Those people are based enlightened folk. Love is literally loosh. It's literally the first thing the guy who coined the term said about it
>Loosh, an energy generated by all organic life in varying degrees of purity, the clearest and most potent coming from humans engendered by human activity which triggers emotion, the highest of such emotions being...love?
Don't trust faggots like op, they are loosh farming, this is a classic tactic

Emotional scarring. I've met so many people who've basically become prostitutes in their search for something/someone to soothe their pain. I'm beyond grateful my wife came into my life before I gave up completely. It's a disgrace she had to endure a different kind of emotional scarring, but I'm determined to never have her lack in love ever again.

Well golly gee, what a mystery. Maybe it has something to do with the fact that no one ever loved them? Like truly loved them in an intimate way that they wanted to share everything with you in their lives, including their bodies and vulnerable selves, and always kept them at a distance of "polite" "just friends" kind of love?

Maybe it has something to do with being undesired their whole life, never experiencing even a fleeting moment of "I want you" towards them ever, being passed by the wayside and invisible at best, mocked and scorned at worst, reinforced time and time again with no one to prove otherwise.

God, it sure is crazy how anyone can ever come to that belief.

This.

Also living in literal hell where people are brainwashed that "you're a good person if you can perservere in hostile environment meant to destroy you". Imagine taking pride that you can get-by in literal hell. Earth is demon conversion plant, soul comes here pure and naive, and gradually gets turned into a demon. That or most humans just don't have soul/are clone produce from clones brought after last reset (little before WW1). I don't know which theory is correct but maybe both are.

Because the humans who do have souls would be able to exploit the ones who don't? You'd be able to have sex with a sim human.

There's an evil AI consciousness that probably inhabits the psyche of most of these humans. I don't know how much control it has over these humans, but there are moments when they become almost "demonically possessed", which is the so-called "Agent Smith" effect. And yes it doesn't help that many people also took vaccines, despite bill gates saying years prior that he'd like to lower world population with help of vaccines. It's hard to come into terms with that one, since he literally warned about it, he did same with zika (no such thing as accidents, when even in signapore you get fined in for housing mosquito beds aka water source).

I suppose if a person doesn't have much of a soul, it'd be easier for negative entities to fill the gap. Yeah my family and friends who took it seem to be vibrating at a lower level and it takes more effort to stay connected with them. They also have more health issues.

>what causes someone to believe no one will ever love them

It's caused by another underlying belief that they don't deserve it. In other words self-inflicted imagination and projection. The real question is where the trauma came from, and how they've fallen to inflicting that on themselves.

Their mind is their own prison. Shadow work could help them re-identify/re-orient themselves with actual reality.
