41. By December 9, 2020, all four of the election lawsuits Powell and Wood had filed together had been dismissed.

43. The United States District Court for the District of Arizona found that the evidence put forward by Powell and Wood was “largely based on anonymous witnesses, hearsay, and irrelevant analysis of unrelated elections,” and includes “expert reports” that “reach implausible conclusions, often because they are derived from wholly unreliable sources.” Order at 24-25, Bowyer v. Ducey, No. 2-20-cv-02321 (D. Ariz. Dec. 9, 2020) [Dkt. 84]. The “wholly unreliable sources” put forward by Powell and Wood in that case included Russell Ramsland and an anonymous purported Venezuelan military officer who claimed to have previously served under the now-deceased Venezuelan dictator Hugo Chávez.

44. Even after Powell’s and Wood’s sham litigations had been dismissed, Giuliani continued propagating the demonstrable falsehoods they had advanced. By way of example only, on December 12, 2020, he appeared for a televised interview on Fox and Friends and falsely claimed that the “Dominion machine ... was developed to steal elections and [was] being used in the states that are involved.”⁴⁹

Starting with the Claims of a Facially Unreliable Purported Venezuelan Military Officer, Giuliani Deliberately Embellishes His Claims and Misrepresents the Relationship Between Dominion and Smartmatic to Support His Defamatory Falsehoods About Dominion

45. Some of Giuliani’s false claims about Dominion are apparently based on the declaration of an anonymous purported Venezuelan military officer, whose declaration was submitted by Sidney Powell and L. Lin Wood in support of their sham litigations.⁵⁰

46. There are several obvious reasons why Giuliani knew that source was unreliable.

47. First, the “anonymous witness’s” explanation for why he purportedly came forward was a near-verbatim recitation from another declaration put forward by Powell, proving that those witnesses did not each write their declarations independently and raising serious questions about the role that Powell and her team played in drafting the declarations.

“I want to alert the public and let the world know the truth about the corruption, manipulation, and lies being committed by a conspiracy of people and companies intent upon betraying the honest people of the United States and their legally constituted institutions and fundamental rights as citizens. This conspiracy began more than a decade ago in Venezuela and has spread to countries all over the world. It is a conspiracy to wrongfully gain and keep power and wealth. It involves political leaders, powerful companies, and other persons whose purpose is to gain and keep power by changing the free will of the people and subverting the proper course of governing.”	“I want to alert the public and let the world know the truth about corruption, manipulation, and lies being committed through a conspiracy of individuals and businesses with the intention of betraying the honest people of the United States and its legally constituted institutions and fundamental rights as citizens. This conspiracy began more than a decade ago in Venezuela and has spread to countries all over the world. It is a conspiracy to unjustly gain and maintain power and wealth. It involves political leaders, powerful companies, and other persons whose purpose is to gain and maintain power by changing people’s free will and subverting the proper course of governing.”

48. Second, his declaration has been redacted to conceal his identity and key details about his background.

49. Third, even if he were who he purports to be, there are serious reasons to doubt the outlandish claims of someone who worked for a dictator with an interest in undermining confidence in American democracy.

50. Fourth, American Trump appointees like Chris Krebs and Bill Barr—who, unlike the anonymous Venezuelan military officer, have never worked for a Venezuelan dictator—have confirmed that there was no widespread voter fraud in the 2020 election.

51. But even if one were to credit the incredible claims of the associate of a foreign dictator, even his declaration does not actually claim that Dominion was created in Venezuela for the purpose of rigging elections for Hugo Chávez. Rather, his declaration makes that claim about Dominion’s competitor, Smartmatic. Although his declaration blithely asserts that Smartmatic software is “in the DNA” of every vote tabulating company’s software and system, it fails to provide any credentials, expertise, or factual basis whatsoever from which the declarant could possibly determine what is “in the DNA” of proprietary software he never even claims to have had access to, which is operated by multiple voting machine companies he never even claims to have worked for.⁵¹ Moreover, as is shown from information readily available in the public domain, voting machine companies’ source code is reviewed by third-party labs that are federally accredited by the EAC and the National Institute of Standards and Technology (“NIST”).⁵² As such, Giuliani knew or recklessly disregarded that that claim was obviously baseless and false.

