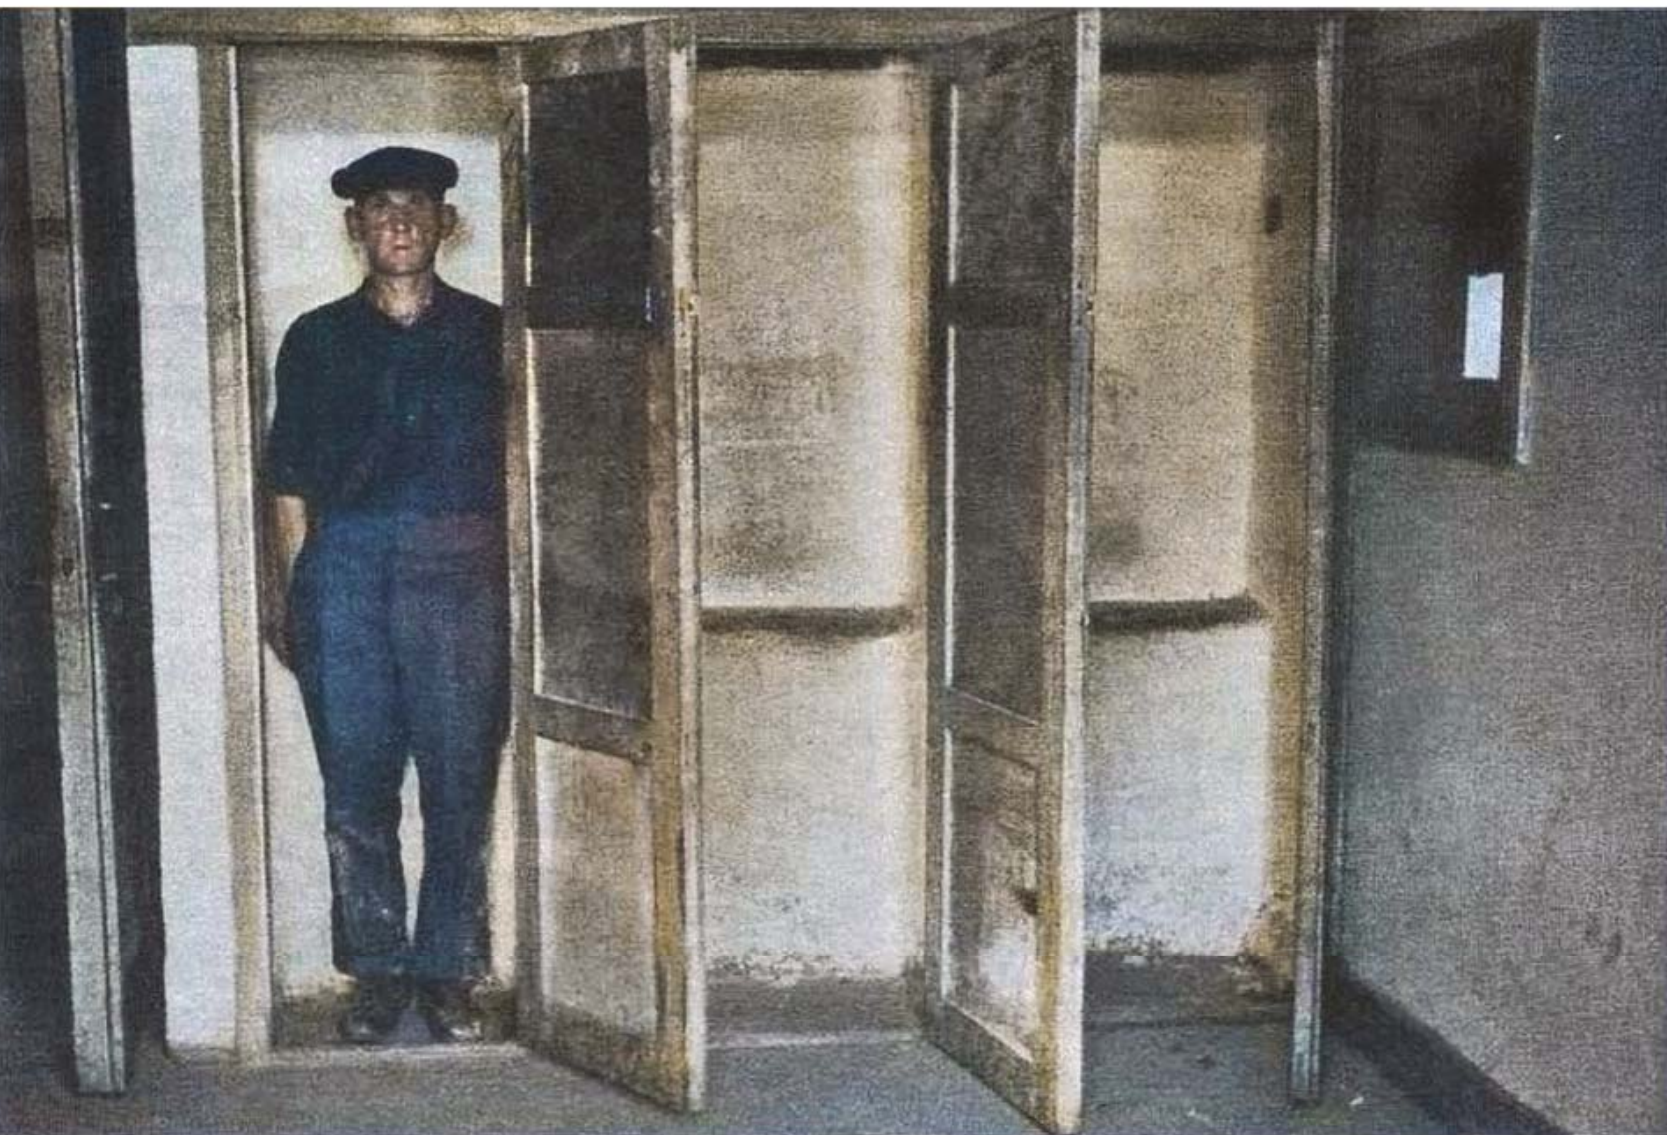

Terror and fear are the most efficient means used by the Jews and the subhumans to break any form of resistance. These torture methods which were discovered are the appalling evidence of the origin of their mass murder program.

