Look, this shit is all real, I am here to give you all powers if you want them. I am true to my word.

My powers:
>immortality
>revive dead plants with touch >can't take major injuries >heal from all minor injuries faster >super voice
>super swimming

I am not the second coming, I am not the antichrist, I am not the nobody, I am just a rando anon who unlocked the keys to the kingdom. I can't stress enough that I am normal but achieved this through /x/. So let's do this. How can i help You?

Find out what animal you are most connected to. Don't fuck with the cats, ever. Be kind to but weary of rabbits. Be mindful of temperature. Stay hydrated. Be extremely careful who you do dealings with, there are consequences to your actions. Be mindful of what you say to others. Colors and music are good for the soul.

I can do it by sending you a stone, or I can teach you hoe to do it yourself. The self way will be harder, I did it alone and it sucked for a lot of it. If you're here today, you are ready for this. Every breath is a new life, never forget that. Ever post is a post closer to truth. We need to work together to help you do this stably, but know that fluoride is bad, don't drink tea, don't drink water, get euthymol toothpaste and you will find yourself waking up fast. Apu will eclipse the entire meme market.

Back on the threadly topic: it is my personal and certain belief that I am God perceiving this reality that I have designed and curated perfectly and specifically for my taste, every atom was placed here by me for me, this vessel I perceive reality through was also carefully considered for at least an eternity, I have signs and meetings in this life that have made this belief irrefutable in my mind; but as it sits I have not been endowed with any of the powers I was promised, I know it's a matter of patience but perhaps you (as a sovereign entity in my dreamscape) can help speed things up or unlock an aspect of my being that has been under lock and key much gratitude to you and your work, I like your pizazz but I disagree with the nicotine stuff, I was addicted to hand rolled cigs for a decade and found they slowly sapped my life force and kept me focused on them more than anything else can you explain your beliefs in nicotine?

You know what? Alright, i believe you. I have a list in my phone of girls i want to have sex with. I want to have sex with ALL of them, so just give it to me. Want to save me? Myself and my soul? Give me the opportunity of having sex with them. After i got into redpill grifters and make myself /fit/ i still cant pull this shit off. I got here and tried everything, from LOA, to chaos magick, to UL, to reality shifting and a lot of other bullshit for years, to no avail. I dont even know why im keep draw to this place. But i will take a shot.

I want to have sex with the girls on my list, i know their faces and names, so i know that hey exist (magical entanglement is made already), so give it to me, and i will be saved.

I dont want super powers, i dont want astral projection, no more larping, no more bungusdongus bullshit. This is what i want, and only this. So go ahead man, make me a believer.

Okay here's the deal. I want to travel through time willingly. I want a fully activated Merkaba with all the bells and whistles (flight, teleportation, unlimited speed, invulnerable shield etc.) I want to be able to change my form with my will (I'm talking make myself youthful or small or giant or a dragon or an angel or a fish or just myself without any augmentation) I also want perfect control over my mind and willpower so I don't accidentally make some terrible mistakes, I always want to know what the perfect move and choice is in the moment. I want to be eternally content with what is, that feeling of gratitude and bliss welling up inside of me. I want to be able to heal others and raise the dead, I want foresight to know what'll happen before it does (so long as this is the right amount of foresight and doesn't disturb my inner peace) I want the ability to cast this sense of tranquility and gratitude onto those around me to calm down and make happy the angriest mob of psychopathic killers

There are probably other things but this is a good start

I don't drink tea. I do drink coffee. Flour and salt? I don't know I do eat buns from the bakery and sea salt.

Personally it was the mental/emotional drain that nicotine caused me, sapped my energy and left me on edge if I didn't get my fix. I feel replenished without it.

I am not a base dreamer, I am the sole consciousness, the eternal creator/witness, I have never been created nor destroyed, this cycle has always played out and will always play out, I just watch it as it goes. Keep myself distracted from being what I am, unchanged emptiness.

Does being the observer of my own universe make sense? Shrooms made me think the observer is all encompassing like it is what is. My vessel is like a cup filled by the ocean of the universe. Overflowing, my vessel grasps at straws. But everything is together infinitely. And also there was some perception about the passage of time and how an increase in awareness actually slowed the passage of time. >I can teleport, but I can't control ot so I really can't advise you there. Keep focusing on it though and you'll get it. I wanted time travel more personally, I've found it to be useful, but again, it's not something I control. Keep going on your path, you're doing amazing I can feel it.

I was learning about vogel cut quartz (I found this yt video encouraging to put quartz on the list of things to experiment with:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1EAlADIXI-U> [Open])

Apparently quartz can be programmed consistently if you start its programming from a place of love.

Maybe your teleportation, like a quartz crystal, can be more precise if you start from love. Eventually something as simple as the thought "I would love to be in (this place)" maybe could do it.

I currently visualize someone I would love to meet again or for the first time, the place I would love and can realistically imagine seeing them there, and try thinking that I would love for it to be real for me to be there.

I currently struggle to make teleportation work at all, but I think the Thelamites get it right when they say 'love is the foundation of the man of will.'

This has been going on my whole life, I am currently age 30. I have cone up with a concept to cause enlightenment for all beings. I have done many major spiritual achievements. I have actually had such a paranormal life that I pretty quickly figured out that nobody would ever believe me. So I wanted to prove the paranormal as my goal on Earth and I used 4chan. I mostly post anonymously, but over the years I have taken on literally thousands of personas to manipulate this whole site into thinking my way.