52. In addition, if the anonymous purported Venezuelan military officer were in fact Leamsy Villafañá José Salazar—as has been reported by the Associated Press and the Caracas Chronicles—that would raise other serious doubts about the veracity of his declaration. After serving Hugo Chávez, Salazar worked for Diosdado Cabello, the alleged head of a Venezuelan drug cartel, before cooperating with the United States Drug Enforcement Agency. He is quoted in a 2016 book titled Boomerang Chávez: The Fraud that Led to Venezuela's Collapse, which alleges that Smartmatic (not Dominion) was involved in rigging elections for Hugo Chávez in Venezuela. That book makes no mention of Dominion. If Salazar actually believed the Smartmatic software were “in the DNA” of Dominion and every other American voting machine company, surely that explosive accusation would have been mentioned in the book for which he was a source, and surely he would have come forward when he arrived in the United States approximately five years ago, instead of waiting until after Trump had lost the presidential election.

53. In any event, Giuliani deliberately embellished the anonymous declarant’s obviously false accusation that Smartmatic software is “in the DNA” of Dominion’s systems, claiming, for example, that “Dominion is a company that’s owned by another company called Smartmatic,”⁵³ that Dominion is “a front for Smartmatic”⁵⁴ and “a shell for Smartmatic,”⁵⁵ and that “Dominion sends everything to Smartmatic.”⁵⁶

Giuliani Intentionally Misrepresents What Happened in Antrim County, Michigan to Bolster His False Preconceived Narrative About Dominion

55. On election night, the unofficial result from Antrim County, Michigan, indicated a win for Biden. That happened because of a series of human errors by the Antrim County Clerk: contrary to the instructions provided to her, she mistakenly failed to update all of the voting machines' tabulator memory cards and failed to perform the pre-election logic and accuracy testing that would have caught her first mistake. Because of the checks and balances in place to catch human errors, her mistakes were promptly caught as part of the normal canvass process before the election result was made official. The official results were never impacted by the clerk's promptly corrected mistakes.

56. On November 6, 2020, the Office of Michigan's Secretary of State publicly announced that the "erroneous reporting of unofficial results in Antrim county was a result of accidental error on the part of the Antrim County Clerk. The equipment and software did not malfunction and all ballots were properly tabulated."⁵⁸ And a few days later, a spokesperson for the Michigan Secretary of State confirmed, “We have not seen any evidence of fraud or foul play in the actual administration of the election ... What we have seen is that it was smooth, transparent, secure and accurate.”⁵⁹

57. Intentionally disregarding the announcement from the Secretary of State, Giuliani seized on the mundane reality of the clerk’s human error and intentionally distorted it to fit the false preconceived narrative that Dominion had fixed the election. For example, he falsely claimed that a “Dominion machine flipped 6000 votes from Trump to Biden” in Antrim County, Michigan and that the “[s]pike of votes by Dominion happened all over the state.”⁶⁰ He also falsely claimed that the error in the county’s initial reported results “[h]ad nothing to do with human error,”⁶¹ that “the machine switched the votes based on some kind of pre-programming,”⁶² and that the Dominion machines in Antrim County were “62% inaccurate,”⁶³ had a “68% error rate” and an “81.9% rejection rate” showing that “the election in Michigan for sure was a fraud,” and that the machines “don’t count ballots” but “calculate ballots” and have “algorithms” that “recalculate” votes to be “half a vote” or a “third of a vote.”⁶⁴ Similarly, he claimed that “Dominion ... machines ... in Michigan produced a 62 percent inaccuracy rate, and an 84 percent adjudication rate which

58. To bolster his lies about Dominion, Giuliani intentionally misrepresented that his accusations were supported by a “forensic examination” conducted by “forensic experts” with “a very reputable company.”⁷¹

59. As Giuliani was well aware when he made those false claims, the purported “forensic expert” was Russell Ramsland—a “Deep State” conspiracy theorist in cahoots with Sidney Powell who was selected not because Ramsland had election security expertise, but because he was determined to promote the false preconceived narrative that the election had been fixed.

60. Before Giuliani touted Ramsland’s expertise, Ramsland had publicly claimed, among other things, that George Soros helped form the “Deep State” in Nazi Germany in the 1930s—along with President George H.W. Bush’s father, the Muslim Brotherhood, and “leftists.”⁷² Mr. Soros was born in 1930.

61. Moreover, by the time Giuliani touted Ramsland as a “forensic expert” and specifically referenced the “forensic review” from Ramsland and his “very reputable company,”⁷³ Ramsland had been publicly discredited for making false claims of overvoting in Michigan, which Ramsland based on vote counts from an entirely different state—Minnesota.⁷⁴ Indeed, a Delaware judge determined that Ramsland provided “materially false information” in support of his claims of vote manipulation⁷⁵ when he referenced and cited locations in Minnesota when alleging voter fraud in Michigan—something that Giuliani either knew or recklessly failed to verify by reference through a basic Google search.⁷⁶

62. Ramsland’s report on the “forensic examination” of the Dominion machines in Antrim County contains a staggering number of inaccuracies; obvious misunderstandings of election procedures, hardware, and software; and other indicia of unreliability.