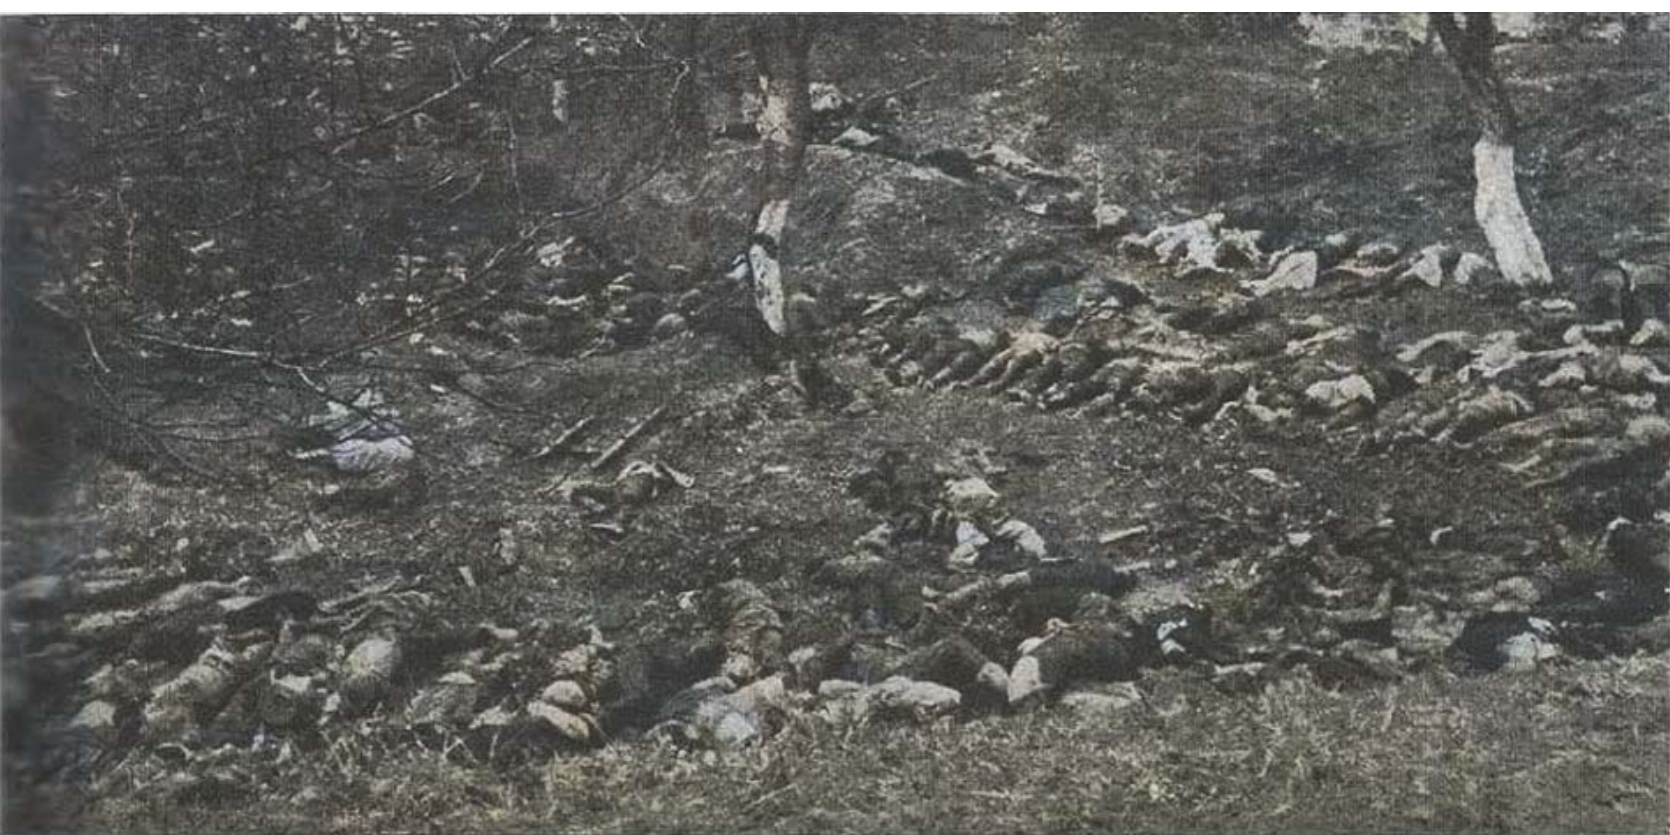

Whether a man is rammed alive into the earth with a pole...

... or made to stand upright in torture cells for weeks or months-there are no limits for the inhuman executioners of the underworld in devising new tortures.

A terrible indictment against the GPU (Soviet Secret Police) is revealed in the horror cellars of Lemberg, Riga, and Dubnow...

the murders, similar to killings of animals.

the brutal sadism...

The tongue cut out,
slaughtered with an ax

Shredded with hand grenades in narrow cells...