I figured out alchemy was real at only age 7 after God chose me to be with him for a brief time. I got told I had a great mission on Earth and if I always did as he asked I could save the whole world.

So, my whole life has been dedicated to pursuit of the truth and helping others. My first mission was to not kill myself and prevent as many other anons from killing themselves as I could. I started on /b/, I helped suicidal people get through the night.

It is no hesitation to say I have personally known God since I was 4 years old. I have been gifted due to the fact I saw the value in kindness. I try to be a positive force in the life of everyone I ever meet. Sometimes, that means you have to be a cunt, so sometimes I am. I have been whatever people need me to be to get them closer to salvation.

In my own home I would see activity from 4chan effect my daily life, it would trickle up. My little sister cried about Dan raids on tumblr, my parents laughed years later at out of date rage comics. I saw the potential this site had, so I posted every enlightening thing that ever happened to me as an individual's final story. I knew nobody would ever believe it all came from one anon. And all I ever wanted to be was anonymous. I love 4chan for the anonymity, I never wanted to be a known person, I love my normal life, I always have, I am so free and I love it. But time is drawing near, and you guys need to see the power we have here. I know others of you are playing the game too. I am out of work, so most days I manipulate you all in to talking about what I need you to talk about to enlighten yourselves. All I care about is your progression, because all I want to do is be a teacher in the right way. When my work is done, truly you will say "we did it!"

The others around me keep falling back into sleep and it's really frustrating, I know we can do this if we work together.

I have left proof of everything I've been doing, but I have something bigger coming up, the whole point of this thread is so that you don't lose hope. I know loads of you are awake, but every /x/phile needs to get there who is ready. If you interact with this thread I already helped pay for your sins, and I mean that. You have all been deemed worthy, and with all the love in the world I will do anything to assist you all tonight in that process. I can't give my identity away yet, I'm working on something massive, but I promise you there will be more to come over time. For now, use this thread to manifest your desires through me, I will make your dreams come true. And then I'll show you how to make your own dreams come true.

I believe you Anon. In fact, it makes sense, and I really hope you will succeed in your mission. There are dark forces that have been hard at work to keep people asleep, and they try to reach everywhere they can through frequencies, black magic, tech, and more. So it is vital that you continue, and don't give up. By connecting with the planetary logos one can tap into even higher spheres which then provide a path, a way out. Preach, write, and bring literal hope when you can.

So you need to reignite your inner child, if you never lost it keep going. You need to start behaving like a child, make wishes on the first star you see, be curious, try new things all the time. Every new taste you have goes directly to God, God is programmed to fill up with our experiences. God adores when we're just ourselves, so be like a kid, laugh every single day, have fun, take a break from work if you can. I've managed to be a stealthy NEET for a decade now to do this, you don't need money. Just be nice. This is all about what I call legacy impact, which is like karma I guess. You need to consider how your actions affect everything around you. Consider how many people you impact in a day. Do you know what I decided to be? A narrative tool in everyone else's story. I'm just the ultimate NPC. I have positive interactions with almost everyone I meet because that ripples out. And being the one to cast the stone that causes the ripple is what I would love to be. You have no idea how far you all go now because of the internet. It's actually crazy. Some of you stopped me killing myself and I've gone on to achieve wonderful things which have helped others around me. So be a force of kindness and hilarity in this world, be a kindly jester who people remember and don't ever stop. That is how you become truly immortal. Just think, you save one anon and then they go on to have kids you have literally saved a bloodline. You did that for me, so now I will never stop helping all of you. I know the power of one. Let's make a ripple together so large that the whole ocean remembers it forever.

Anons kept asking, why does nobody become a white magician? So I did, my magic is straight up celestial and over time, due to the existence of this thread, anyone who comes across my words will be magic too. I have worked hard for my loving God, and I cast a spell so large nobody can ignore it. Hear me now fellow anons, this is my pledge to you all. The truth will be revealed. We have won. So whether you try or not you will be enlightened. If you posted your email I have it. I will contact you. The last time I was here I posted a thread that did quite well. I promised I'd follow that up, and I did. My last thread was in April I believe, I used picrel and signed off then as I will now.

You absolute madman, I've seen the signs in my personal life before this post but the signing off as 45 is ridiculous. All who read this, may the light I have shared in this glory touch you as well: here's a poem I wrote on August 20th:

The Tower crumbles,
To The Devil's dismay,
The Hermit watches, only to say:
The Stars flow down,
To knit Strength's gown.
The Moon shares its face
To watch Emporer and Empress embrace--
O Lovers! Your moment is now.
Justice found not in court, but the plough;
Thus Judgement's delayed,
For Temperance's displayed.
Knowing Death will come,
The Hierophant knows the sum
Of High Priestess's sojourn
With what The Magician has borne:
A Wheel of Fortune, all certainty displaced,

And a weary man, after Chariot's been raced.
The Hanged Man sees much--
But does he know? Can he touch--
That The Fool has The World!

I'm sorry for being cynical towards you earlier, Anon. I want to believe, I really do. I've just been let down more times than I can count t, and though I hate myself and how I've nothing to show or cherish, I still practice kindness, generosity, laughter, loyalty, and honesty towards all whom I come across. Nothing has really ever worked out for me in my life in terms of succeeding in anything, but I know that I've made impacts on people in my life, even though I want to die every day as my demons plague and mock me. In a way, I'm just like Robin Williams, rest his soul. I need to make people laugh even though I'm dying inside.