63. Even though Ramsland cites to “experts” upon whom he purportedly relied in creating his report, he does not identify a single one. Nor does he identify any of their credentials or prior experience—other than the vaguest reference to a handful of government agencies—to justify their designation as “experts.”⁷⁷ And Ramsland does not identify any experience that he, or any of his so-called “experts,” have in elections or election hardware or software.

64. Additionally, Ramsland references the “allowable election error rate established by the Federal Election Commission.” The Federal Election Commission does not regulate voting machines or software. It regulates campaign finance.⁷⁸ Ramsland confused—or did not bother to research the differences between—the FEC and the EAC.⁷⁹ Dominion’s election voting system suite is, of course, certified by the EAC.⁸⁰

65. Apart from these red flags indicating he is no expert at all, Ramsland also illustrates a gross misunderstanding of the machines and software in the details of his report. For example, he claims that his “forensics team” “perform[ed a] forensic duplication of the Antrim County Election Management Server running Dominion Democracy Suite 5.5.3-002.” But there is no Democracy Suite 5.5.3-002. Instead, 5.5.3-002 is the version of the ImageCast Precinct tabulator (i.e., the actual scanner), not the election management server or software.⁸¹ This demonstrates that Ramsland is incapable of telling the difference between the relevant hardware, software, and servers involved—or simply did not take care to do so.

66. Ramsland also fails to understand the difference between—or intentionally distorted—adjudication software (which is an optional component of Dominion’s voting system suite) and the process of adjudicating a ballot. In fact, Antrim County only purchased (and therefore only used) certain components of Dominion’s voting system suite; critically, Antrim County neither purchased nor used—nor possessed the hardware required to use—the adjudication software.⁸² This did not prevent Ramsland from falsely claiming that “[b]allots sent to adjudication can be altered by administrators,” and that “all adjudication log entries for the 2020 election cycle are missing” and must have been “manually removed.”

67. Finally, Ramsland’s specific claim of a 68% “error rate” evidences a fundamental misunderstanding of election software. Ramsland claims to have used the tabulation logs as the source for his supposed “error rate.” But the tabulation logs do not reflect the machine’s tabulation of votes. They record activities logged by the machine during the tabulation process.⁸³ So Ramsland’s claim that “these ... tabulation totals were used as the official results” is false (because they are a recording of machine activity, not votes). Simply put, Ramsland does not understand what he is looking at.

68. While Ramsland claims that a huge percentage of machine activity reflected in the tabulation logs were “errors” or “warnings,” he gives no explanation of how he identified or defined an “error” or “warning.”

69. Ramsland references three settings—“reverse,” “divert,” and “override”—as examples of these so-called “critical errors” or “warnings.” But these are not “errors.” They are parameters used in the tabulator to handle ballots that—for example—include write-in candidates or ballots that contain votes for two candidates for the same office. Calling these “errors” is analogous to claiming that the low fuel indicator light turning on in a car is an “error”—it is of course not an error; the car is operating precisely how it is supposed to. Similarly, just because the tabulator recorded, for example, “divert” does not mean that there was error with the ballot or the vote; precisely the opposite—it means that the machine operated properly in response to that ballot.⁸⁴ This shows that Ramsland does not understand—or did not take care to distinguish—the difference between an actual error and proper functioning.

70. Given Giuliani’s tenure as a federal prosecutor, he is well aware of how to evaluate the credentials of a purported expert and the reliability of a purported expert report; he realized beforehand that Ramsland was not an expert in the subject matter and that his opinion was worthless and designed from the outset to reach a conclusion to support a false preconceived

75. The Republican county clerk who made the mistake that resulted in the inaccurate unofficial results stated that Ramsland’s report contained “many misleading statements” and was “simply not accurate.”⁸⁸

76. But there is no need for a battle of the experts: the paper ballots in Antrim County were recounted by hand—conclusively disproving the lie that Dominion machines had erroneously tabulated 68% of the votes.⁸⁹

77. Following a bipartisan investigation into the vote in Antrim County, Michigan, the state’s Republican Senate Majority Leader Mike Shirkey announced, “[o]ur investigation, which has been very intense, discovered none, none of the allegations and accusations against Dominion [are] true.”⁹⁰

78. Yet even after the hand recount confirmed that “Dominion’s voting machines accurately tabulated the votes cast for president in Antrim County,”⁹¹ Giuliani continued to repeat the lie. For example:

- (a) the day after the hand recount, Giuliani proclaimed on his podcast that the Dominion voting machines had “6,000 votes switched from Trump to Biden,” that the Dominion machines “switched the votes based on some kind of pre-programming,” and that there was a “68% error rate.”⁹²
- (b) On his December 20, 2020 radio show, Giuliani falsely claimed that “Dominion ... machines ... in Michigan produced a 62 percent inaccuracy rate, and an 84 percent adjudication rate which means that only 16 percent of the votes in that county were actually cast by people ... the machine was 62 percent inaccurate. ... [T]hey belong to a crooked company called Dominion ... they've been caught cheating in so many elections These machines, you have to realize, come from a company that developed machines in order to cheat on elections. And that's why it can do things like change votes, have fractional votes.⁹³

(c) On December 23, 2020, Giuliani said on his podcast, “[T]hese Dominion crooked machines are calculating machines. ... [W]e can go into the memory of the machine and we can show that Trump actually got 6,000 votes, and Biden actually got 3,000 votes; the way you cheated in Antrim County and got caught. As Repeatedly Proven by Independent Audits and Hand Recounts of Paper Ballots,
Giuliani’s Claims About Dominion Fixing the Election Are False

79. Giuliani’s claims about Dominion fixing the election by manipulating vote counts are demonstrably false and have been repeatedly disproven by independent audits and hand recounts of paper ballots.

80. The voter-verified paper ballots are the hard evidence that can be easily used to verify the accuracy of the Dominion machine counts. If Dominion or anyone else had rigged the election by manipulating the vote counts in the Dominion machines, the number of paper ballots that were verified and cast by voters would not match the machine counts. In fact, independent 100% hand audits and recounts of paper ballots have repeatedly verified the accuracy of the vote counts from Dominion machines.

81. After a 100% hand audit of all the ballots cast in Georgia in the 2020 election, Georgia's Republican Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger explained that "Georgia's historic first statewide audit reaffirmed that the state's new secure paper ballot voting system accurately counted and reported results."⁹⁶

82. At the request of the Trump Campaign, in addition to the hand audit, Georgia also conducted a subsequent machine recount, which again affirmed the original outcome of the presidential race in Georgia.

83. As Secretary of State Raffensperger explained after a signature match audit affirmed the outcome of the 2020 presidential race in Georgia for a third time, "[t]he Secretary of State's office has always been focused on calling balls and strikes in elections and, in this case, three strikes against the voter fraud claims and they're out."⁹⁷

84. Similarly, as Secretary Raffensperger explained to Giuliani's client, Donald Trump, during a telephone call that was reported by The Washington Post, "I don't believe that you're really questioning the Dominion machines. Because we did a hand re-tally, a 100 percent re-tally of all the ballots, and compared them to what the machines said and came up with virtually the

85. Similarly, in a press conference, an official from the Georgia Secretary of State's Office explained, "[l]et's just go to the other ridiculous claims, that Dominion voting machines are somehow using fractional voting or flipping votes. Again, by doing the hand tally, it shows none of that is true. Not a whit."⁹⁹

86. In Arizona, the Chairman of the Maricopa County Board of Supervisors released a statement explaining, "[t]he evidence overwhelmingly shows the system used in Maricopa County is accurate and provided voters with a reliable election. ... The Dominion tabulation equipment met mandatory requirements during logic and accuracy testing before the Presidential Preference Election, the Primary Election and the General Election. And after each of these 2020 elections, the hand count audit showed the machines generated an accurate count."¹⁰⁰

Giuliani Intentionally Disregards Hard Evidence and Reliable Sources Including Trump Appointees, Republicans, and Election Security Experts
Who Rebut and Disprove His False Accusations About Dominion

88. While endeavoring to make the facts conform to the false preconceived narrative that the election had been fixed by Dominion, Giuliani was confronted with a number of facts that rendered his outlandish claims inherently improbable, if not outright impossible.

89. For example, he has not explained how a decades-old international election-rigging conspiracy involving independent testing labs accredited by the EAC and thousands of bipartisan local election volunteers could have evaded detection for so long.

90. Giuliani also has not explained how—if Dominion were actually controlled by the associates of a Venezuelan dictator—it was permitted to operate in the United States by the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States (“CFIUS”).

91. Nor has Giuliani explained how—if Dominion were willing and able to commit a massive fraud to deprive Trump of the presidency—Trump won the presidential election in 2016, when Dominion machines were used in 1,635 jurisdictions in more than two dozen “red” and “blue” states.