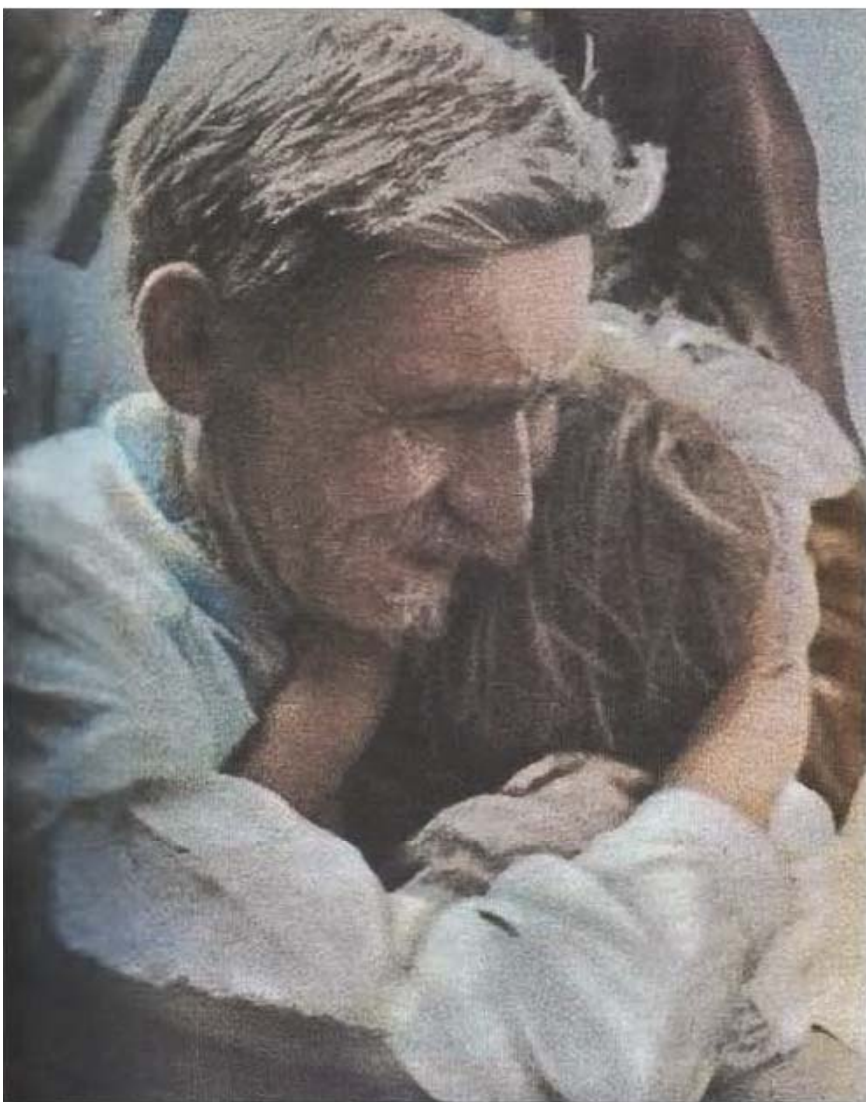

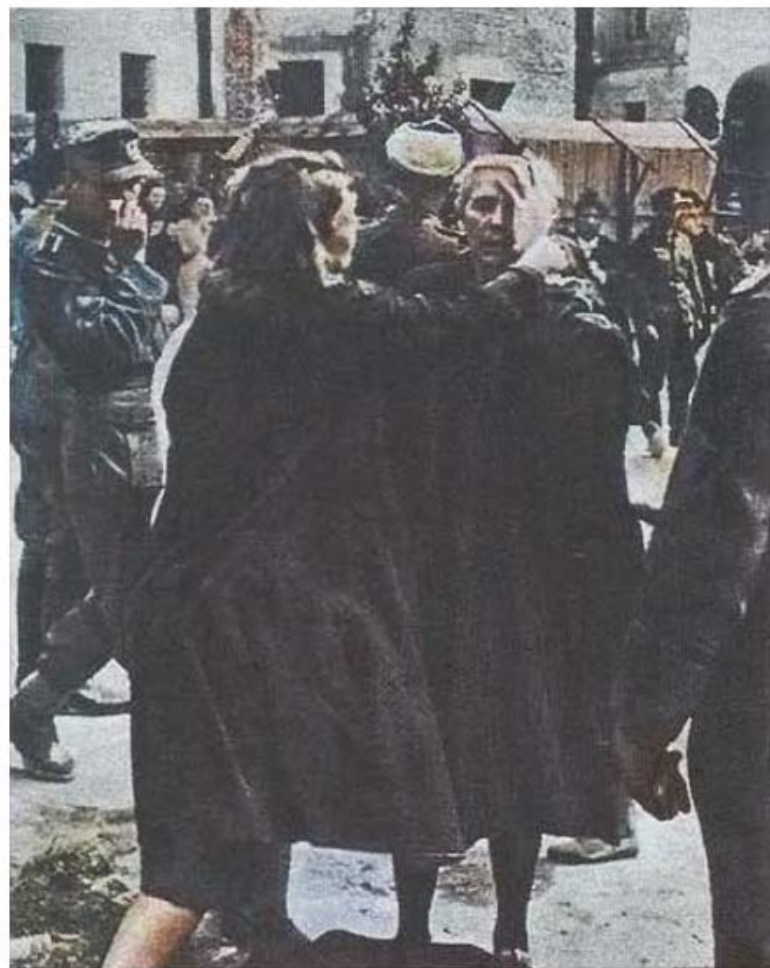

slaughtered by the women radicals...

captured and burned alive.

The mountains of corpses are horrible

The terrible nameless misery of fathers, mothers, women, brides, children and siblings, whose loved ones were so harrowingly and excruciatingly taken away from them forever!

They want the women of Europe to weep like these Russian women!

Just like this innocent boy, they would murder the children of Europe.

The subhuman
Rises up to conquer the world

Woe to us all
If we do not unite

DEFEND YOURSELF EUROPE!