92. Yet, despite the inherent improbability of his lies, Giuliani continued to promote them even after Powell’s sham litigations had been dismissed and her witnesses—including the anonymous purported Venezuelan military officer and Russell Ramsland—had been judicially determined to be “wholly unreliable,” and even after Giuliani’s false claims about Dominion fixing the election had been repeatedly, forcefully, and publicly rebutted and disproven by the hard evidence of independent audits and hand recounts of paper ballots and by reliable sources like Trump appointee Bill Barr, Trump appointee Chris Krebs, Georgia’s Republican Governor Brian Kemp, Georgia’s Republican Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger, federal judges, and 59 election security experts.¹⁰²

Giuliani’s Accusations About Dominion’s Origins Are False

93. Publicly available records prove that Giuliani’s wild accusations about Dominion’s origins are also demonstrably false.

94. Dominion was not founded in Venezuela to fix elections for Hugo Chávez. It was founded in 2002 in John Poulos’s basement in Toronto to help blind people vote on paper ballots.¹⁰³

95. By 2009, Dominion’s business had grown in the United States, and a subsidiary company, Dominion Voting Systems, Inc., was incorporated in Delaware and headquartered in Denver, Colorado.¹⁰⁴ By 2018, the majority of the business’s customers and employees were in the United States, so Poulos sold the majority stake of the business to U.S. investors.¹⁰⁵

Dominion Suffers Enormous Harm

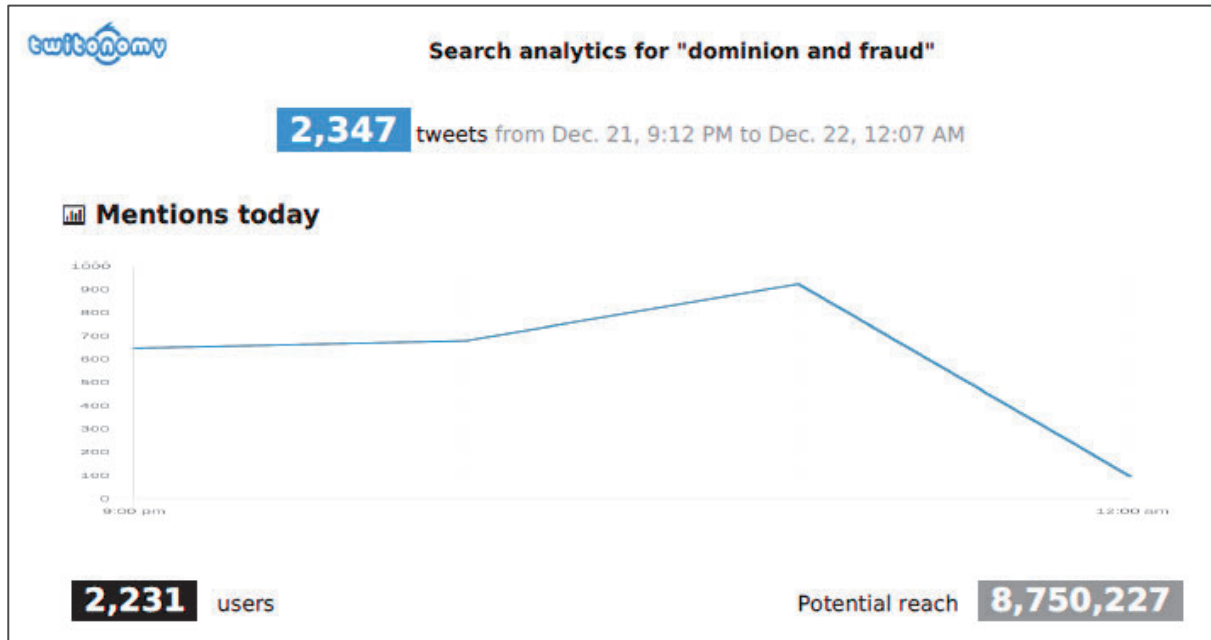

97. As a result of the false accusations disseminated to a global audience by Giuliani, his allies, and like-minded media outlets—who acted in concert to promote a false preconceived narrative about the 2020 election, despite the total lack of evidence to support it, and despite the mountains of paper ballots and the army of credible sources disproving it—Dominion has suffered unprecedented reputational and financial harm, and its employees’ lives have been put in danger.

98. Giuliani’s false tweets about Dominion were liked over 534,000 times and were foreseeably retweeted over 160,000 times. The retweets disseminated Giuliani’s false tweets to over 1.5 million Twitter accounts. Based on the average followers and the number of retweets overall, Giuliani’s false tweets about Dominion potentially reached more than 331 million Twitter accounts—or about the same number of accounts as the entire U.S. population.

99. Over a three-hour period on December 21, 2020, the terms “dominion” and “fraud” were tweeted out together by more than 2,200 users with over 8.75 million total followers.
